Attacked While Alighting From Auto After Delivering Address

Assassins Fled, Followed by Policemen Who Had Been Guarding Marshal

Both Captured—One Attempted Suicide—Officer Fatally Wounded

LONDON, June 22. (By the Associated Press.)—Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, former chief of the British imperial general staff, and lately military adviser to the Ulster government, was assassinated today near the door of his home in Eaton Place, London.

Two men fired upon the field marshal as he was alighting from an automobile after attending a war memorial unveiling where he delivered a speech. Struck by two bullets, he staggered and fell. He was carried into his home where he died shortly afterwards and before the arrival of physicians who were summoned.

The two assassins fled, closely pursued by the police, who had been guarding the field marshal on information that his life was likely to be attempted. Both men were captured. One of them is reported to have attempted

GRADING PARK FOR BASEBALL DIAMOND

Men of the park department began the work of grading Washington park today, preparatory to laying out a baseball diamond there. A back-slope will be erected and the field placed in first class condition. In anticipation of a celebration to be staged at the park by the Lower Highlands Improvement association on the fourth, the park department will cooperate in every way possible. The playground portion of the park will be equipped with a number of swings and other apparatus.

Supt. Kernan has found bad washouts on Fort Hill as the result of the heavy rain and also considerable damage has been done to trees and shrubs.

ROBERT CLIFFORD KILLED WHEN AUTOS CRASH ON BRIDGE

Adam Guillemette, Driver of Car That Killed Clifford, Was Arraigned in District Court Today on Charge of Manslaughter—Victim of Accident Was Well and Favorably Known in Lowell

Robert C. Clifford was almost instantly killed at 5:20 p. m., yesterday on the Alken st. bridge when a Ford roadster which he was driving turned turtle following a collision with a Cadillac car owned and driven by Adam Guillemette. A heavy rain was falling at the time of the accident.

Guillemette appeared in district court this morning to answer to a charge of manslaughter, lodged against him last night, following the death of the Clifford boy. A continuance to July 22 was asked by his counsel and this was granted by the court. He did not plead to the charge. It is expected that between now and the date set for trial the result of the inquest will be ready. Clifford was alone in his roadster and was driving from West Centralville to his home at 55 Hanks street, where he resides with his parents, E. Harry and Margaret (Maloney) Clifford. Guillemette was driving in the opposite direction and had with him in his car Napoleon Clement of 21 Pine st. and Arthur Holmvert, of 21 Barnard road.

According to the story told by Mr. Guillemette the two autos were near the center of the bridge. Clifford

THE CITY PRIOR REVENUE ACCOUNT

What does the city's prior revenue account really represent in cash? Inasmuch as it is the mayor's idea to transfer money from this account to reimburse departments that have presented reasons why they cannot live out the year under the original appropriations voted them, the question has been asked more than once.

Apparently, the account today stands at approximately $172,000. The money is there, why not use it, reasons the mayor, and adds that its use will not affect the 1922 tax levy.

All well and good, but when the account is carefully investigated, it will be found that its cash content is not more than $50,000. In other words, of the $172,000, only $50,000, more or less, is in cash, while the balance is made up or represented by outstanding charges which went to make up the total credit figure of prior years.

Until such a time as actual collections are made of these outstanding charges, no money really exists in the fund aside from the $50,000 in cash, although it is all figured and carried on the city books in form of assets.

At the present time, departmental requests for additional money run in the neighborhood of $160,000, but the mayor has said that $100,000 is the limit that he will approve. The council committee on finance will further discuss the problem tonight at 7 o'clock.

Charge of Conspiracy to Defraud Against Man Held in Los Angeles

Donald D. Stewart Wanted in Massachusetts and Several Other States

DETROIT, June 22.—A charge of conspiracy to defraud may be brought here against Donald D. Stewart, held in Los Angeles on a fugitive warrant, but authorities of Massachusetts, New York or Indiana probably will have first claim to the prisoner, a private detective agency announced here today.

The conspiracy charge is contained in a letter, it was said, by Bruce Grannis, who claims Stewart defrauded him of $1200 in a stock deal in 1920.

Stewart's real name, the detective stated, was Robert Allen McLaren Brown.

Bruce Grannis' sister, Martha Ellen Grannis, was one of the four women to whom Stewart is alleged to have been married within the past four years. His lawful wife, Mary Barbara James Mitchell, also resides here, as does Miss Gertrude Van Loock to whom Stewart was engaged to be married, but who broke with him after several months of her relatives endorsed alleged worthless checks issued by the former millionaire.

Mrs. Mitchell was aware of her husband's relations with other women, she said today, but forgave him several times after he had deserted her, then sought to return. She bears him no ill will, now, she asserted, and sympathizes with him in his predicament.

Her baby, 15 months old, Margaret, Mrs. Mitchell said, is the daughter of Stewart.

SHERIFF AND MINISTER KILLED

Shot to Death as Result of Raid on Aged Rancher's Still in Albany, Ore.

Slayer Held Off Posse for Hours—Then Blew Off Top of His Head With Rifle

ALBANY, Ore., June 22.—The bodies of the Rev. Roy Healy, pastor of the First Christian church of Albany; Sheriff C. M. Kendall of Linn county and Dave M. West, 70 years old rancher and trapper, whose deaths were the result of a raid on West's moonshine still yesterday, were brought here today.

Sheriff Kendall and the Rev. Mr. Healy were shot and killed by the aged rancher, who after barricading himself in his home and holding off a posse for hours, crept from the building when night came and in his barn blew off the top of his head with his rifle.

The killings of Kendall and Healy occurred at 3:30 o'clock and until the body of West was found in the barn the bodies of his two victims lay where they fell inside the West yard.

West threatened anyone with death who should attempt to approach except the coroner, who, he said, could remove the bodies of the men he had killed. For this reason, that West might mistake the coroner for a would-be captor, no effort was made.

West, an expert shot with a rifle from his long experience in hunting wild animals, shot and killed both Kendall and Healy without warning, while they were perhaps 50 yards from him. He fired only twice.

Sheriff Kendall, armed with a search warrant, left Albany yesterday for the West ranch, accompanied by Rev. Mr. Healy, who desired to see a raid on a still to obtain material for a story which he was intending to write. The minister went merely as a spectator.

TWO MORE DOG BITE CASES REPORTED

Two more dog bite cases reported to the board of health today raised the number of cases for the year to 17, only five less than for the entire year in 1921. For three months of the present year all dogs in the city were muzzled in compliance with an ordinance adopted by the city council, but since that expired, more dog bite cases have been reported than prior to the time of its passage.

Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the board of health inclines to the opinion that a great majority of the cases are provoked by children who persist in plaguing dogs, who otherwise would not show signs of temper. He substantiates this opinion by calling attention to the fact that evidences of rabies have been found only in one instance.

The cases reported to the board today were of Henry and Francis Dolan, brothers, aged 9 and 12 years respectively, living at 46 Franklin street. They were bitten by a dog owned by a Mr. Geoffrey of 66 Franklin street. The cases were reported by the boys' parents and turned over to Dr. Sherman for investigation.

WOULD BORROW $53,000 FOR NEW PARK AND PLAYGROUND AREAS

Orders to Acquire Land in First Street, Lawrence Street and in Highlands to Be Presented to Council Tonight by Mayor Brown—Nominations to Be Sent in for City Physician, Supt. of Charities and Assessing Board

Loan orders totalling $53,000 for the purpose of acquiring land in First street, Lawrence street and the Highlands for park and playground purposes were being drawn up by the mayor today for presentation to the city council at its meeting tonight.

For the tract in Lawrence street, near Moore street, advanced by Councilor McMeniman, $3500 will be provided, while $25,000 is the amount of the order for the First street tract. This is land extending from present Varnum park as far as the cement garage, on which buildings are situated. It originally was planned that these buildings should be moved back to allow for a 10-foot widening of the street, but Centralville people backed a petition requesting that the land be acquired for park purposes and this idea has received the approbation of the mayor.

In the Highlands two tracts of land are suggested for playground areas. The one adjacent to the Morey school is covered by an order for $10,000, while the one bounded by B. Parker, Wilder and Stevens streets would cost $15,000. Only one house in Wilder street would be moved according to the present plan for the taking of land near the Morey school, instead of two houses, as previously suggested by members of the Highlands Improvement association.

The mayor, in presenting the orders, will request that immediate action be taken on the First street proposition, so that the board of public service may know whether or not it shall go ahead with its contract with Burton H. Wiggin for the moving back of the houses in that portion of the street.

Nominations of Harry W. Leavitt for superintendent of charities, Dr. William F. Ryan for city physician and the mayor's veto of the order granting permission to use Spaulding park as a burial ground, will be other important matters to come up for consideration tonight.

Also the mayor stated today that he may nominate Edwin T. Shaw as an assessor to succeed Daniel B. Hogan, and Frank J. Hublin to succeed John H. Dwyer.

The council committee on finance will meet in conference at 7 o'clock, further discuss the plan of additional appropriations for city departments. It is considered rather doubtful that any order will be drawn up in time for presentation to the council tonight.

QUESTIONS TOOTH PULLING PRICE

Declaring that $1 is an exorbitant charge by Lowell dentists for the extraction of one tooth and claiming that it works a burden upon the poor, Solomon Robitschek will petition the city council tonight to seek an opinion from the city solicitor relative to what he claims is an "unlawful trust."

If the solicitor, in his wisdom, should find that $1 is the prevailing rate for one "pull," Mr. Robitschek further prays that this charge be reduced to either 25 or 50 cents.

TWO STREETS ARE CLOSED TO TRAFFIC

Because of paving on the east side of Chelmsford street and Lincoln square, the city engineer has closed Hale and Lincoln streets to traffic. Stevens street, from Westford to Pine streets, also is closed as a sidewalk, signs, telling of dangerous paving, have been placed in Westford street at Loring and Wilder streets. That stretch is being prepared for paving with Amalgam.

Free State Leader Tops Poll With Thrice the Votes Necessary to Win

De Valera and His Supporters Stunned by Results of Irish Elections

DUBLIN, June 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Cork county is the only district from which the election returns have not been announced and these are not expected to be completed before midnight tonight. Enough is known, however, to show that Michael Collins heads the poll with about thrice the votes necessary to win.

Labor candidates are expected to win two seats, displacing treaty opponents.

The 10 remaining undeclared results expected to be announced today, will not materially affect the composition of the new parliament. Of the 11 seats already made public, 35 are held by Sinn Fein panel candidates favorable to the treaty, 33 by panel treaty opponents, 16 by laborites, six by independents, five by farmers, and the remainder, four, by Trinity college members.

British Government Again Defeated

LONDON, June 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government was defeated on a financial amendment to the national health insurance bill in grand committee of the house of commons today. The committee immediately adjourned in order that the government might consider its position. The amendment was carried against the government by a vote of 20 to 14. The defeat is considered in political quarters as of no greater importance than that which occurred in the house of lords yesterday and as unlikely to lead to modification of the government's policy.

HERRIN, Ill., June 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Nineteen are known to have been killed in the open warfare of union men and sympathizers with employees of the strip mine near here of the Southern Illinois Coal Co. An incomplete check up showed 16 non-union men and three union men dead. One of the non-union men was found hanging to a tree, his body riddled with bullets. A report reached here today that warfare had been renewed.

Foreman Beaten to Death
The bodies of the 16 non-union men were found in a woods near the strip mine, six miles east of here. A man named McDowell, foreman at the mine, was beaten to death, and the other 11, exclusive of the men hanged, were shot to death. It was stated the men were massacred when they attempted to escape after being taken prisoner by the union forces.

THE MERRIMACK RIVER STILL ON RAMPAGE

The Merrimack river stood nine inches higher here today than yesterday, with water spilling over Pawtucket dam night after night. Since last Saturday morning 7.03 inches of rain has fallen, the precipitation yesterday totalling more than two inches.

The foot gauge this morning, before the mills opened, showed the height of the water as 60.72 feet, against a flat 50-foot reading yesterday at the same hour. Yesterday the river was running 22,930 cubic feet per second, while today this volume had increased to 25,450 feet.

Officials of the Locks & Canals feel, however, that the river will reach its maximum height some time today or tonight and that a rapid recession will follow. They do not feel that there has been as heavy a rainfall at the headwaters as in southern New Hampshire and that as a result the increased volume will reach and pass Lowell more quickly.

WILL OBSERVE FEAST OF THE SACRED HEART

In connection with the observance of the feast of the Sacred Heart in all the Catholic churches tomorrow, the most conspicuous feature is the triduum now being conducted at St. Columba's church.

This triduum in honor of the feast began last evening at 7 o'clock. The opening sermon was given by Rev. John M. Manion of St. Peter's church, who presented a very eloquent discourse upon the meaning of devotion to the Sacred Heart, upon the reparation mankind should make for the sins of the world and the friendship every Catholic should have with our Divine Lord. He concluded by urging that every member of the parish receive holy communion on the feast day.

This evening, the services will consist of public adoration of the Blessed Sacrament, beginning at 7 o'clock and ending at 9. There will be confessions this evening, as well as this afternoon. The closing ceremony of the triduum takes place tomorrow evening. There will be a solemn procession in which many of the children of the parish will take part. One of the children will crown the statue of the Sacred Heart. The closing sermon will follow. During the benediction, the public consecration of the parish to the Sacred Heart will occur.

A very large crowd attended the opening services last evening in spite of the inclement weather. Masses will be celebrated in all the churches tomorrow morning. The hours at which the masses will be celebrated in the various parishes follows: St. Patrick's, 5:30 and 6:30; St. Peter's, 5, 6 and 7; St. Michael's, 5:15 and 7; Immaculate Conception, 5:15, 6:30 and 8; Sacred Heart, 5:15, 6, 7 and 8; St. Margaret's, 6 and 7:30; St. Columba's, 5 and 7. In most instances, confessions will be heard this afternoon and evening.

COMMUNICATION

The following communication is received relative to the statements made by Mr. Blazon in his letter to Mayor Brown:

Editor Sun,

Dear Sir:

Allow me to say a word in reply to Mr. Blazon's letter to Mayor Brown in which he says he believes that Wilfred J. Achin is incompetent for the position of assessor. Possibly he does believe so; but Mr. Blazon like some other men at city hall undoubtedly believes many things that are not so. Mr. Achin, although listed as a chauffeur, has been agent for several large tenement blocks and may have as good a knowledge of real estate values as Mr. Blazon has today and even better than

CLIMBING HIGHER THAN MAN HAS EVER GONE BEFORE

To reach the peak of Mt. Everest has been man's ambition for many years. Three Englishmen, Mallory, Somerville and Norton, have gone 26,800 feet, farther than man has ever gone before, without artificial supply of oxygen. They are just 2200 feet below the summit, ready to advance with tanked oxygen. This photo was taken as the expedition crossed the snow barren at Jelep La.

Mr. Blazon had when he was first elected to the office. It is true that he is not a lawyer, but it has never been the custom to elect only lawyers to the board of assessors.

It seems that the mayor who nominated Mr. Achin and the ten councilors who confirmed the nomination believed that he is competent to fill the position and their opinion in such matters should outweigh that of Mr. Blazon who naturally wants to hold his job. Thanking you for the space.

Yours truly,
J. M. G.

PHYSICIAN DENOUNCES
ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

CHICAGO, June 22.—What he termed misrepresentation on the part of the Anti-saloon league, of the attitude of the medical profession toward whisky for use in illness, was denounced by Dr. H. N. Stevenson of Baltimore, a trustee of the American Institute of Homeopathy, in an address before the institute last night.

"The Anti-saloon league's contention that only 30 per cent of doctors regard whisky of sufficient value as medicine to secure a permit for prescribing it, is downright falsehood," he declared. Thousands of specialists and physicians who work in hospitals have no occasion to use whisky in their practice, and thousands more work in states where they are forbidden whisky, he said.

"Subtract this number and you will find the percentage of doctors who do apply for permits to prescribe whisky nearly 80 per cent," he asserted.

Whisky, he added, is a valuable tonic for aged people, or as a remedy for a sudden shock. Most physicians, he declared, hope for a time when much of the present "red tape" is eliminated, and when they will be trusted enough to prescribe whisky as they would any other medicine.

MAY EXAMINE TEXTILE MILLS' BOOKS

As a result of the recent textile strike investigation order passed by the state legislature, an examination probably will be made of the books of the textile corporations of Lowell, with a view to ascertaining costs of production in their relations to a 25 per cent wage cut. This information is given publicly by Hon. Edward Fisher, chairman of the state board of arbitration and conciliation.

Gen. E. Leroy Sweetser, chairman of the department of labor and industries, has stated that the arbitration board is to continue its efforts to adjust differences between employers and employees in textile industries and in addition will undertake to secure information relative to wages paid in textile centers throughout the state and elsewhere.

According to Mr. Fisher the legislative order provides for more than a cursory investigation as to average wages and if necessary an analysis of production costs may be made. In previous textile disputes the state board of conciliation never had gone so far as to open the books of a corporation involved in a wage difficulty, presumably because it never believed it had that power, but now, however, it appears that the board, working in co-operation with other divisions of the state department of labor, will exercise this power.

PICNIC POSTPONED
The rain of yesterday again interfered with the picnic of St. Patrick's parochial school, which was to have been held at Fryeborough. A third attempt to stage the event will be made on June 24.

$100,000,000.00 From Goldfield

The gold found in the famous mining camp was taken from comparatively shallow depth, and those engaged in its production left the district when the ore "pinched out" although the best engineering talent in the west advised sinking to greater depths.

The biggest banker in Nevada with a few associates acquired 600 acres of highly mineralized land in the heart of the district that produced one hundred million dollars, and are sinking an immense three-compartment shaft 2,400 feet to connect with ore bodies mining men of wide experience and eminent geologists claim exist below the top strata.

The shaft is down 1,260 feet, and work is progressing daily. That large bodies of ore will be found at depth is the generally accepted belief of experienced engineers and eminent geologists which will result in an immediate increase of the price of the company's securities.

My acquaintance with the men who are conducting operations, the Goldfield District, and the intimate details connected with the project is such that I strongly advise you to send for a booklet I have written entitled "Nevada, the $100,000,000 State."

It is yours for the asking.

MISERABLE FOR TWO YEARS

"Fruit-a-tives" Restored Her Strength and Vitality

MOOREVILLE, OAKHILL CO., N. H.
"I was all run down and work was burdensome owing to indigestion, and gas on my stomach which caused me to belch a good deal. My heart seemed to be affected.

It was two years ago that I was in this condition and began the use of "Fruit-a-tives", which proved the very remedy I required. I was freed of the indigestion, which I attributed to my heart; and I can conscientiously recommend "Fruit-a-tives" the great Fruit Medicine."

SLAY THOUSANDS AND BURN MANY CITIES

SIANGHAI, June 22. (By A. P.)—Between 10,000 and 15,000 northern forces sent against Sun Yat Sen's army in Kiangsi Province mutilated at Kianfu, burned portions of Kianfu and other nearby cities and killed thousands of the residents, according to unconfirmed but apparently authentic reports from various sources at Hankow and Nanchang.

The troops were under command of Gen. T'ai Chen Hsun, military commander of Peking.

REDUCE LOWELL MAN'S COMPENSATION

(Special to The Sun.)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 22.—Following a hearing which he gave in Lowell recently, Commissioner Joseph A. Parks of the industrial accident board has ordered a reduction in the compensation benefits which, for more than two years, have been paid to Patrick Warren of 528 Gorham street, Lowell.

Warren was injured June 4, 1920, while employed by the Lowell Bleachery company. His injury consisted of the loss of a part of his right thumb and index finger and stiffness of the middle finger. Since that time he has been paid benefits of slightly more than $14 a week. It being held that he has been totally incapacitated for work.

Recently the Liberty Mutual Insurance company asked the industrial accident board to permit a cessation of the payments on the ground that Warren is now able to return to work. After considering all of the evidence presented, and examining the man's condition, Commissioner Parks has entered a decision in which he says: "It is estimated that if this employee were to do no more than many things he can do to earn his livelihood. He is under the impression that he has no use in the injured hand, but the hand itself is the best evidence that it will be useful in many forms of employment."

"I am of the opinion that a fair earning capacity to give this employee at the present time is $9 a week. Therefore, I find that he is entitled to partial compensation of $3.51 a week, based on two-thirds of the difference between $9 and $12.77, his wages at the time of injury, said partial compensation to continue subject to the terms of the act."

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL REVIEW

After issuing a larger, more complete publication during the school year of 1921-1922, the Lowell High School Review staff turned out its final number yesterday and retired in favor of the staff selected for the coming year. This year's issues have been larger in point of size than in any other year since its institution, 23 years ago.

The class history, class ode, class prophecy and class farewell, in addition to the summary of school events and achievements, are included in yesterday's issue. The retiring staff is as follows: Editor-in-chief, Brendan D. Leahy; business managers, Frederick G. Milton, Charles H. Beach, Theresa Mack; exchange editors, Mollie Washburn, Margaret Reynolds; society editor, Barbara H. McAdams; reporter, Margery Elaine Murphy; sporting editor, George Hannigan; correspondents, Katherine Harrington, Esther Conroy, Garrett McAdams, Elmer Trull, Amos Fleming, Gertrude Donahoe, Thomas Bourke, Bortram Needham, Elinor MacIntyre, Norbert O'Brien, Thomas McKay, Kathleen Sullivan, Robert Drew, Irene Halliwell, Walter Barrent.

BAY STATE ELKS REELECT BRENNAN

NEW BEDFORD, June 22.—John P. Brennan of Cambridge was re-elected president of the Massachusetts Order of Elks in a closely-contested race with John W. Donnelly of Worcester, first vice president of the organization, at the closing session of the state convention yesterday.

The other officers elected were: First vice president, Joseph F. Francis, New Bedford; second vice president, Dr. William D. McAfee, Haverhill; third vice president, Marshall P. Nelson, New Bedford; treasurer, Bernard E. Garlin, Lynn; secretary, Jeremiah J. Hogan, Framingham; trustees, Dr. Thomas G. Hines, Hudson; William Curran, Winthrop; and Michael T. Burke, Marlboro. Selection of next year's convention city was left in the hands of the officers.

Among the Congo natives a superstitious belief exists that the appearance of a baby's first tooth on the upper jaw is an ill omen in the community, and that the child must therefore be killed.

Kings and Generals Are Glad To Pose for Micheline Resco

MADMOISELLE MICHELLE RESCO, 25, FOREMOST PORTRAIT PAINTER OF FRANCE AND SKETCHES OF SOME OF HER EXPERIENCES IN PAINTING GREAT CELEBRITIES.

BY NORRIS QUINN
NEW YORK, June 17. Though Mademoiselle Micheline Resco is only 25—
She has won in competition with 50 famous artists a $3000 prize offered by the Knights of Columbus

for the best portrait of General John J. Pershing—
She has painted portraits of Europe's leading royalty and diplomatic and political celebrities—
She has been the only artist for whom Marshal Ferdinand Foch would consent to pose—
And now she has come to conquer America!

"It will be the climax of my career if I can paint the portraits of your famous Americans," she said in an interview here. "It's the ambition of my life to paint President Harding. I am trying to make arrangements for this, but the matter has not been conclusively settled."

Congratulates Princess
"I notice Americans are deeply interested in the marriage of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Princess Marie of Rumania," pointing to a newspaper—"well, I did a portrait of King Alexander while he still was a prince, staying in Paris."
"Princess Marie has my congratulations. A gentler or more courteous than King Alexander never entered my studio. And he's demure, too."

Another royal portrait made by Mademoiselle Resco was that of King Faisal, ruler of the Arabian Kingdom of Iraq—a real shock. He came to her studio in his shell costume of flowing robes and caftan.
"I've found that the greater men are, the easier sitters they make," Mademoiselle Resco says. "A great celebrity is much less fussy than an unimportant person."

Soldiers Patient
"I've painted many military men and they're really the best subjects. They've been trained to obey and they'll hold a pose for any length of time with the greatest patience."
"Royalty is easy, too, but kings, you know, should be flattered. Statesmen are rather more nervous than others when they're sitting."

ST. JOSEPH'S CONVENT

Graduates Receive Diplomas and Gold Medals at Graduation Exercises

Thirty-one girls received their diplomas and gold medals at the graduation exercises of St. Joseph's convent, which were held in St. Joseph's college hall in Merrimack street last evening. In addition about two hundred others, the leaders of the various grades, were awarded suitable prizes for excellent work during the year. Of the 31 members of the graduating class, 11 received Palmer diplomas. The presentation of diplomas and prizes was made by the pastor, Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I., in the presence of about 500 parents and friends of the girls.
The exercises were held at 8 o'clock and long before the time set for the opening number every seat was taken, and in order to accommodate the late comers extra chairs had to be secured. Seated in the audience were Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I., Rev. Athanasius Marion, O.M.I., Rev. J. A. Bolduc, O.M.I., Rev. Charles Denzot, O.M.I., Rev. Augustin Gratot, O.M.I., Rev. Armand Baron, O.M.I., Rev. E. J. Carrier, O.M.I., and Rev. Aurelien Meroll, O.M.I. Present also was Very Rev. Mother St. Albert of the mother house of the Grey Nuns of the Cross at Ottawa, Ont., and practically every member of the teaching staff of the convent.
The program opened with an overture on the piano, "Euryanthe," by Misses J. Dupuis, O. Malo, E. Baril and

NERVES ON FIRE

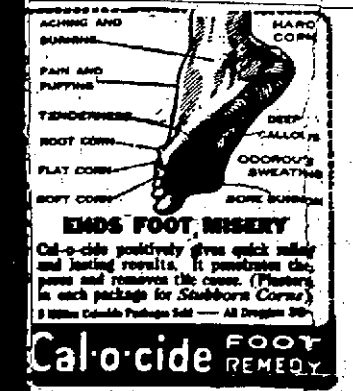

The pains of neuralgia are the most agonizing that can be endured. Where neuralgia is accompanied by pain of the face and lips the cause is generally undernourished nerves due to heat relief obtained by building up no blood as is shown in the case of Mrs. Isabella W. Turner, of No. 5 Maple street, Portland, Me.
"The pain started in my hip and went up the spine to my shoulder and neck," she says. "The pains were sharp and shooting, like electric shocks. It seemed as if my nerves were on fire. When I sat down it would ease the pain but when I straightened up it would catch me suddenly."
"Nothing helped me much until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After the first box the pain was less severe and began gradually going away. I've gained in strength and weight, sleep better and am not nervous like was. I can walk well now and have better color. The relief from the pain in my hip and back is wonderful and I want the pills to have the credit of it."
Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price 60 cents—Adv.

Sec. of War Weeks Favours Modification of the Prohibition Law
CHESTER, Pa., June 22.—Secretary of War Weeks in an interview here yesterday was quoted as saying that he favored a modification of the prohibition law. He said he had found a general sentiment in favor of an amendment to the Volstead act. The people, the secretary was quoted as saying, want beer and light wines, and if he were in congress they could have them.

Dog Days in the Movies
Mean Few Good Pictures

"WHISKERS," THAT'S THE DOG'S NAME. LOOKS LIKE IT MIGHT ALSO BE THAT OF T. ROY BARNES. THEY'LL BOTH LOOK THIS WAY IN "THE OLD HOMESTEAD"

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, June 21.—Now come the dog days of filmdom. That means meagre fare for the faithful who like their jumping taints in July as well as in December.

In the old days of stuffy, storeroom movie theatres the exhibition business slumped in the sultry months and exhibitors wouldn't pay big money for films.

Now, with hundreds of big theatres equipped with devices that make them cooler than the average city home, the old belief still holds.

Producers and distributors hold back their big productions until fall because few exhibitors will buy them. The good pictures this summer will be few and far between.

The only exception will be such films as are now being played on exhibition for long runs in New York and a few other key cities. These long runs make effective exploitation for the pictures when September rolls around.

The pictures are heralded in this manner—"Jumping Jupiter," the sensational film that ran untried weeks on Broadway.

One picture that ought to be well patronized during the torrid days is "Over the Border." It has more snow in it than half a dozen James Oliver Curzon films.

And it has a lot of comedy, even though much of it wasn't meant as such.

The best bit of comedy I have observed in a long time is in the fadeout of "Over the Border." Betty Compson, the dead girl, stands there on the border of the U.S.A. and Canada after a long hike through a blizzard with snow waist-deep.

She looks up to the heavens and into the camera and, bless my soul, if she ain't got her eyelashes beaded and her rouge on her lips glowing.

It was a terrible day, it turns out, to be way out there, the only lady in the company and not a vanity case in the whole bunch.

And the next time I see Penrhyn Stanlaws, who directed "Over the Border," I'm going to ask him how come the superior officers of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police salute first in meeting men of lesser rank. It wasn't that way in "this man's army."

It's the women who pay—for the realism wrought in some pictures. Consider T. Roy Barnes and his better half. When he was selected to play the part of the tramp in "The Old Homestead" he started to grow a beard. Mrs. T. Roy didn't object to that although she looked as if she were tending a wild man of Borneo when she went out with him.

Then one day he brought home a dog. It was of doubtful origin and of doubtful habits in regard to his Saturday night bath. It was Barnes' idea of realism that he and the dog would grow accustomed to the idiosyncrasies of each other if they lived together several weeks.

"Well, you'll not keep him in the house," declared Mrs. Barnes. "Put him in the garage."

"But he has to be near me all the time so he will follow me around," Barnes protested. "I can't stay in the garage."

"Latest reports from Hollywood do not say whether 'Whiskers,' the dog, is sleeping in the house with Barnes, or Barnes in the garage with the dog."

CHURCH IS NOW
FREE FROM DEBT

The burning of a note for $5000 last night by members of the First Presbyterian church, located in Appleton street, was the final act of a struggle to free the church from the debt which has hung over it since 1877.

For years the members of this congregation have worked hard and faithfully in an attempt to lift the mortgage which made possible the erection of the edifice. About one year ago all had been paid with the exception of a $5000 note. A wish to have the church entirely free from debt was expressed by many of the members, with the result increased effort was made to raise money. Last April the necessary $5000 was on hand and the note paid off. The celebration was held up until last evening.

Included among those present last night were Pastor Emeritus Rev. Jas. E. Craig; Rev. Joseph E. Kennedy, present pastor; Rev. Nathaniel W. Matthews, pastor of the Gorham Street P.M. church; William Harris, treasurer of the church, and Mayor George H. Brown.

The program was brief and consisted of speeches by the above named. The burning of the note was carried out by Mr. Harris, whose act was prefaced by a few words from Rev. Mr. Kennedy. As the match was applied to the paper the church choir sang the Doxology. As a closing number those present united in the singing of "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The church orchestra furnished music and the Willing Hand society furnished refreshments.

Dr. True's Elixir

The True Family Laxative

Mothers with their home worries are often irregular at meals—have no appetite—are often restless at night—are tired and are troubled with distressed stomachs—need a prompt, pure herb laxative, and such is Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative. The working man is apt to neglect his health; may eat too hurriedly and at irregular hours. Often this puts the bowels out of order—they fail to function properly—causing fretfulness, taking away the appetite, slowing down the active mind. To relieve these conditions, have a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir handy. Use it as others have done during the past 70 years. When the children are out of sight they often eat too many sweets or rich foods. This brings on constipation in many cases.

Watch these symptoms: Constipation, sour stomach, cramps, eyes heavy and dull, bad breath, restlessness, and biliousness. These are common to both children and grown-ups and call for prompt use of a laxative.

To properly cleanse and purify the intestinal tract which is essential to good health; to ward off and relieve constipation and its attending evils use the True Family Laxative, Dr. True's Elixir. 40c—60c—$1.20.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil! Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

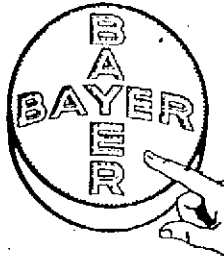

This preparation for the treatment of freckles is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee. Adv.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

Say, "Bayer" when you buy Aspirin. Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for colds, headache, toothache, earache, neuralgia, lumbago, rheumatism, neuritis, and for pain in general. Aspirin is a powerful and penetrating is absorbed; gottres and wens are made to disappear and abscesses, boils, carbuncles, ulcers and open sores are healed in a few days. Moore's Emerald Oil is not a patent medicine, but is a surgeon's prescription that for years has been successfully used in private and hospital practice. Great Howard and all pharmacists dispense it, and complete directions for home use come with each bottle.—Adv.

MIDWAY LOTS

More than $2000 was realized yesterday by the park commission when midway lots on the South common were auctioned off by Cornelius E. Cronin. More than 100 persons attended the auction, many being from out of town. In the vicinity of 100 lots were sold and the amount received therefrom totals higher than the money taken in at last year's sale. It is now believed that this Fourth of July will be one of the busiest in the history of the South common.

MAY BUY LAND
FOR CEMETERY

Land in the rear of the Edison and Westlake cemeteries, owned by Erasmus A. Bartlett of Chelmsford, a portion of which has been sought by the cemetery commission for several years past, may be sold to the Polish Roman Catholic parish of this city and to the archbishop of Boston for an addition to St. Patrick's cemetery. It is said that since the Spalding park order was vetoed by the mayor, Fr. Ogonowski, pastor of the Holy Trinity church, has inquired about purchasing 20 acres of the Bartlett land.

DIVER SEARCHES FOR BODIES

Auto With Two Occupants
Plunged Off Bridge Into
Lamprey River

Girl Witnesses Say Car Tore
Through Iron Fence and
Dropped 30 Feet

NEWMARKET, N. H., June 22.—A diver was searching the wreckage of an automobile at the bottom of the swiftly flowing Lamprey river today for the bodies of Fred E. Sanborn, member of the New Hampshire legislature, and Phillip Boucher, a mill operative, who are believed to have been drowned last night when the machine plunged off a bridge.

At midnight, John Hanson, the diver, braved the swift current and went down to the river bottom shortly after the automobile was seen to crash through the rail on the Durham road bridge. Hanson brought up the number plate from Sanborn's touring car, Sanborn and Boucher were seen here in the car late last night and were missing from their homes today.

Two girls who were witnesses to the plunging of the automobile, told the police that the car came down the sharp grade to the bridge, tore through the iron fencing and dropped 30 feet into the roaring river, swollen to flood stage by the recent rains.

One Body Recovered

NEWMARKET, N. H., June 22.—The body of Fred E. Sanborn, who was drowned last night when the automobile, he was driving, crashed off a bridge into the Lamprey river was recovered today by a diver.

Phillip Boucher, an employee of the Newmarket Manufacturing Co., and Fred Bushie, a missing and accused in being continued for their bodies. Conflicting stories as to the number in the car are reported but it is known definitely that Boucher accompanied Sanborn.

Sanborn's body was found entangled in the wreckage of the car on the bed of the stream. It is believed now that the body of Boucher and possibly Bushie's have been carried down the river to Great Bay or Portsmouth.

tor of a bakery at 335 Hildreth street, was very much broken up over the affair when he appeared in court this morning. Last night he told the police that he was traveling about 20 miles an hour and that he was on his right side of the street.

Mr. Clifford, who was about 24 years old, was well known to hundreds of people in this city. He was one of the most popular young men in Lowell.

Although his name was Robert, to most people who knew him he was known as Cy Clifford. It was a name given to him in his school days and it became so generally used that few people, indeed, really knew that his Christian name was Robert.

The news of Clifford's death comes as a shock to hundreds of people who were wont to see and talk with him almost daily. He was just at life's broad threshold when the vista was snapped out before his eyes and his book closed with the story hardly yet begun.

He was a wholesome, genial, and American boyhood and the sincere sympathy of scores of friends will be instantly extended to his parents and a sister, Helen G. Clifford, who survive him.

He was at one time employed in the business department of the Lowell Sun and at the time of his death was working at the Saco-Lowell shops. He was a member of both the Washington and Highland clubs.

A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

Program, Centering Around
Four Constitutional
Amendments, Adopted

CINCINNATI, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—By an overwhelming vote, the American Federation of Labor convention today adopted a program, centering around four proposed constitutional amendments, repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law and other legislation, as the means for curbing the courts on account of decisions adverse to labor. The program was drafted by a special policy committee and accepted without change by the convention.

The election of officers of the federation was set for tomorrow morning and at that time the seat for next year's convention also will be selected. Houston, Tex., and Atlantic City, N. J., are the only cities that have submitted invitations for the convention which will be held in October, 1923.

Only on one day of the year are women permitted to enter the chapel of St. John the Baptist, which is the glory of the Cathedral of San Lorenzo in Genoa.

Court Grants Ward's Petition

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 22.—Supreme Court Justice Morgenthau today held that Walter S. Ward, indicted for the first degree murder of Clarence Peters, ex-sailor, was entitled either to an early trial, or an opportunity to examine the minutes of the grand jury for the purpose of attacking the validity of the indictment. He gave District Attorney Weeks until next Monday to decide whether he would be willing to start Ward's trial on July 17, as demanded by Ward's counsel.

$100,000 Damage by Deluge of Rain

ROCKLAND, Me., June 22.—Damage of not less than $100,000, it was believed, was caused in this city and vicinity by a deluge of rain this morning. Expensive stocks in basements of Main street stores were ruined and damage to real estate was caused all over the city. Many fire alarm boxes were wrecked by an electrical accompaniment of the storm and the entire system was put out of commission. Traffic on the Knox and Lincoln division of the Maine Central railroad was at a standstill on account of washouts along the line. The lower part of the Knox Woolen mill at Camden was flooded, causing heavy damage. It was feared that the dam at the Camden Woolen mill might go out.

DR. SUN YAT SEN CAPTURED
PEKIN, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, formerly president of the China republic, has been taken prisoner by the United China forces and is being held captive on the Chinese cruiser Hanchi in the West river near Canton, according to advices received by the foreign legations here from Canton.

The new Delaware river bridge, which is to be built by the states of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and the city of Philadelphia, is estimated to cost about $28,511,000.

The title, the "Hub of the Universe," was bestowed by Oliver Wendell Holmes on the Massachusetts state house, and afterward it was extended to mean the city of Boston.

Train Struck 20-Ton Boulder

rock cut one mile west of Lakeview station at 5:30 this morning, killing R. R. Lockhart, fireman, and injuring B. B. Rogers, engineer, but not seriously.

Both are of Brownsville Junction, the former leaving a wife and large family. Help was summoned from Lakeview. Dr. A. M. Cardo responding on a hand-car. No passengers or others of the train crew were injured and the train was hauled back to Brownsville Junction.

Officials of the Canadian Pacific railway said they expected no more than a four hour delay in forwarding passengers over their own rails. Both locomotive and baggage cars were badly smashed, but slow speed prevented damage to the following coaches or injury to occupants.

CLASS MEMORIAL

In keeping with the custom of each year's graduating class at the Lowell high school, that of presenting the school with some sort of class memorial, usually in the form of a work of art, the class of 1922 will offer as a class gift a life size bronze statue of Joan of Arc. The gift committee, who made the selection, is composed of the following: Donald Court, chairman; Harvey Abbott, Mr. Ellnor, Har-; and Anna Mullany, President of the school; Charles H. Flood of the graduating class will make the presentation at the exercises in Keith's theatre on June 23, and the gift will be formally accepted for the school by James H. Riley, chairman of the school committee.

Collins Wins in Cork County

his followers are simply stunned by the results of the election. Up to last night they had secured only 32 seats out of a total of 118, and this in the face of the fact that they were given an even chance on the panel in accordance with the Collins-de Valera pact. Only 10 seats now remain to be filled.

Most of de Valera's chief lieutenants have been defeated. His own statement, issued last night, is considered a confession of emphatic defeat.

de Valera Makes Attack

DUBLIN, June 22 (by the Associated Press)—Eamon de Valera last night issued a statement saying he does not believe the Dail Eireann will pass the new Irish constitution in its present form.

He declares the constitution would exclude from public service and practically disfranchise every honest republican.

Mr. de Valera made this pronouncement to newspaper reporters after seeking a statement on the results of the elections. He said:

"These results seem indeed a triumph for the imperial methods of pacification—outrage, murder and massacre, and then, direct, with a concession, the policy of a kick and a caress, with a kick in reserve.

"By the threat of immediate renewal of the infamous war, our people, harassed and weary and fearful of England, have in the majority, voted as England wanted, but their hearts and their aspirations are unchanged, and Ireland unfree will never be at rest or genuinely reconciled with England."

"England's gain is for the moment only, and England's difficulty will still be prayed for as Ireland's opportunity."

"The men and women who have been rejected by the electorate have gone down with their flags flying, untouched by the prospect of place or power, true to their principles, true to every pledge and promise they gave, true to the dead who died for Ireland. With these hallowed names theirs will be forever coupled with honorable mention in one of the most glorious chapters of the nation's story."

As for the published constitution, Mr. de Valera said it was still only a draft, and he felt confident that the Dail Eireann would not pass it as it stood.

"As it stands," he said, "it will exclude from public service and practically disfranchise every honest republican. It is a test case as comprehensive against republicans as the recent Acts of Clandon and the Shaftesbury code against Catholics and dissenters in the reign of Charles II. It is, as Burke described, the Irish penal code, a machine of wit and elaborate contrivance, a complete system well designed and well composed in all its parts, and peculiarly fitted to the end in view, the degradation of the people, and directed not against the few, but against the many."

"The Dail Eireann will not dishonor itself by passing it."

Elections to Be Invalidated

turned from the centre of the highway towards the right side and in doing so the rear end of his machine skidded and swung in front of the larger car. Mr. Guillemette says that he did everything in his power to avoid a collision, but that his car hit the rear end of the Ford, turned it over in its side, causing Clifford to be thrown heavily to the ground.

The unfortunate youth was thrown with such force against the bridge that he sustained a fracture of the skull at the base. As soon as Guillemette was able, he jumped from his car and ran to the injured boy and, realizing that he was badly injured, telephoned a rush call for the ambulance. Clifford died a few minutes after the crash and before the ambulance arrived.

The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Peter Savage, where it was viewed by Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith. It was later removed to the undertaking rooms of James W. McKenna, in Bridge street.

that thousands have asked us for

IN answer to women the country over who are using Rinso we have brought out this big new package. At every step of the family wash Rinso does the work.

Millions of women who soak their clothes have found that just soaking in Rinso loosens all the dirt. On the places where the dirt is actually ground-in they rub a little dry Rinso, and even this dirt rinses out.

When they boil their white cottons they pour enough Rinso solution in the boiler to give them the suds they like.

Washing machine owners use Rinso because with it they don't have to rub even the places that used to need special attention.

Rinso takes the place of bar soap. Use it at every step of the wash. Ask your grocer today for the big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

JAILED FOR NEGLECTING AGED PARENTS

WORCESTER, June 22.—Six adult children of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Zelson, aged respectively 70 and 69, of 12 Water street, were sentenced by Judge Utley in Central district court yesterday to serve six months each in the house of correction on a charge of neglecting their aged and helpless parents.

The defendants are: Samuel Zelson, 45, of 14 Derby street; Louis Zelson, 41, and Joseph Zelson, 38, of 8 Columbia street; Morris Zelson, 40, of 296 Harding street; Miss Fannie Zelson, 35, of 12 Water street; and Mrs. Annie Wolder, 31, of 6 Fox street.

Execution of sentence on the four sons was suspended on condition that Samuel and Louis contribute $8 a week and Morris and Joseph $5 a week toward the support of their parents.

The daughters refused to enter any agreement to help support their parents and appealed from the sentence, court holding them in $300 each for superior court.

The complainant was Nathan Zelson of New York, a seventh child of the couple, who claimed that he has been contributing from $20 to $25 a week toward their support. The drain became so severe on him that he appealed to the police.

The parents came to this country 10 years ago and were admitted after two of the sons signed government papers that they would support them. They declare conditions have changed since then. The father suffered a shock several weeks ago and is helpless. Conditions in their home are such that it costs $40 a week for nurse, medical attendance and supplies, and the New York son could not meet that expense alone.

Probation Officer Cooper reported to the court he could not get the Worcester children to contribute, although Joseph owns a store and Fannie has $700 in the bank.

I have used your razor for so many years with such satisfaction that I did not know it was possible to improve upon it until I tried your new improved Gillette, and I want to congratulate you upon the improvement for it surely makes shaving a pleasure.

I don't know whether it is the additional weight or the different arrangement but, satisfactory as was the old razor -- I should say razors for I own several of them of different models -- the new one is so superior that I would not part with it, unless I knew where to get another exactly like it.

Godley Explains Advantages of "Loose Coupling" in Radio Transformer

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
At first glance the action which takes place in the radio receiving transformer seems mysterious.

Yet it is very simple. It easily can be explained and understood. It should be remembered that when a current flows within a wire, there is set up around it an invisible magnetic field. This field increases, decreases or dies out, in strict accordance with any increase, decrease or dying out of currents flowing within the wire.

CLOSE COUPLING OF TRANSFORMER

of two coils of wire, one of which induces within the other. There is no actual electrical connection between the two.

There is an inclination among operators who understand the inductive effect to so arrange the "primary" and "secondary" of the receiving transformer that the relationship of the two is the closest possible at all times. Under these circumstances the coupling is at a maximum and the purpose of the device is defeated. It does not seem to be generally known that the closest possible coupling for maximum signal reception is not only unnecessary but undesirable. The inductive "coupling" or transformer was designed so that a maximum of signal current might be transferred to the secondary of the transformer, while at the same time, an increase in the selectivity of the receiver might be obtained.

In order that the intensity of signal currents may be retained when the coupling is reduced, both primary and secondary circuits are "tuned" to a given period of vibration. This is accomplished by a variation of inductance or capacity in the circuit, and results in a condition of "resonance." Far better all round results with inductively coupled receivers, be they crystal detector or vacuum tube types, are had when decided "loose" coupling is adhered to. This requires more exact tuning of both primary and secondary circuits. The signal strength, however, remains the same, and the receiver is rendered comparatively free from interference.

CLASHING AIR WAVES MAKE BIRDS SING

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
An amusing fifteen minutes was spent at the recent radio conference in Washington in the discussion of that someone cleverly termed "Radio 'canary birds'."

Almost everyone who has listened to broadcast programs has heard the note-like notes which slide up and down the scale, sometimes rather weak and often very strong. Occasionally they are so annoying as to render the reception of the broadcasting impossible, particularly in those places which are at some distance from the station.

In most cases these "signals" are caused by receivers acting as miniature transmitters. When the whistle is prolonged at the same pitch for an hour or more, it may be the result of interaction between two broadcasting stations.

In any case, the whistles are the result of beats, occurring between two otherwise inaudible electro-magnetic waves. The beats are produced only when the signals are coming in. When no signal is incoming, the locally generated signal energy will be unheard because its rate of variation is far above audibility.

Generators. All regenerative receivers may actually act as generators of electro-magnetic waves. The "frequencies" of the wave generated will depend upon the wave length to which the receiver is tuned. The simpler types of regenerative receivers are the worst offenders.

To gain simplicity, the antenna is usually connected directly to the source of the electrical oscillations. The more selective and complex types of regenerative receivers, while capable of acting as transmitters, offend to a less degree.

Listeners should endeavor to avoid this effect in using their regenerative receivers. It may bother the neighbors.

BOSTON MAN SLAIN

Slayer Says He Was Quicker on Draw and Shot Alleged "Black Handers"

BOSTON, June 22.—Because, he claims, he was quicker on the draw than Edward Spirito of 33 Snow Hill street, North End, Biagelo Vessella, 28 of Fulton street, East Water town, shot Spirito dead on Thacher street, North End, yesterday afternoon, after, he charges, Spirito had demanded $200 from him, Vessella fired two bullets into Spirito's head.

Another bullet struck Mrs. Tommaso Puccio of 47 North Margia street, a passerby, in the left leg. Following the shooting, Vessella ran from the scene, pursued by Patrolman H. A. Chalmers of Station 1 through Thacher street to Endicott street, to Cambridge street, where, at the corner of Bedford street he was overtaken and arrested.

The shooting caused a furor of excitement in the section and the subsequent chase caused pedestrians hurrying through the rain to rush into the nearest shops for possible safety from the revolver of the escaping killer.

After the capture Vessella was brought back to Thacher street and he, Spirito and Mrs. Puccio were taken to the Haymarket Square Police hospital. It was reported that Spirito was dead. Mrs. Puccio was placed under treatment. It is not thought that her condition is serious.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND
Tom Mix opens up a three day's engagement at the Strand, starting today. He enters with him a score of new stunts and the most exciting locale of the story is in Russia where Tom shows a gang of Cossacks how to drink and get lost. Before he is through with them they are fully convinced that this fast American is a record smasher of high degree. It has good humor and enough thrills to satisfy all. Eva Novak is playing opposite the star.

"Second Hand Rose" has as its principal character an Irish girl who was brought up by a Jewish family in a pawnshop. In it the atmosphere of the natural Irish instinct had about as much chance for development as any other highly improbable thing. All poor Rose got was second-hand things—from clothes to a husband—be Miss Walton seems particularly well equipped to portray the role assigned to her, and assisting are Jack Dougherty, Edward Sutherland and others of note.

Besides these two features, there is the usual comedy and weekly, as well as musical numbers of genuine merit. Don't miss seeing the entire bill. And remember "It's always cool, comfortable and healthful" at the Strand.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"I Am the Law" one of James Oliver Curwood's famous stories, starring Alice Lake, Rosemary Theby, Gaston Glass and many other noted film favorites, is the dollar attraction at the Merrimack Square theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday. Wanda Hawley in "Bubbled Hair" provides high grade entertainment of comedy nature for the second feature. Coming Sunday, Norma Talmaidge in "Smilin' Through."

CEMENT GARAGE SLIPS DOWN HILL

LAWRENCE, June 22.—A cement garage, containing a touring car and a sedan machine, broke from its ground about 5 o'clock last night on the top of a 25-foot slope at Haverhill and Milton streets, when the loose stone wall shoring up the banking, with a mass of muddy soil, slid into the hollow of a back yard. The garage, built a year ago at a cost of $1000, was destroyed. The two automobiles, sliding the declivity on the soft mud, were not damaged.

The garage was owned by Harry Steinberg. The sedan was owned by Harry Fineman, and the touring car by Steinberg.

WORKING GIRLS SELL BRICKS TO EARN CLUBHOUSE
To raise $50,000 to build a working girls' clubhouse, New York girl workers, aided by society women, are selling bricks—not gold ones—at $1 each. The clubhouse will be operated by the Women's Trade Union League, but will be open to all employed women.

BOMB WRECKS HOUSE NEW TREASURE HUNTS

Home of Pawtucket Mill Workers Damaged—Two Injured—Man Arrested.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 22.—Louis Frates is detained at the police station for examination in connection with the explosion at a house in Elm street, occupied by mill workers last night. The bomb shattered the front of a three tenement building and broke windows and otherwise damaged adjoining houses. Two men were injured, but not seriously, and the lives of 11 persons in the house were placed in jeopardy. The men injured are Jas. Pina, cut on the arm, face and body by glass, and Tollos Dattos who was thrown out of bed by the explosion and cut on the face by glass and bruised.

Soon after the explosion deputy sheriffs who are guarding mill property in the city assisted the police, Victor Texarra, the owner of the house, told the police that Frates had threatened him about a week ago and had advised him to get rid of tenants who were employed in mills affected by the strike. Frates, who lives in the vicinity, was afterwards identified by Texarra and taken to the police station, but no charge has yet been entered against him.

Chief of Police Hill said after an investigation he had been unable to connect Frates with the explosion but intended to have him arraigned on the charge of threatening Texarra.

YALE-HARVARD GAME

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 22.—The first game of the Yale-Harvard football series was to be played here this afternoon after rain forced its postponement both here and at Cambridge, on Tuesday and Wednesday. Less threatening skies today greeted the rival nines which arrived here last night.

DO NOT LOOK FOR STRIKE

R. R. Executives Confident There Will Be No Walkout Despite Strike Vote

Removal of One of the Three Issues Involved in Prospect, Hearings Monday

CHICAGO, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Removal of one of the three issues on which railway employees are taking their strike vote was in prospect today following announcement by the Railroad Labor board that hearings will open Monday on the contract controversy in which 130 roads are charged with farming out work contrary to the board's orders.

Seventeen contract cases filed against various roads by the unions have been heard by the board and decisions on these cases are expected soon.

In its decision in the case against the Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad the board ruled last month against the farming out system and indicated that the same general principles would be followed in future decisions on the question.

Posting of the pending cases for an early hearing brought the possibility that one of the chief grievances of the rail unions in the strike referendum would be wiped out before it can be made a real issue in a nation-wide rail strike.

Railroad executives continued to express belief that there will be no walkout next month despite the declaration by union leaders that a demonstration will be authorized if the rank and file of the rail unions favor a strike and place the responsibility of it upon their leaders.

John Scott, secretary of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, declared that the balloting thus far appears to disclose strong sentiment for a strike in prospect against the $136,000,000 wage reduction and other decisions by the board.

POLICE OFFICER DIES OF BURNS

Trapped on Second Floor by Fire in North Adams Police Station Today

Dropped to Ground, Sustaining Fractured Leg and Other Injuries

NORTH ADAMS, June 22.—Captain Frank J. Jones, 68 years old, of the local police department, died this morning at a local hospital from burns and injuries sustained in an early morning fire which gutted the police station on May 21. Trapped on the second floor by the flames, he was severely burned and escaped by dropping from a second-story window to the ground, sustaining a fractured leg and other injuries.

$50,000 Loss By Fire

NORTH ADAMS, June 22.—Damage estimated at upwards of $50,000 was caused by a fire of unknown origin which almost completely destroyed the main part of the plant of the E. A. McMillan Co., makers of paper boxes and cloth boxes, early this morning. The plant employs 60 hands.

117TH COMMENCEMENT AT BOWDOIN COLLEGE

BRUNSWICK, Me., June 22.—The degree of bachelor of arts was conferred upon 37 and of bachelor of science on 31 at the 117th commencement exercises at Bowdoin college today. Certificates of honor were given five men who failed to complete their course on account of the war and eight honorary degrees were awarded.

The bachelor of arts degree was conferred posthumously upon Frank D. Hueston of Belfast, second lieutenant, 101st Infantry, and Judson G. Martell, captain, 50th Infantry, both of whom were killed in action. They were members of the class of 1917.

Honorary degrees were conferred upon the following:

Bachelor of Arts: John F. Chapman, '77, Brunswick; Louis A. Goodridge, Boston, ex-assistant secretary of the treasury, and at one time president of the Gridiron club, Washington.

Doctor of Education: John F. Elliot, '73, for more than 30 years headmaster of one of Boston's leading schools.

Doctor of Divinity: Daniel I. Gross, '02, Portland.

Doctor of Science: Austin Carey, '87, Brunswick, a forester; William A. Moody, '82, professor of mathematics, Bowdoin college.

Doctor of Literature: Lawrence F. Abbott, president of the Outlook Co., Boston; Charles A. Coffin, organizer and president of the General Electric Co.

BAY STATE HISTORICAL LEAGUE MEETING

The Bay State Historical league, composed of 30 historical societies in this state will hold its annual meeting at Dedham next Saturday. The train will leave the South station, Boston, at 12:30 p. m. and will arrive at Dedham at 1 o'clock, where the delegates will assemble at the old Fairbanks house and eat their basket lunches on the lawn. The president of the Fairbanks house will then give a talk on the house and its history. At 2:30 the business meeting of the league will be held in the building of the Dedham Historical society. It is hoped that the Lowell delegates will profit by the inspection of the Fairbanks house, and perhaps learn of some means of preserving the Burke house in this city, which is reported to be about four years older than the Fairbanks.

In connection with the bi-centennial anniversary of the incorporation of Worcester as a town, the Worcester Historical society has prepared a historical exhibit in the museum of its building in Armer square. On Wednesday afternoon, June 28, the historical society will entertain the other historical societies at its headquarters in Worcester.

Bodies of 16 Found in Woods

are known to be dead today; six unaccounted for, and nearly a score of men wounded as the result of an open fight between striking union miners and non-union men employed by the Southern Illinois Coal mine. The strike miners, six miles east of here, broke out late yesterday and continued until darkness influenced its cessation.

Report 12 Killed Unverified

Unverified reports were that more than 12 men were killed in the fight at the mining camp, in an explosion between Cartersville and May, near the scene of the trouble, and in an attack on a truck carrying non-union men to the mine which occurred near Carbondale. It was impossible to verify these reports because of confusion at the camp.

Joe Pilechovic, a union miner of Herlin, died in a local hospital early today after being seriously wounded in the fight. The other dead miner is Jordan Henderson, also of Herlin, who was killed in the action. His body has been brought to an undertaking establishment here. Thousands of striking miners, many of whom were armed, made their way along a congested with every sort of conveyance leading to the mining camp, where the union miners and sympathizers, estimated to number approximately 2000, surrounded the mine, under a truce with the non-union forces, who claim they are members of the Steam Shovelmen's Union.

First Mine to Resume Work

Williamson county officials including Sheriff Thaxton and State Attorney Duty, have not requested any outside assistance in restoring order in the district.

The Southern Illinois Coal mine was the first in Illinois to resume operations since the strike became effective April 1, and this fact caused a tense situation among the striking union miners. The district is solidly unionized.

The fighting started after receipt of a telegram from John F. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, telling the men working at the mine as common strike breakers. Soon after a truck carrying 10 men to work in the mine was subjected to a barrage from striking miners near Carbondale. One of the group escaped uninjured, but three were wounded and one died in a hospital at Carbondale while the six others who swam Big Muddy river, amidst a fusillade, have not yet been accounted for.

Excitement at Fever Pitch

Excitement was at fever pitch among the miners here who crowded the streets and pillaged hardware stores for arms and ammunition. With their newly acquired ordnance, the men who were rapidly reinforced from other cities and towns of the district, started to march upon the mine.

Reaching the surface pit the miners threw their lives around their camp and firing began, the non-union men shooting from behind piles of coal and trenches caused by the scooping of earth from the surface mine. Thousand of shots were exchanged before darkness in the miniature battle when both sides halted the white flag.

The exact number of casualties suffered by the non-union men in their veritable stockade could not be checked, as no one was permitted inside their lines during the truce. In the stockade, the unverified reports had as many as 15 non-union men dead. About six union men were wounded.

Efforts to learn the nature of the explosion at Cartersville and May, in which three men were reported killed, were unavailing. It also was reported, but unconfirmed, that the pump house and storehouse of the mine were destroyed by incendiary fire, and that several sections of railroad track were torn up.

A memorial tower has been built on Thielpval ridge, in France, to commemorate the 5000 Irish soldiers of the Thirty-sixth division who fell in the battle of the Somme.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. George M. Hunter of Andover and Miss Beatrice E. Monroe of North Andover were married last evening by Rev. J. M. Craig, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church at his home in Belmont street. The couple will make their home in Andover.

Sears—Fay
The marriage of Mr. Harold Clarke Sears of Danvers and Miss Katherine Elizabeth Fay of this city were married June 1 at St. Michael's rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Francis Mullin. The couple will make their home in Middleboro.

Hill—Baker
Mr. Alfred Hill and Miss Bertha Baker were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, 1889 Middlesex street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Cairns of the First Street Methodist church. The bride wore white georgette crepe and carried bridal roses. She was attended by Mrs. Dana Verrell, while the best man was Mr. Daniel MacPhee. After the ceremony the couple left on an extended honeymoon trip.

Archambault—Delorme
Mr. Dawey G. Archambault, son of Undertaker and Mrs. Amadee Archambault of 205 Pawtucket street, and Miss Marguerite Delorme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Delorme of 368 Littlepath street, were married this morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Louis church at 8 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. D. Labossiere. During the mass the church choir under the direction of Oliver J. David rendered beautiful hymns. At the offertory, Ernest J. Dupont sang "Le Noel du Mariage," and at communion Mrs. H. A. Archambault, a sister-in-law of the groom, rendered an "Ave Maria" with a violin obligato by Prof. St. George. Miss Alma Soudard also sang a hymn. At the bridal party left the church, Miss Ida Soudard played the organ. The wedding march on the organ. The bride wore white crepe de chine with veil caught up with lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet.

After the ceremony the couple left on a two weeks' automobile trip to the White mountains and the state of New York. Upon their return they will make their home at 742 Merrimack street.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURES BY RADIO!

The first illustrated lecture by radio was delivered recently from broadcasting station WFO at Dayton, O., by Ralph Hayes Hamilton of Xenia, O. While he talked into the microphone, colored pictures were projected in the studio. Duplicate sets in other cities were arranged in the same order, so that they were shown as the lecture was being received by radio. In the picture, Hamilton is seen giving his illustrated radio lecture.

ernment leader who moved the adjournment of the house as a mark of respect.

Mr. Chamberlain stated that the field marshal's house had been broken into by two men, who carried firearms and were now in custody, and that he had been shot dead.

Eye-Witnesses Describe Shooting

Witnesses who described the shooting to the Central News said that when the field marshal alighted from his car and was crossing the pavement the first shot was fired. The victim staggered and nearly fell. He was reeling when the second and third shots quickly followed the first. Policemen rushed up, whereupon the assassins turned their weapons on the officers, of whom there were four, two being seriously wounded.

Field Marshal Wilson had been under police protection for some time as the authorities had reason to suspect an attempt on his life. Policemen were actually at the door of his residence when his assailants approached and opened fire.

With the Wilson assassination as their immediate incentive, the "Die Hard" conservatives will move the adjournment of the house of commons tomorrow from this point early in the afternoon when his assailants approached and opened fire.

Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson was formerly of the Imperial general staff of the British army. He retired from this post early in the present year and stood for the Imperial parliament as union candidate for North Down, Ireland. He was elected member for this Ulster district on February 21, and shortly afterward was appointed by Premier Craig as Ulster's prime agent for the restoration of order.

The field marshal went to Belfast from England early in March with plans for restoring order which he submitted to the premier.

While the choice of Field Marshal Wilson as organizer of pacification measures was favorably received by Ulster, it had a contrary reception in southern Ireland. The former British chief of staff was regarded there with more or less the same feeling as Sir Edward Carson, the former Ulster leader, and predictions were freely voiced in the south that he would be strongly in sympathy with the Orange side of the feud between the two factions.

Barracks in Belfast

BELFAST, June 22.—(By the Associated Press) The news of the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson created a scene in Belfast, where it is feared it will provoke reprisals. The Sinn Feiners are popularly blamed for it.

They are also being accused of the move made a few nights ago against Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, when an attack was made upon Stormont Castle, his official residence. Field Marshal Wilson was a popular figure in Ulster, Premier Craig and the members of the Northern cabinet were deeply moved by news of the tragedy, and as a mark of sympathy and mourning, the Ulster house of commons adjourned until Wednesday.

REWARD FOR BOMBERS

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 22.—Mayor Robert A. Knyon today offered a reward on behalf of the city of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the bomb-throwers, responsible for the damaging of a mine occupied by mill workers here.

23 CHILDREN RESCUED

Removed From Orphanage When Explosion Filled Basement With Smoke

SPRINGFIELD, June 22.—Twenty-three children, nine of whom were ill in bed with measles, were removed from the Children's Home, an orphanage, today, following an explosion of chemicals in the basement that filled the building with smoke. Mrs. Mary A. Copp, 75, night nurse, who was asleep, was overcome by smoke and had to be carried down a ladder by firemen from the second story.

Of the children in the building, 14 were recovering from an attack of measles and were still confined to the building. These were safely marshaled out of the building by the attendants, but the other nine were removed in their cribs.

A janitor, Bruce Morton, was removing from a barrel in the basement chemicals that were to be used to disinfect the building when the liquid exploded from contact with the flame of a candle he was using. Smoke quickly swept up through the upper stories of the building. Morton suffered severe burns.

HER CONDITION IS STILL SERIOUS

Little Virginia Mahoney, six-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Mahoney of 18 Dover street, who sustained serious injuries when she was struck by an automobile about a week ago, is reported as showing little, if any, improvement. It was stated at the hospital that the little girl has partially recovered consciousness, but her name is still on the dangerous list.

Thousands of Persons in Kiangsi Province Reported to Have Been Slain

Peking, June 22.—(By the Associated Press) The newly established republican regime in China apparently is receiving that baptism of blood without which few new governments have fixed themselves in power. Between 10,000 and 15,000 troops of the forces under Wu Pei-fu, chief military leader of the new government, have mutinied and slain "thousands" of persons in Kiangsi province, according to reports reaching here.

The British gunboat Cockchafer entered Poyang lake, a large inland body of water in the northern end of Kiangsi province to pick up foreigners in danger at Nanchang. The American gunboat Monocacy probably will follow the Cockchafer. Northern reinforcements

The American gunboats Isabel and Quire and the British gunboats Bca and Foxglove are being held in readiness and will be dispatched via the Kan river to Poyang lake should it become necessary to protect nationals in Nanchang.

Dr. Sun and Wife Prisoners

KIUKIANG, Province of Kiangsi, China, June 22.—(By the Associated Press) A president on Friday morning, a prisoner and an exile from his capital on Tuesday night. That, in brief, is the history of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, recently leader of the Canton government in China. Dr. Sun's wife also is reported to be a prisoner.

For two days reports of various nature have been coming in regarding Dr. Sun's whereabouts and plans.

LAWRENCE FIRE DEPT. IS UP TO DATE

Members of the city council committee on public safety, who went to Lawrence yesterday to watch the exhibition

tion with the meeting of the Fire Lancers staged with apparatus of the Lawrence fire department in connection with the meeting of the Fire Chiefs' club of Massachusetts, came home most favorably impressed and with the firm conviction that the Lowell completely motorizes its department, the better.

They feel that Lowell may well pattern its procedure in relation to the development of its fire department on what Lawrence has accomplished in the past six months, during which time motor apparatus has been purchased to do away with 40 horses. Now there is not a horse in the entire department.

It has been in the mind of Councillor Fred Sadler, chairman of the public safety committee, that at an early date he would present an order in some form in the amount of $50,000, which would purchase enough apparatus to completely motorize the local department and it is believed that yesterday's trip will hasten the day when this will be accomplished.

HON. JOHN N. COLE'S VIEWPOINT

In his talk before the Rotary club of Lowell, Hon. John N. Cole, head of the state department of public works, in discussing transportation problems, took occasion to condemn certain waterway projects as impractical and not likely to bring about any improvement in transportation conditions. He said the St. Lawrence navigation scheme if carried out would be very detrimental to New England, although Col. Cow of the Boston chamber of commerce recently came out in a strong address favoring the scheme as a means of saving New England industries from the effects of ruinous competition from the middle west and the south and from railroad discrimination, which has been in operation for many years.

In reference to the Merrimack river project Mr. Cole allowed that it was wholly impracticable and that if the river were navigable it would be available only for about nine months in the year. It is true that the river is usually level over for about two or three months at the most, but if it were navigable, the passage of vessels up and down would undoubtedly keep the channel clear. The ice in mid-stream is never very thick so that we do not attach much weight to this particular objection offered by Mr. Cole. Mr. Cole must be aware that several rivers of the United States have been made navigable despite much greater obstacles than those to be encountered in the Merrimack. Many examples might be drawn from European rivers which have been made navigable and now serve a very useful purpose in affording the means of transporting the products of industry to the seaboard. Mr. Cole did not say that the St. Lawrence project is not feasible, although it was compared with that of the Merrimack. We do not suppose that Mr. Cole was talking against his convictions, but if he were a railroad magnate he could not talk more strongly against the use of inland waterways for transportation purposes.

It is nothing new for Mr. Cole to condemn such waterway projects as not likely to prove a paying investment. His statement is doubtless based upon existing conditions. It does not take into account the permanent benefits to be conferred upon the industries of the Merrimack valley and the array of new industries that would spring up along the banks of the Merrimack as a result of the advantages of cheap transportation to the seaboard afforded by the navigable river. The cost of the undertaking at present would be too high; but the advocates of this improvement want the whole question postponed without prejudice until construction costs are much lower. New Bedford and Fall River, two great mill cities, have the advantage of ocean freightage; but Lowell industries are at the mercy of the railroads except so far as they can offset it by motor trucks. From this they would be in a measure relieved if the Merrimack were navigable. On the St. Lawrence project Mr. Cole voices the contention of the organized railroad opposition, which is naturally subservient to railroad interests rather than those of New England. His conclusions on the Merrimack project seem to have been reached under equally prejudicial influences.

CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY

Secretary Hughes in an address before the University of Michigan pleaded for a new sense of civic responsibility in matters of international concern, claiming that much harm is done by the expressions of individuals or groups sometimes wholly unrepresentative, but which when reported abroad are usually accepted as the voice of public sentiment.

In regard to domestic relations he deplored the fact that under our form of government the members of the cabinet are not allowed to go before congress and discuss measures under consideration so that those who are entrusted with the responsibility of legislation might have accurate knowledge of the issues involved. In this respect, while he did not mention any particular government, he obviously favored the British system under which cabinet officials are members of parliament and may be called upon at any time to explain conditions in their respective departments. As this plan is often favorably commented upon it would not be surprising if ultimately an amendment to the constitution should be advocated in order to give the cabinet officials an opportunity to discuss measures before congress, even though they were not privileged to take part in the debates. Such an arrangement could do no harm and it might accomplish much good in affording congress a means of securing authentic information that would not otherwise be available. Here for example are Secretary Hughes and Secretary of War Weeks delivering public addresses, both in Michigan and yet directing their remarks chiefly at congress. If Secretary Weeks were privileged to address congress we venture to say he would not charge as he did that congress never was at such a low ebb as at present. He has stirred up the republican leaders to such an extent that some of them have suggested his removal; but President Harding, while he cannot relish such an attack upon congress, is not likely to do anything about it. He has troubles enough in hand without setting out to discipline his friend Weeks. As for Secretary Hughes, his main grievance seems to be that the treaties adopted at the Washington conference seem to be misunderstood, and he would gladly go before congress to explain them; but nobody except himself sees the necessity of such action.

IRISH ELECTION RETURNS

The returns of the Irish election indicate a predominance of public sentiment for the treaty. It is true, that the treaty was not submitted for adoption or rejection; but the voters were aware that one set of candidates favored the treaty and that another set opposed it. As a result they gave their support very generally to the pro-treaty candidates.

Previous to the election, Messrs. Collins and De Valera agreed upon a coalition ticket that, if elected, would have given the treaty party but a small majority; but the people did not like the arrangement and as a result, they voted for labor candidates and independents, most of whom are in favor of the treaty.

The result will be that while the republican party will have a reduced minority in the new parliament, it will be sufficient to maintain a healthy opposition without blocking the progress of business.

For better or worse, it appears that the people are for the treaty by a large majority. This may result in the speedy restoration of peace. The new parliament is to meet next month and after the thump of the various elements, it will be seen to what extent the members will exert themselves for establishing peace throughout the island.

It should be understood that the treaty is not yet in force and that the new parliament, like the old Dail Eireann, will be but a provisional government, preparatory to the adoption of the treaty under a new register at an election to be held in December next. After that will come the question of whether Ulster will join in and cast her lot with the other provinces in working for a united and prosperous Ireland. The decision upon the treaty will rest with the people and before the time for the election arrives, the voting list will be revised so as to allow all who are legally entitled to the franchise the privilege of voting. It looks as if the people themselves will now settle the question unless present indications are misleading. There will doubtless be some amendments in the constitution before it is adopted.

THE BONUS FIGHT

Senator David I. Walsh threw the republicans of the United States senate into a state of consternation on Tuesday when he submitted a motion to give the bonus precedence over the tariff. It was an ill-omened day for Senator McCumber, who had promised to support this motion but who was pulled into line under the crack of the party whip. As a result he was chastigated by Senator Walsh for having broken his word but he made several futile attempts to explain, every effort apparently serving only to place him more deeply in the mire. Finally he managed to say that in a poor pilot, who having set out on a definite course and finding rocks in his path, cannot steer into safe waters. He tried to get under cover; but his attitude was criticized alike by the democratic majority and the republican minority. The fight was fiercely waged and the republicans had a real reason to be proud of their stand by Senator Walsh. Finally the division showed that President Harding's appeal to sidetrack the bonus had its effect with the republicans as the vote stood 41 to 19 in favor of the bonus. But that did not end the conflict and another motion was made and carried, giving the bonus the right of way after the tariff. That was a partial victory for Senator Walsh. The fight may be renewed by other senators, but it will be useless to bring it up again as the republicans are now barked against it as a result of President Harding's protest.

MARCONI'S SEARCHLIGHT

Anything coming from Marconi in relation to radio progress must command instant attention. Now he announces that he has discovered a means of producing a powerful searchlight by which light can be transmitted by radio waves in one direction as to be of incalculable benefit to sea. He has even outlined how this searchlight can be used to penetrate a fog and thus let a befogged ship know her location.

Next to the ability to call for help when in distress, this new discovery is one of the utmost importance and one that will result in reducing the number of disasters at sea and, therefore, the loss of life.

This is but one of many now applications of the wireless which Mr. Marconi has under way as the result of a long series of experiments. He is the wizard of the wireless and when he speaks, the world is bound to listen. Edison has had his day of productive electric discovery; but it seems that the crown is passing to Marconi, who is rapidly developing the amazing wonders of wireless.

At last France has consented to enter the Hague conference on condition that all decisions reached will have to be approved by the home government. That is a safe reservation and it will relieve the French delegates at The Hague of a great deal of responsibility. The decision, however, has renewed the hope that something really worth while will be accomplished.

The man who enters into an arrangement with outside newspapers to blacken and defame Lowell, must have some ulterior and selfish purpose in doing so. But why he should set out to discredit Ruy. Atkinson's administration is not yet clear to the public mind. It may come out later, however.

SEEN AND HEARD

Most all of the new tariff duties are painful duties.

Money is different from people. Idle money doesn't talk.

The ex-kaiser's memoirs will be published in September. The melancholy days are coming.

A Thought

Hope is itself a species of happiness and perhaps the chief happiness which this world affords; but like all other pleasures, its excesses must be explained by pain; and expectations improperly indulged must end in disappointment.—Samuel Johnson.

Intelligent Dog

Johnson patted Jackson's dog on the head. "A nice little dog," he said, "but why don't you teach it some tricks?" Jackson was a man who lacked energy. "I've tried," he replied, "but the dog won't learn. 'Not much intelligence,'" quipped Johnson. "Too much," answered Jackson. "I can see by the expression on his face that the dog doesn't see any more sense in the tricks than I do."

Is That All?

After all sorts of hints, Johnny succeeded in getting a dinner from his mother, but he failed to thank her for it. Whereupon the mother, ashamed of her child's rudeness, remonstrated: "Johnny, you are awfully forgetful. What should you say when you get something?" "I can't tell," was Johnny's only reply. "You can't tell? Why Johnny, it's awful! What does mamma say when papa gives her money?" "Is that all?"

She Was In Doubt

Mrs. Newrich had taken the English major on a long leave, and she was not "to the major's home" and she and her daughter had set themselves out to impress the neighborhood. The village busybody wanted to find out all about them: "Where did you live before you came to the major's?" she asked Mrs. Newrich. "I was born in the major's home," she replied. "Really? How delightful! Then, of course, dear Mrs. Newrich, you know Monte Carlo?" Mrs. Newrich became flustered. "Do you know 'im, Mary?" she appealed to her daughter. "I'm sure I don't know. We met so many of these fellows."

But He Was Sick

Mr. Tomkins was waiting for Miss Smithers, who had not quite finished her toilet. Jimmy was sent down to entertain him. "Do you like tiffy?" asked Jimmy. "Very much," said Mr. Tomkins. "Here you are, then," said Jimmy, thrusting a rather sticky lump in his hand. "Thanks," said Mr. Tomkins, regarding it dubiously. He would rather have thrown it out of the window, but he did not want to make an enemy of Jimmy, so he swallowed it. "Like it?" said Jimmy. "Very much," was the reply. "Fido didn't like it to him twice, but he spit it out each time."

Today's Word

Today's word is reprisal. It's pronounced "rip-er-sal" with accent on the second syllable. It means—an act of retaliation, public or private; in international law it signifies a resort to force, short of war, to procure redress of grievances—especially a resort to retaliatory acts of nature of those "provoked" to take back the French having borrowed originally from the Latin, "repraesentare." It's used like this—"In some quarters it is urged that foreign ships be forbidden to bring intoxicants into American waters, even under seal, but fears are entertained that this would provoke reprisals against American shipping abroad."

As Others See Us

Miss Helen Fraser, returning to England, tells her English sisters that the American wife is sitting pretty on top of the world. "The American wife and mother's social position in the family life is as impressive as the glittering perfection of her home," says Miss Fraser. "She usually gets the best of it. Especially in smaller towns the women are fond of and even tower in their homes. Many of them do all their own housework in the morning and wear a beautiful French gown in the afternoon. In the social structure of America the women's organizations run on parallel lines, but never meet. We have more unity here in England in the big things of life, and the sexes work in conjunction more. In politics, too, their position is not so good as ours, principally because too few of the best men go in for political life. Nothing like feeling ourselves as others see us, especially if they are from 'tiffyland.'"

Where's Cometh My Help?

From the book, "A Lonely Place," Published by Houghton, Mifflin

Let me sleep among the shadows of a night in the murmur of the pines and sliding streams. Where the long day lingers by like a cloud across the sky—And the moon-drenched night is musical with dreams.

Lay me down within a canyon of the mountains far away. In a valley filled with dim and rosy light. Where the flashing rivers play out across the golden day—And a noise of many waters brims the night.

Let me lie where glowing rivers ramble down thristled glades Under bending alders gurgling and cool. Where they gather in the shade To the dazzling, sheer cascade—Where they plunge and sweep within the pebbled pool.

All the wisdom, all the beauty I have lived for UPWADE, Came upon me by the rote of high-lip rills.

I have seen God walking there In the solemn, soundless air—When the morning wakened wonder in the hills.

I am what the mountains made me of—the green and gold and gray Of the twilight and the moonlight and the foam. Mighty mothers far away, Ye who washed my soul in spray—I am coming, mother mountains, coming home.

When I draw my dreams about me, Where my soul forgets to soar and learn to plod, I shall go back to you again To the Kingdom of the rain—To the blue purities of Heaven, nearer God.

—By ODELL SHEPARD.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

It has been noted during the recent damp, cold weather that the electric cars for Lakeview, used nightly by hundreds of local people, have been sent out from the city with practically all windows open and no way for the riding public to keep out the cold save by pulling down the curtains and holding them down, thus shutting off all view of the landscape. These cars are equipped with windows which can be closed or adjusted only by those who are familiar with their mechanism, and even then with considerable difficulty. The same condition has prevailed to a somewhat less extent on other lines, but the shorter days and less crowded conditions have not exposed so many to colds and wetting. I think it a useful suggestion to the street railway officials that they take notice of this, and have the men at the car barns regulate the ventilation of the cars with regard to the windows before they are taken from the barns. With young folks leaving a dance hall and sitting for nearly a half-hour in a cold, draughty car with nothing but summer clothing to protect them, what is probably the best paying line leaving Merrimack square is rather likely to fall into disfavor.

The receipt by so many local young men of law degrees at the June commencement this year seems likely to result in a surplus of legal talent in this city. But one of them, so far as I know, has signified his intentions of carrying his talents to another, and perhaps a more fertile field. This situation is nothing new, however, and in the end a solution has been found by practically every legal graduate, and it is to be hoped that this year's recruits to the profession will be equally successful in finding openings. No doubt many of them have had something in view for a long time, principally in the line of entering the offices of established attorneys in somewhat minor capacities. Others have already acquired reputations for shrewdness and ability which will tend to give them the needed assistance in getting an independent start. Here, good luck to them all, anyway, and may they all enjoy the fruits of their hard study in qualifying for the legal profession.

The announcement in yesterday's Sun that Rev. Francis J. Keenan is to leave St. Patrick's parish to go to St. John's seminary in Brighton where he will join the teaching staff, has caused profound regret not only in St. Patrick's parish, but among the young clergyman's many friends in other parishes. Rev. F. J. Keenan is a highly gifted speaker and a profound student; yet one of the most humble and unassuming of men. During his three years' service in St. Patrick's parish, he has endeared himself to young and old by his zeal for the welfare of the people and his readiness at all times to work for the welfare of those entrusted to his charge and in the conscientious discharge of every duty.

EXAMINATION FOR FIELD SERVICE

A stenographer and typist examination for the field service, that is, for positions outside Washington, D. C., will be held in this city June 24. Vacancies in the United States Veterans' bureau, in the office of the federal prohibition director, in the customs, internal revenue, and all other branches of the government service in New England, will be filled as a result of this examination. Eligibles will be first certified who were examined at the place where a vacancy exists, and in the event there are not enough eligibles those examined at the nearest place to which a vacancy exists will be called. Several appointments have been made in the United States Veterans' bureau and in the office of the federal prohibition director and it is expected that many more will be made. This examination is open to both men and women who are citizens of the United States, age 18 to 70 or date of examination. Persons interested should at once apply for information to the secretary of the board of civil service examiners at any first or second class postoffice, or the district secretary, custom house tower, Boston. Applications must be filed with the district secretary in time to arrange for the examination.

MR. BERNSTEIN WILL VISIT EUROPE

Mr. George Bernstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Bernstein, of 317 Westford street, is leaving for Europe on Saturday. He will spend the summer traveling in England, France, Germany, Italy, and Italy. Mr. Bernstein was graduated from Lowell high school a Carney medal scholar in 1918. He received his A. B. degree from Harvard in 1921 with distinction in the general field and with the special "cum laude" in mathematics. The last year he was at the Harvard law school and taught mathematics both at Harvard and Radcliffe. Mr. and Mrs. I. Bernstein will accompany George to New York where he sails on the famous steamship, the Olympic. In September Mr. Bernstein will return to continue his study of law at the Harvard law school.

TEXAS COMPANY GETS NAVY CONTRACT

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Texas company, producers of Texaco Petroleum products, has just been awarded by the navy department the contract for furnishing motor and aviation gasoline to the United States navy for a 1 naval vessels and navy yards at all points along the Atlantic and Gulf coast seaboard, from Maine to Texas. The contract is such that intricate and varied deliveries are required, including harbor barge, tank car, tank wagon, drums, cans and casks.

The ports of delivery include Portland, Boston, Providence, New York, Charleston, Savannah, Jacksonville, New Orleans, and many others. The Texas company's great facilities for distribution make it possible for it to comply with the navy's requirements for delivery.

HARVARD CONFERRED 13 HONORARY DEGREES

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—Harvard university conferred 13 honorary degrees and 1401 regular degrees at its 256th commencement exercises today. The honorary degrees were as follows:

Doctor of Laws—Oscar Wilder, Underwood, United States senator from Alabama; John Weston Allen, attorney general of Massachusetts; John George Milburn, New York city attorney; Frederick Joseph Timmon, attorney first American ambassador to Argentina; Dr. Walter Belknap James, New York city; William Proctor Gould Harding, governor of the federal reserve board; Charles Richard Crane, New York city.

Doctor of Letters—Judge Robert Grant, Boston, author and former president of the Harvard board of overseers.

Doctor of Divinity—Rev. Henry Sloan Coffin, New York city. Master of Arts—John Alden Carpenter, Chicago, composer; Charles Howard Strong, New York city, attorney; Ellis Loring Dresel, recent American representative at Berlin; William Phillips, under-secretary of state.

The commencement exercises, held this morning in Harvard yard, were followed this afternoon by the alumni luncheon. During the day balloting was in progress for five places on the university board of overseers and three places on the directorate of the Alumni Association.

The candidates for the board of overseers were as follows:

Dr. William S. Thayer, Baltimore; Charles A. Conlidge, Boston; William K. Nelson, Northampton, president of Smith college; Samuel S. Drury, Concord, N. H., headmaster of St. Paul's school; Herbert Parker, Lancaster, former attorney general; Roger Pierce, Milton; Joseph Lee, Milton; Henry James, New York; Jeremiah Smith, Cambridge, and R. Loring Young, speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives.

AGREE ON 12,000 OFFICERS FOR ARMY

WASHINGTON, June 22.—House and senate conferees on the army appropriation bill agreed late yesterday on a maximum of 12,000 officers as the permanent strength for the army for the next 12 months. The house had provided for only 11,000 while the senate amended the bill to provide an average of 12,500 for the coming year.

The agreement leaves only one question of importance to be decided, the committees already having settled on an estimated strength of 125,000 for the year.

Methods of reducing the number of officers for the present number of more than 13,000 to that prescribed by the bill have proved a stumbling block and it was said after today's meeting that in all probability the senate amendment covering the reduction would have to be rewritten before it would be acceptable to the house delegation. Several members of the conference felt, however, that another day or two would result in an agreement on that feature.

Y. M. C. A. DEBATING TEAM VICTORIOUS

The Lowell Y.M.C.A. debating team was victorious in its debate with the Lynn team held in the Shaw city hall. The Lowell team was awarded points for better English and better presentation while, according to the judges, the Lynn team presented the better arguments. The subject was: "Resolved, that unions of labor are a help and not a detriment." The Lowell team, consisting of Frank E. Murphy and L. M. Cushman, upheld the affirmative, while the Lynn team, composed of Edward McKeechule and Dr. C. O. Bixby, took the negative. The judges were representatives of Lynn, Lowell and Salem Rotary clubs. W. Blake Irvine represented the Lowell club. A return debate will be held in the fall.

HIBERNIAN OUTING AT NEWTON HIGHLANDS

What promises to be a real climax in Hibernian circles will be the big outing arranged for next Sunday at the Working Boys' home, Newton Highlands, when the divisions of all the towns and cities of Middlesex county will meet.

The Charles river runs through the sixty acres comprising the grounds of the home, and a general good time is anticipated. A fine musical program has been arranged, and speakers of note will address the combined divisions and their guests.

The home is conducted by the Xavarian brothers, a former Lowell boy being in charge. The Lowell Hibernians have made arrangements to go over the road in trucks.

DEFEAT FOR THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT

LONDON, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The government yesterday met with defeat in the house of lords on its Palestine mandate policy. By a vote of 50 to 29 the house declared for a postponement of the Palestine mandate in order to bring it into relations with the government's pledges to the people of Palestine.

The defeat is not expected to involve the resignation of the government, but it is considered as damaging incidents in both houses of parliament. It probably will have some influence, however, on the government's subsequent policy.

Berton Bralley's Daily Poem

DO IT NOW

Every year I chant this ballad:
"Swat the fly!"
It's advice that's always valid,
Swat the fly!
When borne in on summer breezes,
He alights on cakes and cheeses,
Swat the fly!

Do it now and do not wait to
Swat the fly!
Though it never is too late to
Swat the fly!
When he buzzes, when he's quiet,
Grab the swatter and apply it;
Get him quick, you ought to try it,
Swat the fly!

When you have the chance don't fail to
Swat the fly!
Swat the female and the male, too;
Swat the fly!
Poison him with deadly potions,
Capture him with sticky lotions,
Also, with unerring motions,
Swat the fly!

Now that summer is before us,
Swat the fly!
While we all repeat in chorus,
"Swat the fly!"
What I shout to you again is,
"Swat the fly, for he's a menace;
Till the last one's name is Dennis,
Swat the fly!"

15,000 Women Meet This Month To Clean Movies, War on Billboards

MRS. IRA COUCH WOOD, of Chicago, chairman of division of child welfare, department of public welfare of General Federation of Women's Clubs, who will start a campaign at the convention for child welfare.

MRS. F. E. HUMPHREY, of Reno, Nev., chairman of division of industrial and social conditions, department of public welfare, a convention speaker on betterment of women and children in industry.

MRS. THOMAS G. WINTER, of Minneapolis, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, candidate for re-election without opposition. She was a woman member of the advisory committee to the Washington arms conference.

MRS. WALTER McNABB MILLER, of St. Louis, chairman of public health committee of General Federation of Women's Clubs, who will launch a national campaign at the convention for "A high moral standard—the same for men as for women."

MRS. JAMES E. HAYS, of Montezuma, Ga., president of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, president of the Southeastern Council and candidate for national recording secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

MRS. PERCY V. PENNYBACKER, of Austin, Tex., past president of General Federation of Women's Clubs; president Chautauqua Women's Club, and official convention hostess; fighting to establish July 1 as National Citizenship Day.

(By N.E.A. Service)
CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., June 22.—Very problem of life worth while talking about will be wrestled with and discussed when some 15,000 women meet here June 20 to 26 for the annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Many club members will bring club husbands and club families along. They will represent 2,000,000 women scattered through every state. The fights stand out as likely to be the liveliest of the long schedule of events—movie reform and war on billboards.

The battle for clean movies started when club women protested against a showing of "Fatty" Arbuckle's. Now the fight is going a step further, with censorship a matter of debate. The guest of honor June 23 and 24 will be "Upbuilding the Nation's Life Through Motion Pictures." Producers and exhibitors will tell the women how they can help, and the climax probably will come with a speech by Mrs. Eli S. Hosmer, member of the New York state censorship commission.

A war on billboards is to be launched by Mrs. Rose V. G. Berry, of Berkeley, Cal., national fine arts chairman. A merry row is expected, for advertising and poster concerns will have representatives here to oppose the adoption of a resolution in favor of national legislation against billboard advertising.

Politics will be at low ebb at this convention, for candidates for office have little or no opposition. Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, is a candidate for re-election as president following a two-year administration in which 150 new clubs have joined the federation, a contract let for the $100,000 headquarters in Washington, and cumbersome departments of federation work have been simplified.

The convention will open June 20 with meetings of the executive committee, the board of directors and the presidents of the 50 state federations (including Alaska and the District of Columbia). At the formal opening the following morning Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, former national president and, as president of the Chautauqua Women's Club, the official hostess of the convention, will deliver the address of welcome.

Speeches and discussion during the ten days will touch such subjects as international relations, conservation of natural resources, art, music, highways, citizenship, home economics, education, literature, forestry, disarmament, soldier rehabilitation, public welfare, prison labor, social hygiene, child welfare, waterways, bird protection, civil service and workmen's compensation.

Other candidates for office besides Mrs. Winter are Mrs. W. S. Jennings of Victoria, for first vice-president; Mrs. George Plummer of Chicago, for second vice-president; Mrs. James E. Hays of Georgia, for recording secretary; Mrs. Wallace T. Perham of Montana, for corresponding secretary; Mrs. Florence Floore of Texas, for treasurer.

An international program will be carried out in support of Mrs. Winter's plan for forming a world federation of women for the promotion and maintenance of permanent peace. Foreign countries will be represented, including England, France, Italy, Russia, Norway, China, New Zealand, Canada, Jugo-Slavia and Pan-American nations.

NEW DIRECTORS NAMED
PORTLAND, Me., June 22.—Samuel W. Philbrick of Skowhegan and Samuel Stewart of Auburn were added to the directorate of the Maine Central railroad yesterday.

Edward W. Wheeler of Brunswick recently was a director in addition to his new duties as general counsel of the road, and another director will be named, probably next month. The board is being increased from 11 to 15 in conformity with recommendations in the report at the annual meeting of the stockholders of a special committee which investigated railroad problems.

TO AMEND TARIFF BILL

Sen. Frelinghuysen Proposes Machinery for a Scientific Tariff

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Machinery for the construction of what was described as a scientific tariff based on the differences between conversion costs in this country and abroad, would be set up under an amendment to the pending tariff bill, proposed yesterday by Senator Frelinghuysen, republican, New Jersey, who as a member of the finance committee, helped draft the present measure.

Under the terms of the amendment, the tariff commission would be enlarged to ten members and would be required to recommend to congress not later than Dec. 1, 1923, and each six months thereafter, rates of duty necessary to equalize the differences in conversion costs as disclosed by investigations which it would make.

The members of the commission would be appointed by the president to hold office for life and receive salaries of $12,000 each, the same as cabinet officers. Not more than five of them could be of the same political party and none of them could engage actively in any private business, trade or profession.

Explaining his amendment, Senator Frelinghuysen declared the present tariff making system was both "illogical and unscientific." Describing that system as "a complication of the statements of manufacturers, importers, merchants and farmers and of inconclusive data collected by government agencies inadequately equipped," the senator said the public mind was thoroughly awake to "the abuses of this system and to the necessity for reform."

Assessing that in offering his amendment he was not apologizing for the present tariff bill, Senator Frelinghuysen declared that to his mind that measure was as good as could be prepared under the circumstances and should be passed as quickly as possible in order to remove from business the uncertainty that now existed.

Easy For Thin People to Put On Flesh and Gain Weight

In one month's time EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES puts on several pounds of solid red blooded flesh and changes your weak, run-down, nervous tired body into a strong, vigorous, robust one or money back.

Of course medical men are surprised and many are still unbelievers, but the identical to every up-to-date pharmacist that Evans' Triple Phosphates will produce flesh without violent methods, face creams, daily massage, or costly surgery.

In order to assimilate the nourishing food thin people daily take into the body and turn it into healthy, red blooded, corpulent, the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape, and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh.

Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy, stay-there flesh, and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty, nervous digestion. One month's treatment is guaranteed to increase your weight at least several pounds, and ten days make you feel like a new being full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things.

Fred Howard and all good druggists have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it, or money refunded.

Even though Evans' Triple Phosphates works wonders in all cases of nervous digestive and blood troubles, don't take it unless you really desire to put on flesh and gain weight.—Adv.

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no sight so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance.

When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Children Cry For Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Do the People Know?

Do you know why you are asked to call for Fletcher's Castoria when you want a child's remedy? why you must insist on Fletcher's? For years we have been explaining how the popularity of Fletcher's Castoria has brought out innumerable imitations, substitutes and counterfeits.

To protect the babies: to shield the homes and in defense of generations to come we appeal to the better judgment of parents to insist on having Fletcher's Castoria when in need of a child's medicine. And remember above all things that a child's medicine is made for children—a medicine prepared for grown-ups is not interchangeable. A baby's food for a baby. And a baby's medicine is just as essential for the baby.

The Castoria Recipe (it's on every wrapper) has been prepared by the same hands in the same manner for so many years that the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and perfection in the product are synonymous.

JEWISH CONFERENCE ELECTS OFFICERS

PROVIDENCE, June 22.—Election of officers and the adoption of a number of resolutions yesterday afternoon practically closed the national conference of Jewish social service, which has been in session since Sunday evening. A short meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon at Touris Synagogue, Newport, during an outing trip to that city.

Miss Frances Tausig of New York was elected president of the conference for the ensuing year. Other officers chosen were:

Vice president, Maurice B. Hexter of Boston; Philip Seman of Chicago and Miss Blanche Hart of Detroit; treasurer, Felix Vorenberg of Boston; secretary, Samuel A. Goldsmith of New York; assistant secretaries, Hyman Kaplan of Cincinnati, Mrs. Gertrude Dubinsky of Philadelphia, Leon Volmer of New Orleans and Samuel Goldhamer of Cleveland.

Members of the executive committee were elected for a three-year term as follows: Joseph Scholant of Columbus, O., to succeed Bernard Greenfelder of St. Louis; Harry Glickman of New York, to succeed E. Irving Lipstitch of San Francisco; M. J. Karpf of Chicago, to succeed the late Miss Minnie F. Low of Chicago, and Solomon Lowenstein of New York, to succeed Alfred C. Meyer of Chicago. Mr. Lowenstein retired as president for the past year.

Announcement was made that the next conference would be held, as usual, in the same city as that determined upon by the national conference of social work, which is expected to choose Washington next year as the location of its 50th anniversary convention.

BLACKHAND THREATS FOR ATTY. GENERAL

SPRINGFIELD, June 22.—In addressing the Kiwanis club yesterday afternoon at Hotel Kimball, Senator George D. Chamberlain said that threats had been made by blackhanders to get State Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen. One of the letters said in part:

"Your blood will be flowing in the streets of Boston, Joe Allen, when we get through with you."

This matter was brought out by the speaker in paying a tribute to the commissioner for his work.

HONORARY DEGREES AT RATES
LEWISTON, Me., June 21.—Four honorary degrees and 106 bachelor of arts and science degrees were granted by the president and trustees at the 55th commencement at Bates college today.

Upon John P. Stevens now in Manchuria president of the Inter-Allied Technical Board in charge of supervision of the Siberian and Chinese Eastern Railways, the degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred (in absentia.)

Mrs. Althea G. Quimby of Turner president of the Maine Women's Christian Temperance Union, was granted the degree of Master of Arts, William B. Stevens bishop-conductor of Los Angeles was given the degree of doctor of divinity. He is a Bates graduate and known as one of the youngest bishops of the Episcopalian church.

Loring W. Messer for 35 years secretary of the Chicago Y.M.C.A. received the degree of Doctor of Laws.

HIS 200TH RECITAL

With six vocal and instrumental pupils participating, Edward Everett Adams gave his 200th recital last night in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street, and a splendid program was presented, as at previous events of like nature. Confined almost exclusively to the work of the old masters, the many numbers were a delight to all present. The vocal numbers were given by B.

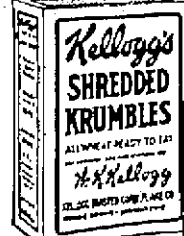

Frances Foster and E. Irene Potter, and the piano selections by Catherine M. Walsh, Mary L. Willey, Araxie P. Kludjian and Henry W. A. Miller.

SURPRISE SHOWER

In honor of her approaching marriage a surprise shower was tendered recently by 30 of her shopmates to Miss Irene Handley in the home of Mrs. Catherine Flynn, 3 State street. Among the many presents was a Japanese table which came from the party as a whole. An entertainment which consisted of piano selections, dancing, vocal solos and unity singing helped in making the party a pleasant one. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

KRUMBLES

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

While there is a lull in local boxing activities, several out-of-town shows are creating considerable interest among local followers of the game.

The bout between Jack Malone and Mickey Walker, which was originally booked by the Arena A.C. of Boston for last Monday night, but which was postponed for a week, is attracting much attention. It is one of the biggest bouts attempted in this vicinity in some time. Both are noted performers and are looked upon as two of the best men of their weight in the country. The additional week will give the boxers a better opportunity to train and it is expected the bout will prove a hummer.

The Unity club of Revere is to stage an open-air show at the Revere beach cycle track on Friday night and it has arranged a very high class card. The main event, George Ward, of Elizabeth, N. J., the latest welterweight sensation, will meet Nate Siegel of Revere in a 10-round number.

"Hammer" Kelly of South Boston and Nixie Searies of East Boston will clash in another 10-rounder. These boys are noted for their hitting abilities and a knockout is expected to result in their number.

Forke Flynn and Tom Cotter will meet in another number, and Pat McCarthy, the popular Boston light heavyweight, will tackle Jack McClelland of Somerville.

Weather permitting, the G.Y.M.L. track meet, scheduled for next Saturday afternoon on the South common, gives promise of being one of the big.

great events in the history of the well known organization. The G.Y.M.L. has conducted many track meets, basketball games, baseball contests, etc., and the indications are that the coming event will mark an epoch in lyceum athletics. The committee in charge, headed by George Ward, has left no stone unturned to bring about a banner event. A list of valuable prizes has been collected, a long and splendid list of entries secured, and a capable and efficient corps of judges, etc., selected. All that remains to make a "perfect day" is good atmospheric conditions.

Ray Bridgeford, of the Highland Daylights, who, according to the latest Twilight league averages, is setting the pace, was runner-up for the league batting honors last season. Bridgeford has always been a good hitter. His ability to elude the pail was the big reason for him obtaining the pitcher's mound for the outfield. Ray is a splendid southpaw pitcher, but managers figure he is more valuable in every game as a hitter. He has developed into a very classy outfielder, a good base runner and a handy man to have around any old ball club. He has appeared in nine games, going to the bat 23 times, and has secured 14 hits for an average of .482.

Ray Foye, manager of the Centralvilles, follows Bridgeford with a mark of .454, while McSorley, also of Centralvilles, and for several weeks the league leader, comes third with .444. Gleason, the hard hitting Broadway club outfielder, ranks next, with .437. Foye, former manager of the South Bucks, but now playing fine ball for the Knights of Columbus fifth.

How to Play Baseball

Scott Says to Keep Your Eye on the Ball and Time it for Big Round

BY EVERETT SCOTT
New York Shortstop
If asked to give the two most important features of shortstop play, I would say, keep on your toes and always get the ball on the big bound. Never be caught flat-footed. It is best to figure out what you will do with the ball as it comes to you. The shortstop must be ever alert, physically as well as mentally. It is an easy matter to field a ground ball if you can play it on the big bound. The shortstop must figure the bounds the ball will take before it reaches him and play it accordingly.

Get Jump on Ball
Of course there are some batted balls that it is utterly impossible to get on the big bound. Balls that are hit on a line and land two or three feet in front of you are such a type. You must take them as they come, play them as you can, and get the jump on the ball. Always be in a position to throw without waiting any time. Figure a batter's speed and play him accordingly. Deep on the slow men, close in on the fast boys. Always try to get the ball away in time so that it will not be necessary to hurry your throw. A study of each batter enables a shortstop to get many a ball by shifting a few feet to suit the peculiarities of the batter.

Don't Tip Batter
Watch for the catcher's sign and then be ready to move in the direction you believe the ball will be hit. But never shift after the catcher gives the sign, for if you do, the batter will see you and score the man.

The shortstop must pay close attention to the score to get the most out of his play. For instance, with two out and a runner on second, you must play deeper so as to be able to knock down balls that would ordinarily go through and score the man. The shortstop and second baseman always must have an agreement as to who will cover. This is done through some sign. These are a few of the many things a shortstop must do, but not even that of all in to keep on one's toes and get the ball on the big bound.

YANKS GAIN ON THE BROWNS

Win Over Cleveland While St. Louis Team Loses to the Philadelphia Athletics

Brooklyn Beats Pittsburgh 15 to 14 and Tumbles Pirates From Third Place

NEW YORK, June 22.—Because of Shawkey's effective hurling, Jurgens' awakened Yankees yesterday defeated Cleveland, 7-3, and by virtue of the league leading Browns, 5-0 loss to the Mackmen, advanced today a full game toward the top of the ladder. They were one and a half games behind the St. Louisans today.

Ed Rommell's curve offerings were elusive of the Brown batsmen's eyes and St. Louis gathered but four singles, while Wright and Danforth were touched for 11 swats and a quintet of runs. George Alar escaped with another stolen base, his 25th of the season. The Red Sox in two innings counted nine runs, enough to defeat Cobb's advancing Tigers, 9-3. Washington lost to the White Sox, Brooklyn in a game of many hits, errors and pitcher engaged in a nose-and-nose contest with the Pittsburghers beat them 15-14 and tumbled them from the third position in the National league. The Pirates outbit the Superbas, 25 to 19, but they made six errors, most of which contributed to their opponents' run column. The Pirates used five moundmen, and their ace, Adams, was credited with the loss. Five of the Superbas' hurling staff were employed. In a six inning affair with the Cubs, got three home runs, but lost, 4 to 3. Pain prevented the Giants-Cardinals and the Red-Braves contests.

RUTH TAKES PLEDGE TO "KEEP OFF" UMPIRES

CLEVELAND, June 22. (By A. P.)—Babe Ruth has been banished from the game for the last time for arguing with an umpire, especially over a decision against another player, the champion home run slugger declared yesterday.

Before yesterday's game between New York and Cleveland Ruth walked into the umpires' room at Dunn field and made that announcement to Umpires Bill Dineen and Dick Nallin. Ruth is under suspension for five days—three for wrangling with Umpire Dineen over a decision in Monday's game and two for an argument with Nallin Wednesday over his first suspension.

When he entered the umpires' room yesterday Ruth was not in the least contrite, nor was he excited. If anything, he appeared to be repentant, but he offered no apology. "Bill, do you think I am getting a square deal?" he asked Dineen, as he sat on a table. He had just finished practicing with his team.

"I have nothing to do with that at all," Dineen replied. "When a fellow is down and out, it seems to be a case of holding him down," Ruth said. "Well, you can bet the last time I ever will be suspended by wrangling with an umpire. In the future I will keep out of the arguments, especially if they involve another player."

"I do not regret being out of the game because of the money it costs me. I really don't need the money. I do love to play baseball. For that reason it hurts when I can't get into the game."

"Another thing that hurts is the criticism some persons are saying that I welcome suspensions because it gives me an alibi for not equaling my home-run record of last year. That is ridiculous, as I realize that that is impossible. Others claim I have a swollen head. My friends know different."

"I want to be there every minute because I love to play baseball."

Says "Jess" Only Man Who Has Chance Against Jack

LATEST SHOT OF "PA" DEMPSEY AND JACK'S BROTHER, JOHNNY

(By N.E.A. Service)
LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Dempsey fears Willard. Admits it! But wait a minute—we're talking about "Pa" Dempsey, father of the champ, Jack wasn't at hand to say anything.

"Willard is the only man in the world who has a chance with Jack, in my opinion," conceded the sire of the mid-king, caught in a languid mood.

"I was sure surprised to see my boy bring him down at Toledo. But even after seeing that, I will always be nervous if he signs to meet Jess."

"Pa" Never Nervous
It takes a good deal to make "Pa" Dempsey nervous about his celebrated son, and his other boys, for he has urged them to take under all sorts of handicap since they were kids.

"I bought gloves for the lads and let them go at it in the back yard,"

HOLY CROSS STAR NOT FOR MAJORS

BOSTON, June 22.—In spite of many advantageous offers from major league clubs, Owen Carroll, the unbeaten pitcher of the Holy Cross team, will not enter professional baseball. New York, Detroit and Philadelphia have made bids for his services, but Carroll, who was developed from an outfielder into a pitcher by a New Jersey priest, a former Holy Cross player, states that the big league is not for him. He intends to enter the priesthood, but as he is only a freshman the big league scouts are hoping that he changes his mind before he gets his degree.

AMATEUR BASEBALL
Next Sunday at 2:30 o'clock on the South common the Congress A.C. and the Meritmen will meet in a game. The congress players are requested to report at 1:45 o'clock.

The St. Josephs and Whites will meet Sunday on the South common at 2 o'clock. The St. Josephs insist that they will not play the game if the Whites will play above the 17 year old age limit.

The North Ends will play the Bunting A.A. on the North common Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

BIG SCOTCH DAY
Lawrence Caledonian Club Will Hold Its Annual Field Day at Juniper Park, Methuen, Saturday Afternoon

The annual field day of the Lawrence Caledonian club will be held at Juniper park, Methuen, on Saturday afternoon, June 24th, at 2 o'clock. One of the big features will be a Highland dancing competition, open to adults or juveniles, with a prize list which will make it worth while for all competitors. A special stage is being erected which will give full view of the competition to the centre field. A splendid program of sports has been arranged and upwards of $200 in prizes will be awarded for racing, jumping, tug-of-war, quoiting, etc. During the afternoon and evening Gleedhill's orchestra will be in attendance to provide for free dancing in the large pavilion.

Five Men Have Tried To Fill Burns' Shoes With No Success

BY BILLY EVANS
What ails the New York Giants?
Perhaps that is a rather peculiar question to ask about a club that is leading the National league race by a comfortable margin.
However, there is no getting away from the fact that the showing of the Giants to date has been considerable of a disappointment.
When I saw the Giants play the Yankees in the World Series last fall McGraw's club made a great impression on me. It looked up as a truly great ball club.
During the winter McGraw made a trade for Heinie Groh, one of the greatest third sackers of all time. In 1921 the Giants, with Frisch at first, Bancroft at short, Rawlings at second and Kelly at first, had a great field.
The addition of Groh, with the shifting of Frisch to second and with Rawlings in reserve, certainly gave New York an inner defense to rave about. It was strengthened 25 per cent.

In the World Series I saw McGraw's pitchers at their best. They certainly looked great. Some National league players with whom I talked at the time said some of the boys were stepping a little faster than their regular rate.
Groh's Strength
Certainly the addition of Groh seemed to have greatly strengthened the club. Taking that into consideration the Giants seemed to me to outclass the rest of the National league field. I really thought that by September 1, or perhaps earlier New York would have the National league pennant tucked away in camp. I was wrong.
Possibly the Giants will come through that strong. At the Polo grounds the club has played good ball.

but on the road it has been just no-no.
During the past month I have talked with a number of National league players and umpires about the Giants. If you can believe them the failure of the Giants to distance the rest of the field is due to the loss of George Burns. Any time you ask what ails the Giants they reply it is always the same.
"They miss old George Burns."
The other day I was talking with a prominent National league star and he remarked to me:
"We have beaten the Giants at least four games that would have gone against us with Burns playing center field for the Giants."
The Value of Burns
"The very fact that Shinnery, Cunningham, Home, Brown and now old Casey Stengel have tried to fill the bill is proof of Burns' great value to the club."
His absence has cost the Giants four games against us, so it is reasonable to suppose similar conditions have existed against other teams.
Heine Groh certainly added a punch to the infield. To get him, however, it was necessary to put a big hole in the outfield.
So, perhaps, after all, it is the absence of George Burns that ails the Giants.

CANNOT BAR CHAMPIONS

Head of Boxing Association
Says N. Y. Commission
Overstepping Power

TORONTO, June 22.—The Toronto athletic commission has denied that it endorses the action of the New York state athletic commission in depriving Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Wilson, respectively, of their titles of featherweight and middleweight pugilistic champions. This telegram was sent to the New York state commission:
"Statement that Canada backs action of New York state commission in depriving Wilson and Kilbane of their championships is not correct. Ontario commission is quite satisfied that some such action should be taken, but is of the opinion that it should be done, not by one state commission but through a national association representing many states."
Overstepping Its Power
LANSING, Mich., June 22.—The New York boxing commission is overstepping its powers in refusing to recognize "champions" who are who have failed to accept challenges within a reasonable time in the opinion of E. A. MacCauley, chairman of the rules committee of the National Boxing association. MacCauley declared, is the only organization empowered tooust champions for refusing matches.
MacCauley is secretary of the Michigan boxing commission.

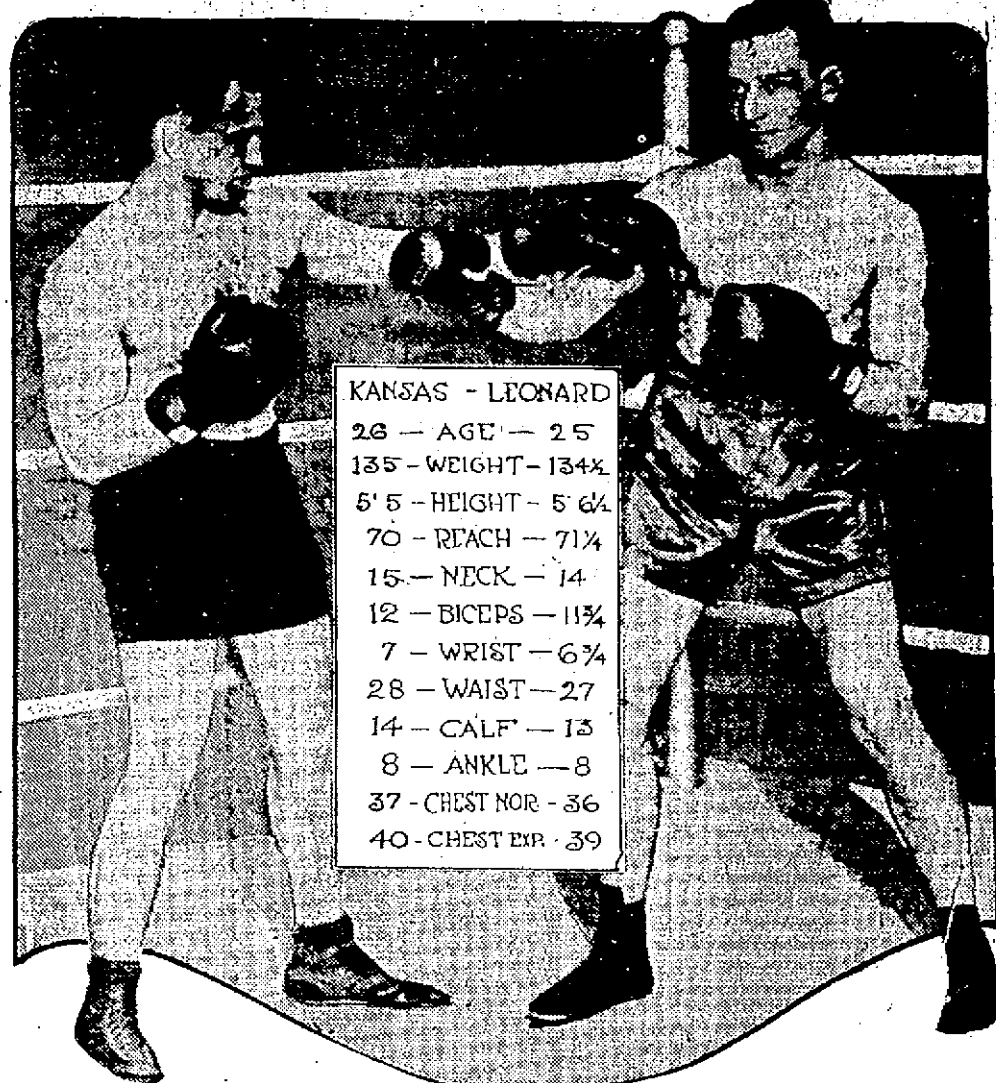

BOB JOHNSON HAS FINE WRESTLING RECORD

Bob Johnson, the local wrestler who started in 1905, and who is regarded as one of the best men of his weight in this section, is one of the most enthusiastic boosters of the strenuous sport in this vicinity. His record is a very impressive one, embracing bouts with many prominent wrestlers throughout New England. When asked to give an account of his activities, Bob reluctantly said: "As a complete record of my bouts would require many columns, I will give what I think are the most important. I started wrestling in 1905 and continued toppling 'em and being toppled until 1911. Then I laid off until 1913. I resumed activities for one year and again took a rest. In 1915 I took up boxing and continued at this sport for a time and finding that I preferred wrestling I abandoned the glove game and remained in retirement until 1918. Since that time I have been wrestling the mat sport. While I have been beaten, my defeats have been comparatively few. I have also instructed about 300 in the art of wrestling. I am 28 years old now. My first public match was when I was 14." Continuing, Johnson said: "I won over Joe True, Bud Wild, Bill Sweet, Tom Butler, Art Woodbury, Fremo McNeil and Young Mansfield. During 1909 I won over Paul H. Hooton, Gilson, Karl Keniston and Bob Eastman. I lost to Oscar Eastman. In 1910 I beat George E. Evans, Charles Blacket, Kid McKee, Shamus O'Brien, Don Nash, Fred Willis and Steve Caswell. In 1911 I beat Frank Lashway, Charles Rogers, George Dondal, Ed Doe, Harry Johnson, Dudley Sargent, Paul Wood, Joe Daley, Ashly Wood, George Adams and Kid Chambers. I skipped wrestling for two years and in 1913 I won over Kid Lupien, Paul Kent, Ed Steel, Fred Steer, Paul Corne, Stanley Morse, Phil Fraser, Jim Laid, Joe Tabor, Bern Pembroke, Al Altney, E. Calaghan, Ed Sharnhorn, Sam Anderson, Young Burnhardt and Arthur Reed. In 1914 I won over Norman De Artheney, Red Snow, Franz Higgenson, Phil Blodgett, George Nelson, Julian Gale, Dan Spiller and George Ruck. I laid off from 1914 till 1918, when I resumed wrestling. In 1918 I defeated Pete Lepus, Jim Goodell, Phil Shannon, Jim Prokes and Ed Lupine. I lost to Jim Prokes and George Reynolds. I got a draw with Bill Rudy. In 1919 I got a draw with George Reynolds and Gus Graham. I won over Peter Sturgis, Joe Bias and Carrol Pingree. I lost to Harry Mammas. In 1920 I won over George Reynolds, Gus Graham, John Doe and a draw with Bill Rudy and Kid Derosiers and lost to Joe Shimkus and Jim Brown. In 1921 I beat James Pappas, Al Lindstrom, Mike James, Luke Chak, Bill McDonald, Bill Rudy, Bill Laurie. Got draws with Charles Muto, Peter Sturgis and Ted Apostolos and lost to Bill Rudy. In 1922 I beat Luke Chak, Bill Rudy, Curley Shearin, Ted Apostolos, Arthur Curtin, Arthur Davis and Joe Moran. I lost to Cyclone Burns and Joe Martin. I've wrestled in 302 other matches, out of which I lost six. The first time I wrestled under the name of Bob Johnson was in 1920. The last time I started wrestling I took my own name and am proud to be in the greatest game of them all."

Billy Evans Says:

"Babe" Ruth has given up any hopes that he may have had of breaking his 1921 record of 59 home runs.
I talked that question over with him some time ago. At that time he believed that if he got off to a good start he might better 50.
It is a matter of record that nothing helps the batting eye as much as real pitching in actual competition. Babe did a lot of practice hitting between the opening of the season and the raising of his first expectation, but the old batting eye wasn't properly trimmed.
Babe soon discovered that the pitching he had faced in batting practice in no way compared to the real stuff. As a result he was slow in hitting his stride.
Recently in St. Louis, Babe cracked out his sixth home run of the year, his third in three days. It was a terrific drive that cleared the right field wall by 30 feet.
Just before the game started the next day I remarked to Babe: "What about breaking the old mark of 59 home runs?"
He smiled broadly and replied: "I have just about decided that 59 home runs is going to stand and I will make hopes that I might smash it, but have decided it is a bit too much for me to shoot at."
I agreed with Babe that to break his mark of 59 homers after a six weeks' suspension was practically an impossibility. However, don't get the impression that Babe is ready to turn his home-run crown over to someone else.
"While I don't expect to break my mark of 59," continued the Babe, "you can tell the world that I will top the home-run hitters in both the American and National leagues when they ring down the curtain."
"I don't know how many home runs I will need. It may be 20 and it may be 40. Whatever it is, I will make them. I will still be the home-run king at the close of the 1922 season."
I fully expect to be out in front by Aug. 1. Once I am out in front the boys are going to have a hard time catching me. Spotting hitters like Williams and Hornsby a dozen home runs is some handiwork. I feel that I will prove equal to it."

BY ROB DORMAN

NEW YORK, June 22.—July 4 will see the opening of Floyd Fitzsimmons' Michigan City (Ind.) arena, with Lightweight Champion Benny Leonard and Rocky Kansas furnishing the fireworks.
As this bout will mark the fourth meeting between the two, you certainly have to hand it to this Kansas person for being a persistent guy.
Maybe he figures that some day he will catch Benny out of training, or perhaps he is depending on the law of averages.

Kansas is a strong boy, with a good fighting heart and plenty of aggressiveness to match against one of the cleverest boxers in the ring, who besides, packs a knockout wallop.
There should be no doubt of the outcome of the fight, unless Leonard should be so weakened by making weight that he will not be able to put forth his best efforts.
In their three previous bouts Leonard received the decision each time. In May, 1917, Kansas was outpointed at Buffalo, N. Y., in 10 rounds. In June, 1921, saw them matched at Harrison, N. J., where they dugested 30,000 fans with a slow 12-round bout, with Leonard again getting the decision.

On February 10, this year, they put on their best match at Madison Square Garden, N. Y., with Leonard the winner.

TO QUESTION LAWHORN AD CLUB HOLDS BIG MEETING

Sec. Roosevelt Authorizes Examination by Dist. Atty. Saltonstall

BOSTON, June 21.—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt today authorized the commandant at the Charlestown navy yard to allow District Attorney Saltonstall of Middlesex county to question Private John D. Lawhorn of the Marine Corps as to his possible knowledge of the murder of Ralph W. Brewster, Winchester station agent, several weeks ago. Naval authorities have so far refused to give up Lawhorn to the civil authorities, contending that there was not enough evidence to connect him with the crime.

Lawhorn was brought into the case through the alleged confession of a former comrade who said Lawhorn had confessed to him that he committed the murder.

Official records at the navy yard show that Lawhorn was on guard duty at the time the murder is known to have occurred.

Lawhorn, it was said, will be questioned by the county officials in the office of the Marine Corps at the yard. No marine officer will be present.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF TEXTILE OPERATIVES

FALL RIVER, June 21.—The seventh annual convention of the American Federation of Textile Operatives opened in this city today with a total of 85 delegates representing 25 out of a total of 49 affiliated bodies. This annual convention is being held in the Weavers' building, Second street, the hall having been beautifully decorated through the courtesy of the R. A. McWhir Co. Mayor James H. May welcomed the delegates. The sessions will last until the business has been completed, probably until next Saturday.

The committee on credentials reported delegates present from Fall River, New Bedford, Lawrence, Taunton, Easthampton, Adams, Lewiston, Me., Mooseup, Baitie, Taftville, Plainfield, Conn., Methuen and Salem, Mass. President James Tanney and Secretary O'Connell read their annual reports.

The chair appointed the different committees with the following chairmen:

President's report, Thomas Goodwin, Fall River; secretary's report, Manuel Silva, Lawrence; executive committee's report, William E. J. Ratty, New Bedford; committee on grievances, James Simpson, New Bedford; resolutions, Abrams Binn, New Bedford; committee on laws, Joseph Pecteau, Salem; committee on organization, Olive Christian, Lawrence; committee on legislation, William McNamara, Fall River.

INVESTIGATED COST OF BUILDING SCHOOLHOUSE

MEDFORD, June 21.—The board of aldermen today prepared to submit to Attorney General Allen and District Attorney Saltonstall the evidence in the report of the committee which investigated the cost of the building of the new Fulton high school house. The board voted to take this action at a meeting last night which lasted until early morning.

The report charges the Fulton Heights school commission with extravagance and waste in the construction of the $150,000 six room schoolhouse. City Solicitor Guy E. Healey was instructed by the board to learn how some of the funds spent might be recovered.

SOCIALIST PLATFORM

PORTLAND, Me., June 21.—The socialist party in Maine declares in a platform adopted here last night that the fundamental issue before the people of this state and nation is that "between the producers of wealth and those who appropriate wealth without labor." It asserts that the solution of this issue is the "substitution of co-operation for the present competitive economic system."

Speeches, Dinner and Music at Final Session of the Season

Local Mill Agent Says City Cannot Progress Under Present Government

"Lowell cannot progress with the sort of government we have at the present time," was the assertion of Agent William A. Mitchell of the Massachusetts mills at the meeting of the Lowell Ad club held yesterday in the quarters of the Girls' City club. Mr. Mitchell went on to say that the taxes paid by the mills in this city are enormous compared with the taxes in the south, and that is the great burden of the mill agent. A better government, he said, would be the best way to start to home Lowell.

Mr. Mitchell was one of several speakers who delivered short addresses at the meeting, which was the final session of the season. Among the others were Hon. Perry D. Thompson, Herbert Stetson, industrial relations secretary of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, Edward W. Gallagher, Edward J. Conney and Bennett Silverblatt, Esq. Besides the speaking, an excellent dinner and musical entertainment were provided, with the distribution of presents as a special feature.

At 12:15 the members and guests sat down to a beautiful meal, and began the satisfaction of the inner man to music by the orchestra. During the period occupied with the dinner the Honey Boy Quart, accompanied by Al. Forrest, entertained in excellent style. The members of the quartet, Messrs. Macure, Deignan, Gaudin and Hamilton, sang solos and ensemble numbers which brought forth strenuous applause. Charles J. Keyes sustained the solo of the club booster song, which the members rendered with great enthusiasm.

Beginning the post-prandial exercises, President Frank Ricci called to order, and after welcoming the guests and reviewing the history of the club since its formation a short time ago, turned the gavel over to Benjamin S. Pouzner as the presiding officer of the day. Mr. Pouzner, accepting the duty gracefully, called on Edward W. Gallagher, secretary-treasurer of the club, for a five-minute talk on Lowell made goods.

Mr. Gallagher said that Lowell is not great on account of her population, buildings or other possessions. There are simply evidences of greatness. What makes greatness, he said, is spirit. He called on those present to boost Lowell and Lowell-made goods, speaking of the salesman who come here from other cities in the morning and leave at night with the citizens' money, turning up the roads with their trucks. As proof that Lowell is threatened with a dangerous situation at the present time he quoted Babson's statistics and remarks made recently by Cardinal O'Connell.

He made particular reference to the mill order houses. He said that home trading is the biggest asset of a city, and yet there are a great many who do their trading by mail order. He urged that a union be formed like the labor federations, with a purpose of getting the people to buy Lowell-made goods rather than those from foreign sources. The Ad club has taken one step in that direction by inaugurating an ice cream campaign, and the Lowell manufacturers have already organized and are ready for the campaign. He stated that other articles would be taken up in turn. Asking for a unanimous vote in favor of Lowell-made goods, it was recorded immediately.

At this point Dr. Sweetser, a strong exponent of home-trading, was presented by Charles J. Keyes, on behalf of the committee of boosting goods of this nature, with a large ice cream cone, labeled "Made in Lawrence." The doctor repudiated the gift at once. William A. Mitchell was next called on for a few remarks. He immediately took issue with Mr. Gallagher relative to the mail order houses, telling how much Lowell-made goods is disposed of to these large enterprises. He suggested that for the promotion of the booming project, the city emulate Holyoke by taking gunnery lessons and after acquainting them with the methods of manufacturing certain articles, use them as demonstrators. He then proceeded with the statement relative to the city government's effect upon progress.

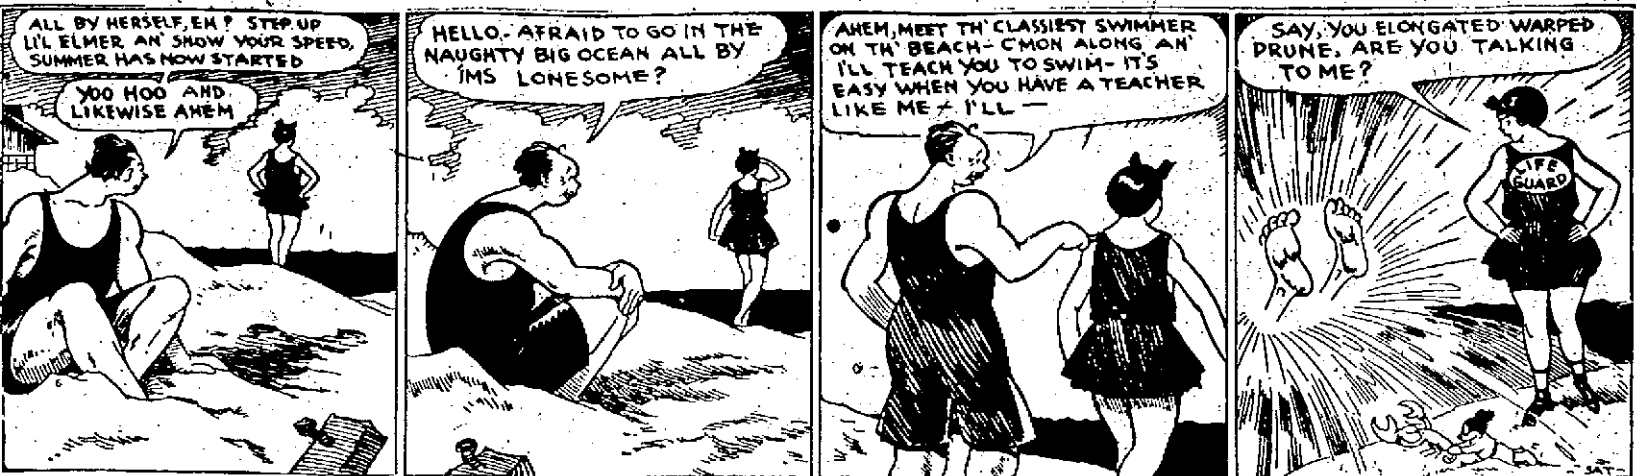

After Mr. Mitchell's talk, Mr. H. G. Mitchell was introduced as Mr. Mitchell's guest and was accorded a warm welcome. Mr. Pouzner then called upon Mr. Andrew McCarthy for a solo, and his rendition of "The Roseary" took the audience by storm.

After expressing his appreciation of the efforts of Mr. Edward J. Conney, the club's chief sponsor, the chairman allowed Mr. Conney to speak briefly for himself. The speaker and extensive order of Providence devoted his time to outlining the contemplated activities of the near future, including a "Boost Lowell" exhibition, and a minstrel show—and praise of the musical numbers, particularly Mr. McCarthy's "The Roseary," and Brother-member Lyden, who, according to the speaker, fed them on horse meat once, but treated them well thereafter.

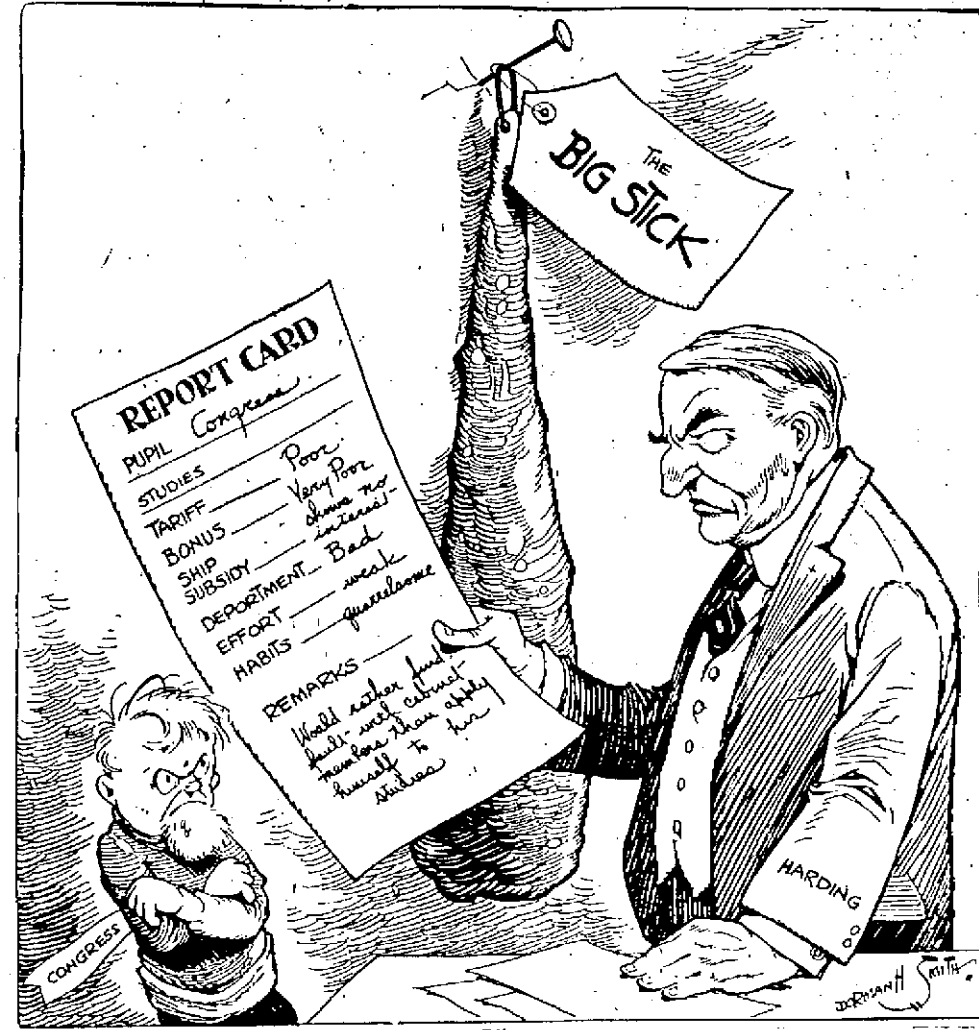

He made particular mention of The Sun's double page ad Tuesday evening.

Hon. Perry D. Thompson was next in order, and after a few moments devoted to discussion of everything in general in his favorite vein, he announced that he was going to "take a crack" at Mr. Gallagher. He does not care what Babson says or what his statistics show; he, himself, is the king of optimism, and he knows that Babson errs. In addition, he would have liked to have heard Cardinal O'Connell speak, and to have told him that Lowell is all right. He would have liked to have called his attention to the man Lowell has produced, the cardinal himself and Frederick Fanning Ayer among others. "So much for Mr. Gallagher," said the ex-mayor.

Mr. Thompson said that he has been a great exponent of advertising, and has used the best advertising obtainable—and forcibly put out of office thereafter. However, he thinks the club will be a great asset to Lowell, for its custom of gathering at the same table frequently will prove the old

DUTY OF CHURCH IN WARD'S APPLICATION DISABLED WAR VETERANS LABOR CONTROVERSIES GRANTED BY COURT MAKE PROTEST

WICKFORD, R. I., June 21.—The duty of the church in labor controversies is to hear both sides, "learn what the truth of the situation is, and then face it bravely," said Bishop James DeWolf Perry of the Episcopal diocese of Rhode Island in addressing the National Conference of Episcopal Social Service Workers here today. The conference is considering industrial problems.

Referring to the strike situation in Rhode Island, Bishop Perry said: "The chief opportunity and responsibility of the church in the strike here is a careful and sympathetic study of the entire problem. The right is not all on either side."

"For the church the duty is to sit down with the representatives of both sides and get the facts; to learn from the manufacturers why they take the stand they have taken and then to sit down with the intelligent leaders of the unions and learn from them the living conditions they face."

"Then it will be possible to try intelligently to interpret one to the other with truth and sincerity. Then may we hope to bring about a restoration of peace upon the principles for which the church stands."

Bishop Perry urged rectors not to go before their congregations of workers in the rural districts "and complain of the employers" nor before congregations of employers in the cities and denounce the unions.

COLBY COMMENCEMENT

WATERVILLE, Me., June 21.—Five honorary degrees were conferred today at the 101st commencement exercises at Colby college. The recipients and degrees were as follows:

Master of Arts: John S. Sprague, Dover-Foxcroft.

Doctor of Divinity: Prof. James P. Bartley, Newton Centre, Mass.; Rev. Robert L. Webb, Boston.

Doctor of Letters: W. S. Knowlton, Monmouth.

Doctor of Laws: Edward H. Briggs, Boston.

Members of the graduating class received 18 degrees.

Saying "United We Stand—Divided We Fall," to be true. He believes in the precept voiced by Schwab the other day, when asked how the world could be stabilized once more: peace, brotherly love and integrity; a square deal for all.

Mr. Silverblatt spoke on the needs of a high school athletic field, properly equipped with shower baths and other necessities. He called attention to the fact that no admission charge could be made at a public playground like the proposed First street oval, and the imminent sale and inaccessibility of Spaulding park.

Mr. Stetson extended the hand of fellowship in behalf of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts and called attention to the fact that the association is trying to do practically the same work for the state that the Ad club is doing for the city. He spoke eloquently on "Service," the doing of something for somebody else.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 21.—Supreme Court Justice Seeger today granted Walter S. Ward's application for an order requiring District Attorney Weeks to show cause tomorrow why Ward should not be permitted to inspect the minutes of the grand jury which indicted him for the first degree murder of Clarence Peters.

Inspection is sought as a preliminary to an effort to upset the indictment on the ground that it was not based on adequate evidence.

Ward alleged that one of the grand jurors—Auckland B. Gardner, its foreman—was prejudiced against him. Gardner, it was set forth, had been a candidate for the police commissionership to which Ward was appointed, and had nursed a grievance since that time.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Michael Fleming and Miss Rose T. Heald were married yesterday at 3 o'clock at St. Patrick's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin. The bride wore white georgette crepe with veil and carried orchids. She was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Heald, who was attired in periwinkle crepe with gray hat and carried sweet peas. The best man was Mr. William Madden. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Joseph P. Paquette, 205 White street. The couple left last evening on an extended automobile honeymoon trip. They will make their home in New Jersey.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 21.—World war veterans who still are suffering from wounds or disability incident to their service have entered a protest against the use of their name to fight adjusted compensation, national headquarters of the American Legion announced here today upon receipt of information from a letter to a letter to the legion that "certain financiers corrupted a few disabled soldiers, brought them up before President Harding (for which they probably were well paid) and had their picture taken." This picture, Smyth alleges, was published in a newspaper, with the caption that "disabled veterans are against a bonus."

HIPPOTAMUS ON WAY TO BOSTON

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—Sultan Palnah III, aged four years and weighing somewhere around a ton, granted a farewell at the Philadelphia Zoological Garden today and left for Boston on a specially built motor truck.

Sultan is a hippopotamus born in the local zoo and has the distinction of being one of the few of his kind to live long after birth in captivity. He was purchased with $5000 in pennies and other small coins contributed by the school children of Boston. Philadelphia's hippopotamus quarters were a bit cramped with the arrival of another baby hippo last winter.

The hippo special plans to stop at the Bronx Zoo in New York city to night, and tomorrow night at Auburn-dale, Mass. It is due in Boston Friday.

LOWELL BOY ORATOR AT H. C.

WORCESTER, June 21.—Holy Cross college commencement today was featured by the award of the bachelor of arts degree to 116 members of the graduating class and the degree of bachelor of philosophy to four. The exercises were attended by Governor Channing H. Cox and many Catholic church dignitaries. John F. Keating of Brooklyn, N. Y., was valedictorian. Thomas C. Gunning of Fall River, salutatorian. Albert L. Bourgeois of Lowell and Francis A. Drum of East Pepperell, orators.

HACKED TO DEATH

ORDER WOMEN AND GIRLS FROM COURTROOM

MONTREAL, June 21.—Women and girls today were ordered from the courtroom while Adelard Delorme, former priest, on trial for the murder of his half-brother, Raoul, was examined as to his "moral sanity."

Protests from women spectators followed Judge Monet's announcement that during the proceedings incidental to establishing Delorme's moral sanity, the courtroom was not a fit place for women. Officials finally succeeded in clearing the section reserved for spectators.

Detective Roux, of the provincial police, was the chief witness today, his testimony hearing chiefly upon inquiries made by elornte to him concerning a girl.

400 FEET OF LEVEE GIVES WAY BEFORE FLOOD

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., June 21.—Four hundred feet of levee protecting a section of the San Benito irrigation district, about 24 miles upriver from Brownsville, gave way before flood waters of the Rio Grande today, inundating low lands in Cameron county. A large force of workers was sent to strengthen the levee protecting the little town Los Indios which is threatened by the break.

YALE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 21.—John T. Blossom, Yale 1914, of Cleveland, was chosen today as athletic director at Yale. He was captain of the "Varsity" baseball team in his senior year, a team which won 17 ball games without a break. He will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Al. Sharpe.

RADCLIFFE COLLEGE

CAMBRIDGE, June 21.—President LeBaron Russell Briggs conferred the bachelor of arts degree on 110 young women at the Radcliffe college commencement exercises today. Thirty master of arts degrees were awarded and six women were made doctors of philosophy.

Madame Bessarabo Guilty of Murder

PARIS, June 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Madame Marie Bessarabo, poetess and playwright, was found guilty today of the premeditated murder of her husband, Georges, whose body was found concealed in a trunk at Naney, two years ago. The court found there were extenuating circumstances and sentenced her to 20 years at hard labor. Her daughter by her first husband, who also was on trial, was found not guilty.

Deputy Sheriff.

Legal Notices
To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex, ss.
Respectfully I, the undersigned, and represents George A. MacDonald, of Hildreth, in said County, that he was lawfully married to Iza Ann MacDonald, now of Londonderry in the state of Vermont, at Charleston in said State of Vermont, on the fifteenth day of July, A. D. 1895, and thereafter said Iza Ann MacDonald lived together as husband and wife at Hildreth's Mills, Province of Quebec, Canada, and the said Iza Ann MacDonald has always been faithful to his duties and obligations, but the said Iza Ann MacDonald being wholly regardless of the same, at said Hildreth's Mills, Province of Quebec, Canada, on or about the first day of November, 1908, utterly deserted your libellant, and has continued such desertion to the present time; and that your libellant has lived in this Commonwealth for more than five years last preceding the filing of this.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your libellant and the said Iza Ann MacDonald.
Dated this 19th day of June, A.D., 1922.
GEORGE A. MACDONALD.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss.
Superior Court, June 14, A.D., 1922.
Upon the foregoing libel, it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before the undersigned, a Justice of the Court, at Cambridge, in said County, on the first Monday of August next, by causing an attested copy of said libel and the last publication of said libel to be filed in the Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell in the County of Middlesex, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before the last mentioned day, and that an attested copy of said libel and order thereon be sent by registered letter to the residence of the libellee as set out in the libel—that she may then and there show cause, if any she have, why the prayer of the libel set forth should not be granted.

Legal Notices
TAKE NOTICE
If the libellee does not appear within the period fixed by law by the rule of the Court, the libel may, if the libellant so moves, be transferred forthwith to the Probate Court for said County for the purpose of being probated, and all proceedings will be had in said Probate Court.

CLOSING OF Y. M. C. A. STRAWBERRY LEAGUE
The celebrated Strawberry League of the Y.M.C.A. closed last night with all members joining in a feast of strawberries. For several years past, the youthful members of this league have been taking part in athletic and swimming contests under the direction of Assistant Supervisor Hildreth. The league was made up of about 20 teams with five men on each team. The members of the team scoring the highest number of points consisted of Hildreth, Ostrom, captain; and Edna Fraser, Sutherland, George Carroll and Aphren Hoyer.
Individual medals were presented to the boys making the greatest number of points. General Secretary Howe made the presentations as follows: Al-mer Clegg, gold medal; John Pardee, silver medal; and Ralph Hoyer, bronze medal. Although the winner of first prize Clegg was the youngest boy in the league.

Adventures of The Twins

COMET-LEGS WITH HIS EVIL PALS MISCHIEF

"IT WAS WASP WRESEL AND I WAS GLAD TO GET AWAY WITH MY LIFE"

For a week folks on the earth must have thought Mr. Peerbout, the Man-in-the-Moon, had gone crazy. Such weather! And the moon acted as if it had lost its senses. One night the moon was dreadful. It came up clear as a bell and round as a ball. The next minute it wasn't there at all. After five minutes there it was again, but with freckles all over it. Then it went away and stayed for an hour. And the next time it came out it had moved over three house lengths and was so dim you could scarcely see it. After awhile it cleared up a bit, but was wearing three colors. Mr. Peerbout was distracted. His telephone kept ringing and ringing, and later on he should have seen 'em! Complaints by the dozen. "My goodness! What's wrong?" he demanded. "Last night I flew down into the corn field, where I was sure I saw Flop Field-Mouse, soaking along with Muff Mole. The moon was dark and I couldn't see so very well. "I was just about to take two nice bites, when something flew at me like fury. It was Wasp Wresel and I was glad to get away with my life." "It's not the moon," declared the Moon-Man. "It's Comet-Legs. He and his friends, the Nutsauce Fairies, are playing hob with my plans. "Here it is late spring and everything should be lovely, but between Jack Frost, Howdy Thunder, Jumpy Lightning and Old Man Storm and all the rest, the whole season is ruined. "But never mind. There's a good time coming. I've got two helpers, Nancy and Nicki. I expect them to catch old Comet-Legs any minute now." "Well, I hope so," growled Oscar. (To Be Continued)

Lenine Grants Leave of Absence

COPENHAGEN, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—A message from Moscow to the Central News says the Russian council of commissars has granted Premier Lenine a leave of absence until autumn, on account of his illness. It is expected, adds the message, that Commissar Tsurupa, the second vice president of the council, will act in his stead.

Cotton Mills To Run On Full Time

WHITINSVILLE, June 22.—Officials of the Whitinsville, Linwood and Saundersville cotton mills announced that beginning July 26, the plants would run on full time. The possibility of a wage reduction at that time, was under discussion officials said. The plants, which employ 700 operatives, have been operating under a 35-hour week for the last three months.

MARTIN B. CROWE DEAD DID NOT WANT TO ASSIST THEIR FATHER

Well Known Patrolman Passed Away Today at St. John's Hospital

Patrolman Martin B. Crowe, a member of the police force for the past 12 years, died this morning at St. John's hospital after an illness of about three months' duration. The body was removed to his home, 33 Humphrey street, by Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Officer Crowe was born in County Clare, Ireland, Jan. 6, 1870, and came to this city about 30 years ago. He was appointed to the probationary force April 7, 1910, and in October of the same year was promoted to the reserve force. In December 23, 1913, he was made a permanent officer. For some five or six years he patrolled the Market street beat on the early night shift and on March 17 he was transferred to duty at the Merrimack Square theatre. Two weeks later he was taken ill and the end came this morning.

When informed of his death today Supt. Atkinson expressed deep regret, stating that the department had lost an efficient, capable and painstaking officer, and that having been associated with him for many years, he had always found him honorable and trustworthy.

Deceased was a devout attendant of St. Michael's church, a member of the Police Relief association, the Lowell Mutual and Benefit association and Lowell series of English life is survived by his wife, Mrs. Della A. (Duffy) Crowe; two sisters, Mrs. John Sheehan of Ayer and Miss Catherine T. Crowe of this city; two brothers, John and Bartholomew Crowe, both in Ireland.

An unusual non-support case was heard in the district court today in which an aged man was forced to stand by and hear each of his four children refuse to contribute $1 a week to his support.

After he told the court that he was unable to work and that his "only means of support was $5 a month he received as rent from some property he owned in Canada, the court called the four children and asked each of them their financial condition. One admitted that she and her husband owned 15 tenements and were sending a girl through college. One said that both she and her husband worked. Another claimed he was making $26 a week, while the fourth said his salary came to slightly more than $22.

The court then lined up the quartet before him and each insisted that $1 a week could not be spared.

As the court uttered the words, "I will have to find you all guilty," one of the women stepped forward and said that she would appeal the case to a higher court. Whereupon the court ordered each to the house of correction for two months. An appeal was taken.

A conference followed between the four and about an hour later the appeal was withdrawn in all cases. The court then ordered each placed in the care of the probation officer for one year with the stipulation that each contribute $1 a week for the support of the parent. At the present time the old gentleman is living with a third daughter and her husband. They have a large family.

Manual Souza was found guilty of the larceny of a paint brush valued at $1 from George Parlane's of 593 Rogers street. He was fined $5.

Alvin Xafas was fined $10 for operating an unregistered auto. A charge of attaching wrong number plates to the car was discharged.

Clifford R. Morris pleaded not guilty to charges of operating an auto while under the influence of liquor and to being drunk. His case was continued to June 28.

Elizabeth Cunningham of Dracut was discharged on an assault and battery charge made against her by Ida Kononich, wife of Dracut. The defendant alleged a nephew of the defendant abused her child. Words followed in which the complainant alleged she was struck with a pall and a broomstick handled by the defendant.

John W. Lusier was found guilty of non-support and was given a direct sentence to the house of correction of three months. He appealed and was held in $300.

Jennie Goodwin, who yesterday pleaded guilty to drunkenness, was sentenced to the house of correction for six months. Sentence was suspended for two years with the proviso she remain out of Lowell.

Dunstable. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Kendall home, Dunstable, and were largely attended. Rev. Alvin Cummings, pastor of the Evangelical Congregational church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Ernest C. Bartlett of Chelmsford, a friend of the family. There were many floral tributes. The casket was borne by George Glover, George Pumphrey, Frank Sargent and Charles Menier. Burial took place in the family lot in the Central cemetery, Dunstable. Undertaker William H. Saunders of Lowell in charge.

BANKS—James H. Banks, formerly a resident of Dracut and Lowell, died yesterday in Bristol, Conn. He leaves a brother, Walter Banks, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Doherty, both of Dracut. The home will be in the care of Undertakers C. H. Molloy's of this evening.

PAIGNON—Emile Paignon, a resident and well known business man of this city for many years, died Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Pansy Hounds, in Sunland, Cal. His age was 88 years. He had been confined to his bed for the greater part of a year. On June 21, three years ago, he accompanied his daughter and their families on a trip by automobile to California, a grandson, E. Roy Paignon, driving the machine. The journey was continued for 25 days, and no member of the party stood the trip in better shape than he. Mr. Paignon was a native of France, coming to America as a young man and for a time lived in New York, later going to Canada. He came to Lowell 50 years ago, where he was engaged in business for some time. He moved to South Chelmsford 34 ago and located on the farm now occupied by his son, E. B. Paignon. He was a member of the Central Congregational church at Chelmsford; Lowell Council 8, Royal Arcanum, and Overhill Lodge, I.O.O.F., of Lowell. He is survived by a son, Emile B. Paignon of South Chelmsford; two daughters, Mrs. W. F. Stewart and Mrs. Pansy Hounds of Sunland, Cal.; 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

EASTMAN—Mrs. Ida M. Eastman, wife of Walter C. Eastman, died yesterday morning at St. John's hospital, aged 77 years. She is survived by her husband, Walter C., and a daughter, Catherine C. her mother, Mrs. Margaret Coughlin of Richmond, Que.; two brothers, William of Montreal and Frank of Richmond, Canada; three sisters, Mrs. Catherine Cavanaugh of Lowell, Mrs. Clara McInerney of North Chelmsford and Mrs. Anne O'Donnell of Richmond, Canada. The body was removed to her home, 457 Lawrence street, by Undertaker Peter H. Savage.

SMITH—Edwin D. Smith died last evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James W. Coburn, in Pelham, N. H., aged 80 years 11 months and 14 days. Besides his daughter, he leaves one grandson, Harold E. Coburn. Mr. Smith was a veteran of the Civil war, having served with the Eighth New Hampshire Volunteers as a member of Co. B.

BIRD—Henry B. Bird, a resident of this city for many years and a former employee of the Boston & Maine railroad, died this morning at the Chelmsford Street hospital. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers H. H. Molloy & Sons.

CORCORAN—James H. Corcoran, a well known resident of Lowell, died Tuesday evening at his home, 16 Gold street, aged 80 years. He leaves his wife, Catherine Corcoran; two sons, Henry and Raymond Corcoran; one daughter, Anna Corcoran; one sister, Miss Nellie Corcoran and one brother, George Corcoran. He was a well known plumber and was a member of the Plumbers' union. He was also a member of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church.

26 Known Dead in Mine Warfare BRITISH FIELD MARSHAL SLAIN

Sir Henry Hughes Wilson Assassinated Outside His Home in London This Morning

VICTIM STRUCK BY TWO SHOTS

Attacked While Alighting From Auto After Delivering Address

Assassins Fled, Followed by Policemen Who Had Been Guarding Marshal

Both Captured—One Attempted Suicide—Officer Fatally Wounded

LONDON, June 22. (By the Associated Press).—Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, former chief of the British imperial general staff, and lately military adviser to the United States government, was assassinated today near the door of his home in Eaton place, London.

Two men fired upon the field marshal as he was alighting from an automobile after attending a war memorial unveiling where he delivered a speech. Struck by two bullets, he staggered and fell. He was carried into his home where he died shortly afterwards and before the arrival of physicians who were summoned.

The two assassins fled, closely pursued by the police, who had been guarding the field marshal on information that his life was likely to be attempted. Both men were captured. One of them is reported to have attempted suicide.

TWO MORE DOG BITE CASES REPORTED

Two more dog bite cases reported to the board of health today raised the month's total to nine and the number for year to date, to 47. Only five less than for the entire year in 1921. For three months of the present year all dogs in the city were muzzled in compliance with an ordinance adopted by the city council, but since that expired, more dog bite cases have been reported than prior to the time of its passage.

Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the board of health inclines to the opinion that a great majority of the cases are provoked by children who persist in plaguing dogs, who otherwise would not show signs of temper. He substantiates this opinion by calling attention to the fact that evidences of rabies have been found only in one instance. The cases reported to the board today were of Henry and Francis Dolan, brothers, aged 9 and 12 years respectively, living at 46 Franklin street. They were bitten by a dog owned by a Mr. Geoffrey of 66 Franklin street. The cases were reported by the boys' parents and turned over to Dr. Sherman for investigation.

ROBERT CLIFFORD KILLED WHEN AUTOS CRASH ON BRIDGE

Adam Guillemette, Driver of Car That Killed Clifford, Was Arraigned in District Court Today on Charge of Manslaughter—Victim of Accident Was Well and Favorably Known in Lowell

Robert C. Clifford was almost instantly killed at 5.20 p. m., yesterday on the Alken st. bridge when a Ford roadster which he was driving turned turtle following a collision with a Cadillac car owned and driven by Adam Guillemette. A heavy rain was falling at the time of the accident. Guillemette appeared in district court this morning to answer to a charge of manslaughter, lodged against him last night, following the death of the Clifford boy. A continuance to July 22 was asked by his counsel and this was granted by the court. He did not plead to the charge. It is expected that between now and the date set for trial the result of the inquest will be ready. Clifford was alone in his roadster and was driving from West Centralville to his home at 58 Hanks street, where he resides with his parents, R. Harry and Margaret (Maloney) Clifford. Guillemette was driving in the opposite direction and had with him in his car Napoleon Clement, of 21 Dane st. and Arthur Bolsvort, of 31 Farmland road.

According to the story told by Mr. Guillemette, the two autos were near the center of the bridge. Clifford

Chairman of Democratic National Committee Speaks at Waterville, Me.

Plays Last Two "Incompetent, Leaderless, and Do-Nothing Congresses"

WATERVILLE, Me., June 22.—My election, another republican congress the American people would rally the record of the last two "incompetent, leaderless and do-nothing" republican congresses and take the risk of continuing the period of "business prostration" given to the country by the first 15 months of the Harding administration. Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee, declared at a meeting of Maine democrats here today.

"Why should even the most ignorant voters," Mr. Hull said, "favor the election of another republican congress, composed largely of the membership of the present congress, which republican leaders and republican newspapers throughout the country have characterized in language more damning than any that has been spoken by its political opponents?"

THE MERRIMACK RIVER STILL ON RAMPAGE

The Merrimack river stood nine inches higher here today than yesterday, with water spilling over Pawtucket dam eight feet above its crest. Since last Saturday morning 1.07 inches of rain has fallen, the precipitation yesterday totalling more than two inches.

The Boott gauge this morning, before the mills opened, showed the height of the water as 50.72 feet, against a flat 50-foot reading yesterday at the same hour. Yesterday the river was running 22,930 cubic feet per second, while today this volume had increased to 25,450 feet.

PLOT TO INDICT THREE JUSTICES

Allen Discloses Plot to Have Justices of Mass. Supreme Court Indicted

Sinister Attempt to Undermine Faith of People in Integrity of Courts

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—An alleged plot whereby three justices of the Massachusetts supreme court would have been indicted, thus incapacitating the court in its recent hearing of the cases of those "who were charged with corruption," was disclosed by Attorney General J. Weston Allen in an address at the Harvard university alumni exercises today.

"The plan in part failed or was abandoned," said Mr. Allen, "but it was a sinister attempt to undermine the faith of the government in the integrity of the courts, a veiled attempt upon the government itself. Filled in this purpose to prevent a trial, overwhelmed by the evidence, produced against them of corruption and extortion, silent before their accusers, these men have weakly endeavored to claim bias on the part of the court."

BODIES OF 16 FOUND IN WOODS

Crowds Laugh as Dying Men Lying in Sun Plead for Water

Thousands of Shots Exchanged Near Mine of Southern Illinois Coal Co.

Many Victims Riddled With Bullets, Others Beaten to Death

Three Found Hanging by Ropes From Trees—Know Dead Now 26

HERRIN, Ill., June 22.—(By the Associated Press). A check-up at noon today, made by the Associated Press, showed 26 known dead and indications that the total would be more than 30 in the hostilities between striking union miners and employees of the strip mines of the Southern Illinois Coal Co., here.

Bodies were spread over an area 15 miles square, some of them riddled with bullets, others beaten to death, and three hanging by ropes from trees. An Associated Press correspondent, after 10 ineffectual attempts today, finally persuaded a taxicab driver to take him through the scene of the fight. The strip mine had been fired and a freight train, a siding several cars was burning while miners looted several cars of foot supplies.

One of the men, his face bloody and one shoulder shot away apparently was within a few minutes of death. "Please take me to a drink," he moaned. A laugh from the hundreds of spectators was the only reply.

The correspondent rushed to a house for water and when he returned he was faced by a crowd, and quickly drawn pistols and told to keep away. When the man begged again for water, "for God's sake," a young woman with a baby in her arms, placed her foot on the mangled body and said: "I'll see you in hell before you get any water."

The men apparently had been dragged down a rocky road behind an automobile. Their clothes were torn in places of gravel were imbedded in their mangled flesh.

The dead non-union men were reported to have been among 44 prisoners captured at the strip mine. Four others were found riddled with bullets and are not expected to recover. What became of the other 21 could not be learned.

There were several thousand men and boys present when the 15 non-union men were killed at 9 o'clock this morning. The 44 men were taken prisoner at the camp, herded in front of the captors and when they reached a point about half way between the mine and Herrin where they passed through a woods, the killing began. Strikers declared the prisoners, by an apparently pre-arranged signal, made a dash to escape and that they were pursued and killed.

Foreman Beaten to Death
The bodies of the 16 non-union men were found in a woods near the strip mine, six miles east of here. A man named McDowell, foreman at the mine, was beaten to death, and the other 14 exclusive of the men hanged, were shot to death. It was stated the men were massacred when they attempted to escape after being taken prisoner by the union forces.

FOR INDIGESTIONWILL OBSERVE FEAST OF THE SACRED HEART

In connection with the observance of the feast of the Sacred Heart in all the Catholic churches tomorrow, the most conspicuous feature is the triduum now being conducted at St. Columba's church.

This triduum in honor of the feast began last evening at 7:15 o'clock. The opening sermon was given by Rev. John M. Manion of St. Peter's church, who presented a very eloquent discourse upon the meaning of devotion to the Sacred Heart, upon the reparation mankind should make for the sins of the flesh and the friendship every Catholic should have with our Divine Lord. He concluded by urging that every member of the parish receive holy communion on the feast day.

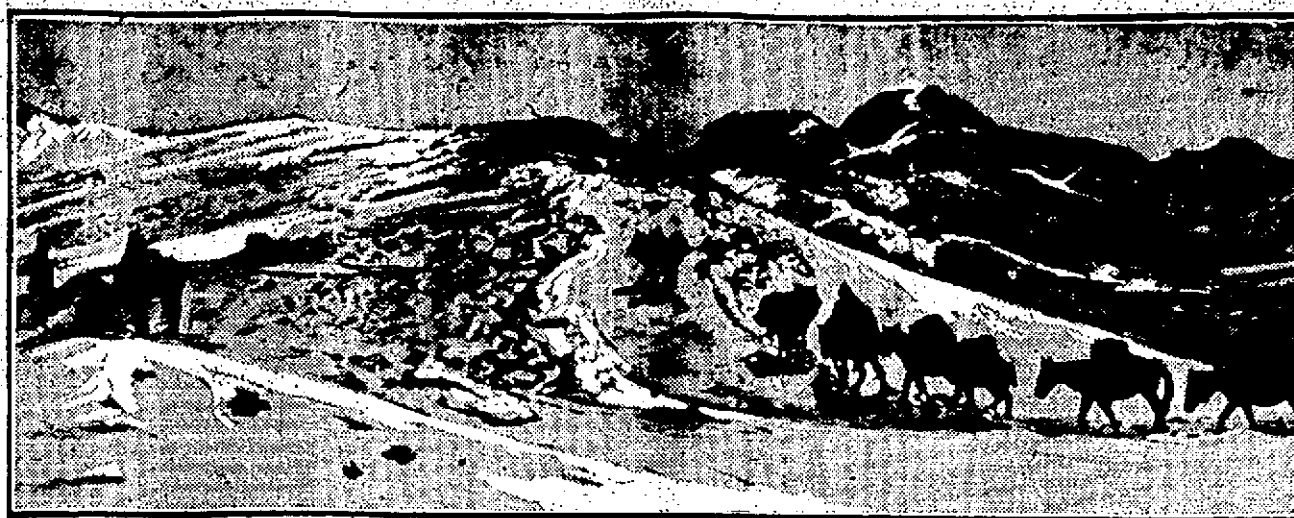

This evening, the services will consist of public adoration of the Blessed Sacrament beginning at 7 o'clock and ending at 9 o'clock. Tomorrow morning, this evening, as well as this afternoon. The closing ceremony of the triduum takes place tomorrow evening. There will be a solemn procession in which many of the children of the parish will take part. One of the children will then crown the statue of the Sacred Heart. The closing sermon will follow. During the benediction, the public consecration of the parish to the Sacred Heart will occur.

A very large crowd attended the opening services last evening in spite of the inclement weather. Masses will be celebrated in all the churches tomorrow morning. The hours at which the masses will be celebrated in the various parishes follows: St. Patrick's, 5:30 and 6:30; St. Peter's, 5, 6 and 7; St. Michael's, 5:15 and 7; Immaculate Conception, 5:15, 6:30 and 8; Sacred Heart, 5:15, 6, 7 and 8; St. Margaret's, 6 and 7:30; St. Columba's, 5 and 7. In most instances, confessions will be heard this afternoon and evening.

COMMUNICATION

The following communication is received relative to the statements made by Mr. Blazon in his letter to Mayor Brown:

Editor Sun,
Dear Sir:
Allow me to say a word in reply to Mr. Blazon's letter to Mayor Brown in which he says he believes that Willard J. Achin is incompetent for the position of assessor. Possibly he does believe so; but Mr. Blazon like some other men at city hall undoubtedly believes many things that are not so. Mr. Achin, although listed as a chauffeur, has been agent for several large tenement blocks and may have as good a knowledge of real estate values as Mr. Blazon, has today and even better than

To reach the peak of Mt. Everest has been man's ambition for many years. Three Englishmen, Mallory, Somerville and Norton, have gone 26,800 feet, farther than man has ever gone before, without artificial supply of oxygen. They are just 2200 feet below the summit, ready to advance with tinned oxygen. This photo was taken as the expedition crossed the snow barren at Jelep La.

Mr. Blazon had when he was first elected to the office. It is true that he is not a lawyer, but it has never been the custom to elect only lawyers to the board of assessors.

It seems that the mayor who nominated Mr. Achin and the ten councilors who confirmed the nomination believed that he is competent to fill the position and their opinion in such matters should outweigh that of Mr. Blazon who naturally wants to hold his job.

Thanking you for the space,
Yours truly,

J. M. G.

PHYSICIAN DENOUNCES
ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

CHICAGO, June 22.—What he termed misrepresentation on the part of the Anti-saloon league, of the attitude of the medical profession toward whisky for use in illness, was denounced by Dr. H. N. Stevenson of Baltimore, a trustee of the American Institute of Homeopathy, in an address before the institute last night.

"The Anti-saloon league's contention that only 30 per cent of doctors regard whisky of sufficient value as medicine to secure a permit for prescribing it, is downright falsehood," he declared. "Thousands of specialists and physicians who work in hospitals have no occasion to use whisky in their practice, and thousands more work in states where they are forbidden whisky, he said.

"Subtract this number and you will find the percentage of doctors who do apply for permits to prescribe whisky nearly 80 per cent," he asserted.

Whisky, he added, is a valuable tonic for aged people, or as a remedy for a sudden shock. Most physicians, he declared, hope for a time when much of the present "red tape" is eliminated, and when they will be trusted enough to prescribe whisky as they would any other medicine.

CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE
Harry W. Leavitt, of 1172 Gorham street, whose nomination for the position of superintendent of charities, will be read at tonight's meeting of the city council, today took out papers for the republican nomination for representative in the 14th district, comprising wards 1, 2 and 3.

MAY EXAMINE TEXTILE
MILLS' BOOKS

As a result of the recent textile strike investigation order passed by the state legislature, an examination probably will be made of the books of the textile corporations of Lowell, with a view to ascertaining costs of production in their relations to a 20 per cent wage cut. This information is given publicly by Hon. Edward Fisher, chairman of the state board of arbitration and conciliation.

Gen. E. L. Swett, chairman of the department of labor and industries, has stated that the arbitration board is to continue its efforts to adjust differences between employers and employees in textile industries and in addition will undertake to secure information relative to wages paid in textile centres throughout the state and elsewhere.

According to Mr. Fisher the legislative order provides for more than a cursory investigation as to average wages and it is necessary an analysis of production costs may be made. In previous textile disputes the state board of conciliation never has gone so far as to open the books of a corporation involved in a wage difficulty, presumably because it never believed it had that power, but now, however, it appears that the board, working in co-operation with other divisions of the state department of labor, will exercise this power.

PICNIC POSTPONED
The rain of yesterday again interfered with the picnic of St. Patrick's parochial school, which was to have been held at Tyngsboro. A third attempt to stage the event will be made on June 26.

$100,000,000.00
From Goldfield

The gold found in the famous mining camp was taken from comparatively shallow depth, and those engaged in its production left the district when the ore "pinched out" although the best engineering talent in the west advised sinking to greater depth.

The biggest banker in Nevada with a few associates acquired 600 acres of highly mineralized land in the heart of the district that produced one hundred million dollars, and was sinking a shaft 2,400 feet to connect with ore bodies mining men of wide experience and eminent geologists claim exist below the top strata.

The shaft is down 1,250 feet, and work is progressing daily. That large bodies of ore will be found at depth is the generally accepted belief of experienced engineers and eminent geologists which will result in an immediate increase of the price of the company's securities.

My acquaintance with the men who are conducting operations, the Goldfield district, and the intimate details connected with the project is such that I strongly advise you to send for a booklet I have written entitled "Nevada, the $100,000,000 State."

It is yours for the asking.

MISERABLE FOR TWO YEARS"Fruit-a-lives" Restored Her Strength and Vitality

MOUNTAINVILLE, CARROLL CO., N. H.
"I was all run down and work was burdensome owing to indigestion, and gas on my stomach which caused me to belch a good deal. My heart seemed to be affected.

It was two years ago that I was in this condition and began the use of "Fruit-a-lives," which proved the very remedy I required. I was freed of the indigestion, which I attributed to my heart; and I can conscientiously recommend "Fruit-a-lives" the great Fruit Medicine."

SLAY THOUSANDS AND BURN MANY CITIES

SHANGHAI, June 22. (By A. P.)—Between 10,000 and 15,000 northern forces sent against Sun Yat Sen's army in Kiangsi Province mutilated at Kianfu, burned portions of Kianfu and other nearby cities and killed thousands of the residents, according to unconfirmed but apparently authentic reports from various sources at Hankow and Nanchang.

The troops were under command of Gen. Tsai Chen Haun, military commander of Pekin.

REDUCE LOWELL

(Special to The Sun.)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 22.—Following a hearing which he gave in Lowell recently, Commissioner Joseph Parks of the industrial accident board, has ordered a reduction in the compensation benefits which, for more than two years, have been paid to Patrick Warren of 508 Gorham street, Lowell.

Warren was injured June 4, 1920, while employed by the Lowell Bleachery company. His injury consisted of the loss of a part of his right thumb and index finger, and stiffness of the middle finger. Since that time he has been paid benefits of slightly more than $14 a week, it being held that he had been totally incapacitated for work.

Recently the Liberty Mutual Insurance company asked the industrial accident board to permit a cessation of the payments, on the ground that Warren is now able to return to work. After considering all of the evidence presented, and examining the man's condition, Commissioner Parks has ordered a decision in which he says:—"I am satisfied that if this employee can do so there are many things he can do to earn his livelihood. He is under the impression that he has no use in the injured hand, but the hand itself is the best evidence that it will be useful in many forms of employment."

"I am of the opinion that a fair earning capacity to give this employee at the present time is $9 a week. Therefore, I find that he is entitled to partial compensation of $3.51 a week, based on two-thirds of the difference between $9 and $12.77, his wages at the time of injury, and partial compensation to continue subject to the terms of the act." HOYT.

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL REVIEW

After issuing a larger, more complete publication during the school year of 1921-1922, the Lowell High School Review staff turned out its final number yesterday and retired in favor of the staff selected for the coming year. This year's issues have been larger in point of size than in any other year since its institution, 23 years ago.

The class history, class ode, class prophecy and class farewell, in addition to the summary of school events and achievements, are included in yesterday's issue. The retiring staff is as follows: Editor-in-chief, Brendan D. LeMay; business managers, Frederic G. Milton, Charles B. Flood; literary editors, Elrod H. Beach, Theresa Mack; exchange editors, Mollie Washburn, Margaret Reynolds; society editor, Barbara H. McAdams; reporter, Maryline Murphy; sporting editor, George Harrington; correspondents, Katherine Harrington, Esther Casey, Garrett McAdams, Elinor Trull, Anna Fleming, Gertrude Donahoe, Thomas Bourke, Bertram Needham, Elinor MacBrayne, Norbert O'Brien, Thomas McLeay, Kathleen Sullivan, Robert Drew, Rena Hallwich, Walter Sargent.

BAY STATE ELKS
REELECT BRENNAN

NEW BEDFORD, June 22.—John P. Brennan of Cambridge was re-elected president of the Massachusetts Order of Elks in a highly-contested race with John W. Hannelly of Worcester, first vice president of the organization, at the closing session of the state convention yesterday.

The other officers elected were: First vice president, Joseph P. Francis, New Bedford; second vice president, William D. McAttee, Haverhill; third vice president, Marshall P. Nolan, New Bedford; treasurer, Bernard E. Garlin, Lynn; secretary, Jeremiah J. Hourin, Framingham; trustees, Dr. Thos. Flanagan, Hudson; William Curran, Winthrop and Michael T. Burke, Marlboro. Selection of next year's convention city was left in the hands of the officers.

Among the Conga natives a superstitious belief exists that the appearance of a baby's first tooth on the upper jaw to an ill woman in the community, and that the child must therefore be killed.

Kings and Generals Are Glad To Pose for Micheline Resco

MADemoiselle MICHELINe RESCO, 25, FORMER PORTRAIT PAINTER OF FRANCE AND SKETCHES OF SOME OF HER EXPERIENCES IN PAINTING GREAT CELEBRITIES.

BY NORRIS QUINN
NEW YORK, June 17. Though Mademoiselle Micheline Resco is only 25—
She has won in competition with 160 famous artists a $3000 prize offered by the Knights of Columbus

for the best portrait of General John J. Pershing—
She has painted portraits of Europe's leading royalty and diplomatic and political celebrities—
She has been the only artist for whom Marshal Ferdinand Foch would consent to pose—
And now she has come to conquer America!

"It will be the climax of my career if I can paint the portraits of your famous Americans," she said in an interview here. "It's the ambition of my life to paint President Harding. I am trying to make arrangements for this, but the matter has not been conclusively settled."

Congratulates Princess
"I notice Americans are deeply interested in the marriage of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Princess Marie of Rumania," pointing to a newspaper. "Well, I did a portrait of King Alexander while he still was a prince, staying in Paris."

"Princess Marie has my congratulations. A gentler or more courteous man than King Alexander never entered my studio. And he's democratic, too."

Another royal portrait made by Mademoiselle Resco was that of King Feisal, ruler of the Arabian kingdom of Irak, a real sheik. He came to her studio in his sheik costume of flowing robes and caftan.

"I've found that the greater man are, the easier sitters they make," Mademoiselle Resco says. "A great celebrity is much less fussy than an unimportant person."

Soldiers Patient
"I've painted many military men and they're really the best subjects. They've been trained to obey and they'll hold a pose for any length of time with the greatest patience."
"Royalty is easy, too; but kings, you know, should be flattered. Statesmen are rather more nervous than others when they're sitting."

ST. JOSEPH'S CONVENT

Thirty-one girls received their diplomas and gold medals at the graduation exercises of St. Joseph's convent, which were held in St. Joseph's college hall last evening. In addition about two hundred others, the leaders of the various grades, were awarded suitable prizes for excellent work during the year. Of the 31 members of the graduating class, 11 received Palmer diplomas. The presentation of diplomas and prizes was made by the pastor, Very Rev. J. B. Turcotte, O.M.I., in the presence of about 500 parents and friends of the girls.

The exercises were held at 8 o'clock and long before the time set for the opening number every seat was taken, and in order to accommodate the large number of extra chairs had to be secured. Seated in the audience were Very Rev. J. B. Turcotte, O.M.I., Rev. Athanasius Marlon, O.M.I., Rev. J. A. Bolduc, O.M.I., Rev. Charles Deniset, O.M.I., Rev. Augustin Gauthier, O.M.I., Rev. Armand Barron, O.M.I., Rev. E. J. Carrier, O.M.I., and Rev. Aurelien Marcell, O.M.I. Present also was Very Rev. Mother St. Albert of the mother-house of the Grey Nuns of the Cross at Ottawa, Ont., and practically every member of the teaching staff of the convent.

The program opened with an overture on the piano, "Brynnantho," by Misses J. Dupuis, C. Malo, E. Baril and

Sec. of War Weeks Favors
Modification of the Prohibition Law

CHESTER, Pa., June 22.—Secretary of War Weeks in an interview here yesterday was quoted as saying that he favored a modification of the prohibition law. He said he had found a general sentiment in favor of an amendment to the Volstead act. The people, the secretary was quoted as saying, want beer and light wines, and if he were in congress they could have them.

The talk of all New England—the great demand for the Boston Sunday Globe. Order next Sunday's Globe in advance.

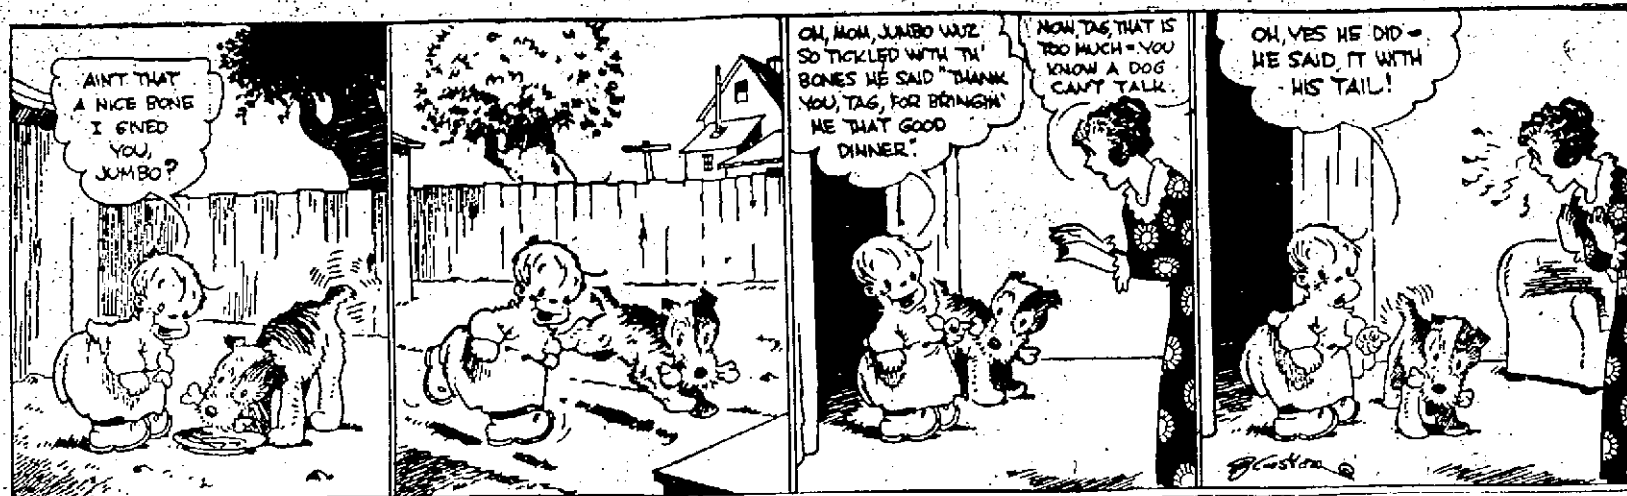

A suggestion has been made in England to color the highways with some colored chemical so that they will be more easily followed and the glare on the eyes will be less.

L. Labrecque. The remainder of the program was as follows: Chorus, "Les quatre Prix," Miss C. Malo, accompanist; presentation of prizes to pupils of the sixth and seventh grades; piano quartet, "The Dragon Fighter," Misses L. Rousseau, C. Sawyer, S. Roder and J. Burnhill; playlet, "La Vierge Reconnue," a group of pupils; presentation of certificates to music pupils; presentation of prizes to pupils of the eighth grade; piano duet, "La Baladine," Misses E. address, Very Rev. J. B. Turcotte, O.M.I., "Laude," chorus and assembly. The graduates were as follows: Misses Aurora Descoteaux, Florence Arsenault, Cecile Rondeau, Beatrice Perigny, Therese Paquin, Jeanne Dols, Irene Boule, Lydia Beauregard, Marianne Boule, Vivian Langoll, Aurora Ayotte, Cecile Calais, Irene Loxeau, Corinne Jean, Helene Bertrand, Irene Harvey, Yvonne Daigle, Florence Labrie, Berthe Cote, Minnie Turcotte, Aurelia Carpentier, Bella Forget, Eva Marquis, Bernadette Bourgeois, Anita Robillard, Flore Labrecque, Lea Fournier, Alda Guilmette and Jeannette Burnhill. Those who received Palmer diplomas were Aurora Descoteaux, Cecile Rondeau, Beatrice Perigny, Irene Boule, Lydia Beauregard, Aurora Ayotte, Dolores Matte, Cecile Calais, Corinne Jean, Irene Harvey, Aurelia Carpentier, Bernadette Bourgeois and Alda Guilmette.

The ushers were the following former pupils of the school: Misses Claire Richard, Blanche Filiatreault, Laura Lamoureux, Mabel Gervais and E. Picard.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Mean Few Good Pictures

"WHISKERS," THAT'S THE DOG'S NAME. LOOKS LIKE IT MIGHT ALSO BE THAT OF T. ROY BARNES. THEY'LL BOTH LOOK THIS WAY IN "THE OLD HOMESTEAD."

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, June 1.—Now come the dog days of filmdom. That means meagre fare for the faithful who like their jumping tiptoes in July as well as in December.

In the old days of stuffy, storeroom movie theatres the exhibition business slumped in the sultry months and exhibitors wouldn't pay big money for films.

Now, with hundreds of big theatres equipped with devices that make them cooler than the average city home, the old belief still holds.

Producers and distributors hold back their big productions until fall because few exhibitors will buy them. The good pictures this summer will be few and far between.

The only exception will be such films as are now being played on exhibition for long runs in New York and a few other key cities. These long runs make effective exploitation for the pictures when September rolls around.

The pictures are heralded in this manner—"Jumping Jupiter," the sensational film that ran unmeted weeks on Broadway.

One picture that ought to be well patronized during the torrid days is "Over the Border." It has more snow in it than half a dozen James Oliver Curzon films.

And it has a lot of comedy, even though much of it wasn't meant as such.

The best bit of comedy I have observed in a long time is in the forefront of "Over the Border." Betty Compton, the dear girl, stands there on the border of the U.S.A. and Canada after a long hike through a blizzard with snow waist-deep.

She looks up to the heavens and into the camera and, bless my soul, if she ain't got her eyes closed headed and the roughest on her lips showing.

It was a terrible day, girls, to be way out there, the only lady in the company and not a vanity case in the whole bunch.

And the next time I see Penrhyn Stanlaws, who directed "Over the Border," I'm going to ask him how come the superior officers of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police salute first in meeting men of lesser rank. It wasn't that way in "this man's army."

It's the women who pay—for the realism wrought in some pictures. Consider T. Roy Barnes and his better half. When he was selected to play the part of the tramp in "The Old Homestead" he started to grow a beard. Mrs. T. Roy didn't object to that although she looked as if she were leading a wild man of Borneo when she went out with him.

Then one day he brought home a dog. It was of doubtful origin and of doubtful habits in regard to the Saturday night bath. It was Barnes' idea of realism that he and the dog would grow accustomed to the idiosyncrasies of each other if they lived together several weeks.

"Well, you'll not keep him in the house," declared Mrs. Barnes. "Put him in the garage."

"But he has to be near me all the time so he will follow me around," Barnes protested. "I can't stay in the garage."

Latest reports from Hollywood do not say whether "Whiskers," the dog, is sleeping in the house with Barnes, or Barnes in the garage with the dog.

Eczema Vanishes
in Few Days

Highly Powerful Antiseptic Prescription Stops Itching Instantly, and by Its Use Itch, Itchiness and Carbuncles Are Quickly Healed

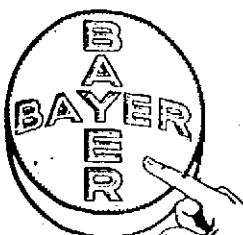

Now that tens of thousands know that Moore's Emerald Oil will reduce itching, dangerous varicose veins to normal, we want them to know that this wonderfully effective agent will dry up eczema eruptions in a few days and cause the scales to drop off and disappear.

It acts the same way with any skin disease, such as barber's itch, salt rheum, redness and inflammatory skin troubles.

So powerful and penetrating is Moore's Emerald Oil that piles are absorbed; gottres and wens are made to disappear and abscesses, boils, carbuncles, ulcers and open sores are healed in a few days. Moore's Emerald Oil is not a patent medicine, but is a surgeon's prescription that for years has been successfully used in private and hospital practice. Fred Howard and all pharmacists dispense it, and complete directions for home use come with each bottle.—Adv.

Don't Hide Them With a Veil! Remove Them With Othine—Double Strength

This preparation for the treatment of freckles is usually an successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of Othine, and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.—Adv.

MIDWAY LOTS

BRING $2000

More than $2000 was realized yesterday by the park commission when midway lots on the South common were auctioned off by Cornelius F. Cronin. More than 100 persons attended the auction, many being from out of town. In the vicinity of 100 lots were sold and the amount received therefrom totals higher than the money taken in at last year's sale. It is now believed that this Fourth's midway will be one of the busiest in the history of the South common.

MAY BUY LAND

FOR CEMETERY

Land in the rear of the Edison and Westlaw cemeteries, owned by Erasmus A. Bartlett of Chelmsford, a portion of which has been bought by the cemetery commission for several years past, may be sold to the Polish Roman Catholic parish of this city and to the archbishop of Boston for an addition to St. Patrick's cemetery. It is said that since the Spalding park order was voted by the mayor, Fr. Cronin, pastor of the Holy Trinity church, has inquired about purchasing 20 acres of the Bartlett land.

CHURCH IS NOW
FREE FROM DEBT

The burning of a note for $5000 last night by members of the First Presbyterian church, located in Appleton street, was the final act of a struggle to free the church from the debt which has hung over it since 1877.

For years the members of this congregation have worked hard and faithfully in an attempt to lift the mortgage which made possible the erection of the edifice. About one year ago all had been paid with the exception of a $5000 note. A wish to have the church entirely free from debt was expressed by many of the members with the result increased effort was made to raise money. Last April the necessary $5000 was on hand and the note paid off. The celebration was held up until last evening. Included among those present last night were Pastor Emeritus Rev. Jas. E. Craig; Rev. Joseph E. Kennedy, present pastor; Rev. Nathaniel W. Thews, pastor of the Gorham Street P.M. church; William Harris, treasurer of the church; and Mayor George H. Brown.

The program was brief and consisted of speeches by the above named. The burning of the note was carried out by Mr. Harris, whose act was prefaced by a few words from Rev. Mr. Kennedy. As the match was applied to the paper the church choir sang the Doxology. As a closing number, those present united in the singing of "Onward, Christian Soldiers." The church orchestra furnished music and the Willing Hand society furnished refreshments.

DIVER SEARCHES FOR BODIES

Auto With Two Occupants
Plunged Off Bridge Into
Lamprey River

Girl Witnesses Say Car Tore
Dropped 30 Feet

NEWMARKET, N. H., June 22.—A diver was searching the wreckage of an automobile at the bottom of the swiftly flowing Lamprey river today for the bodies of Fred E. Sanborn, member of the New Hampshire legislature, and Phillips Boucher, a mill operative, who are believed to have been drowned late last night when the machine plunged off a bridge.

At midnight, John Hanson, the diver, braved the swift current and went down to the river bottom shortly after the automobile was seen to crash through the rail on the Durham road bridge. Hanson brought up the number plate from Sanborn's touring car. Sanborn and Boucher were seen here in the car late last night and were missing from their homes today.

Two girls who were witnesses to the plunge of the automobile, told the police that the car came down the sharp grade to the bridge, tore through the iron fencing and dropped 30 feet into the roaring river, swollen to flood stage by the recent rains.

One Body Recovered

NEWMARKET, N. H., June 22.—The body of Fred E. Sanborn, who was drowned last night when the automobile he was driving crashed off a bridge into the Lamprey river, was recovered today by a diver.

Phillips Boucher, an employee of the Newmark Manufacturing Co., and Fred Bushie, are missing and search is being continued for their bodies. Conflicting stories as to the number in the car are reported but it is known definitely that Boucher accompanied Sanborn.

Sanborn's body was found entangled in the wreckage of the car on the bed of the stream. It is believed now that the body of Boucher and possibly Bushie's have been carried down the river to Great Bay or Portsmouth.

tor of a bakery at 333 Hildreth street, was very much broken up over the affair when he appeared in court this morning. Last night he told the police that he was traveling about 20 miles an hour and that he was on his right side of the street.

Mr. Clifford, who was about 24 years old, was well known to hundreds of people in this city. He was one of the most popular young men in Lowell. Although his name was Robert, to most people who knew him he was known as Cy Clifford. It was a name given to him in his school days and it became so generally used that few people, indeed, really knew that his Christian name was Robert.

The news of Clifford's death comes as a shock to hundreds of people who were wont to see and talk with him almost daily. He was just at life's broad threshold when the vista was snapped out before his eyes and his book closed with the story hardly yet begun. He was a wholesome replica of American boyhood and the sincere sympathy of scores of friends will be instantly extended to his parents and a sister, Helen G. Clifford, who survives him.

He was at one time employed in the business department of the Lowell Sun and at the time of his death was working at the Saco-Lowell shops. He was a member of both the Washington and Highland clubs.

By the threat of immediate renewal of the infamous war, our people, harassed and weary, and fearful, of chaos, have in the majority, voted as England wanted, but their hearts and their aspirations are unchanged, and Ireland unfree will never be at rest or genuinely reconciled with England.

"England's gain is for the moment only, and England's difficulty will still be prayed for as Ireland's opportunity."

"The men and women who have been rejected by the electorate have gone down with their flags flying, untouched by the prospect of place or power, true to their principles, true to every pledge and promise they gave, true to the dead who died for Ireland. With those hallowed names theirs will be forever coupled with honorable mention of the nation's story."

As for the published constitution, Mr. de Valera said it was still only a draft, and he felt confident that the Dail Eireann would not pass it as it stood.

"As it stands," he said, "it will exclude from public service and practically disenfranchise every honest republican. It is a test code as compromise against republicans as the test acts of Clarendon, and the Shaftsbury code against Catholics and dissenters of the reign of Charles II. It is, as Burke described, the Irish penal code, a machine of wise and elaborate contrivance, a complete system well digested and well composed in all its parts, and peculiarly fitted to the end in view, the degradation of the people, and directed not against the few, but against the many."

turned from the centre of the highway towards the right side and in doing so the rear end of his machine kidded and swung in front of the larger car. Mr. Guillemette says that he did everything in his power to avoid collision, but that his car hit the car and of the Ford turned it over on its side, causing Clifford to be thrown heavily to the ground.

The unfortunate youth was thrown with such force against the bridge that he sustained a fracture of the skull at the base. As soon as Guillemette was able, he jumped from his car and ran to the injured boy and, calling that he was badly injured, telephoned a rush call for the ambulance. Clifford died a few minutes after the crash and before the ambulance arrived.

The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Peter Savage, where it was viewed by Medical Examiner Thomas B. Smith. It was later moved to the undertaking rooms of James W. McKenna, in Bridge street.

Wrecker Demolished
The roadster, which skidded for about 20 feet following the accident, crashed against a curbstone and was badly demolished. The left mudguard and half of the Guillemette car were damaged.

Program, Centering Around
Four Constitutional
Amendments, Adopted

CINCINNATI, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—By an overwhelming vote, the American Federation of Labor convention today adopted a program, centering around four proposed constitutional amendments, repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law and other legislation, as the means for curbing the courts on account of decisions adverse to labor. The program was drafted by a special policy committee and accepted without change by the convention.

The election of officers of the federation was set for tomorrow morning and at that time the seat for next year's convention also will be selected. Houston, Tex., and Atlantic City, N. J., are the only cities that have submitted invitations for the convention which will be held in October, 1923.

Only on one day of the year are women permitted to enter the chapel of St. John the Baptist, which is the glory of the Cathedral of San Lorenzo in Genoa.

Court Grants Ward's Petition

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 22.—Supreme Court Justice Morschauser today held that Walter S. Ward, indicted for the first degree murder of Clarence Peters, ex-sailor, was entitled either to an early trial, or an opportunity to examine the minutes of the grand jury for the purpose of attacking the validity of the indictment. He gave District Attorney Weeks until next Monday to decide whether he would be willing to start Ward's trial on July 17, as demanded by Ward's counsel.

$100,000 Damage by Deluge of Rain

ROCKLAND, Me., June 22.—Damage of not less than $100,000, it was believed, was caused in this city and vicinity by a deluge of rain this morning. Expensive stocks in basements of Main street stores were ruined and damage to real estate was caused all over the city. Many fire alarm boxes were wrecked by an electrical accompaniment of the storm and the entire system was put out of commission. Traffic on the Knox and Lincoln division of the Maine Central railroad was at a standstill on account of washouts along the line. The lower part of the Knox Woolen mill at Camden was flooded, causing heavy damage. It was feared that the dam at the Camden Woolen mill might go out.

DR. SUN YAT SEN CAPTURED
PEKING, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, formerly president of the China republic, has been taken prisoner by the United China forces and is being held captive on the Chinese cruiser Hsueh in the West river near Canton, according to advices received by the foreign legations here from Canton.

The new Delaware river bridge, which is to be built by the states of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and the city of Philadelphia, is estimated to cost about $23,571,000.

The title, the "Hub of the Universe," was bestowed by Oliver Wendell Holmes on the Massachusetts statehouse, and afterward it was extended to mean the city of Boston.

Help was summoned from Lakeview. Dr. A. M. Cardo responding on a hand-car. No passengers or others of the train crew were injured and the train was hauled back to Brownsville Junction.

Officials of the Canadian Pacific railway said they expected no more than a four hour delay in forwarding passengers over their own rails. Both locomotive and baggage cars were badly smashed, but slow speed prevented damage to the following coaches or injury to occupants.

CLASS MEMORIAL
In keeping with the custom of each year's graduating class at the Lowell high school, that of presenting the school with some sort of class memorial, usually in the form of a work of art, the class of 1922 will offer as a class gift a life size bronze statue of Joan of Arc. The gift committee, who made the selection, is composed of the following: Donald Court, chairman; Harvey Abbott, St. Elmer Harrington and Anna Sullivan, President Charles H. Flood of the graduating class will make the presentation at the exercises in Keith's theatre on June 23 and the gift will be formally accepted for the school by James H. JAILED FOR NEGLECTING AGED PARENTS

WORCESTER, June 22.—Six adult children of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Zelson, aged respectively 70 and 69, of 12 Water street, were sentenced by Judge Utley in Central district court yesterday to serve six months each in the house of correction on charge of neglecting their aged and helpless parents.

The defendants are: Samuel Zelson, 49, of 14 Derby street; Louis Zelson, 41, and Joseph Zelson, 38, of 5 Columbia street; Morris Zelson, 40, of 296 Harding street; Miss Fannie Zelson, 35, of 12 Water street; and Mrs. Annie Wolder, 31, of 633 street.

Execution of sentence on the four sons was suspended on condition that Samuel and Louis contribute $6 a week and Morris and Joseph $5 a week toward the support of their parents.

The daughters refused to enter any agreement to help support their parents and appealed from the sentence, court holding them in $300 each for superior court.

The complainant was Nathan Zelson of New York, a seventh child of the couple, who claimed that he has been contributing from $20 to $25 a week toward their support. The drain became so severe on him that he appealed to the police.

The parents came to this country 10 years ago and were admitted after two of the sons signed government papers that they would support them. They declare conditions have changed since then. The father suffered a shock several weeks ago and is helpless. Conditions in their home are such that it costs $40 a week for nurse, medical attendance and supplies, and the New York son could not meet that expense alone.

Probation Officer Cooper reported to the court he could not get the Worcester children to contribute, although Joseph owns a store and Fannie has $700 in the bank.

My dear Mr. Gillette:

I have used your razor for so many years with such satisfaction that I did not know it was possible to improve upon it until I tried your new improved Gillette, and I want to congratulate you upon the improvement for it surely makes shaving a pleasure.

I don't know whether it is the additional weight or the different arrangement but, satisfactory as was the old razor -- I should say razors for I own several of them of different models -- the new one is so superior that I would not part with it, unless I knew where to get another exactly like it.

With appreciation, I beg to remain

What Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania says is endorsed by busy executives and active responsible men everywhere -- They have found in the New Improved Gillette the solution of their shaving problem.

Here it is—the big new package that thousands have asked us for

IN answer to women the country over who are using Rinso we have brought out this big new package. At every step of the family wash Rinso does the work.

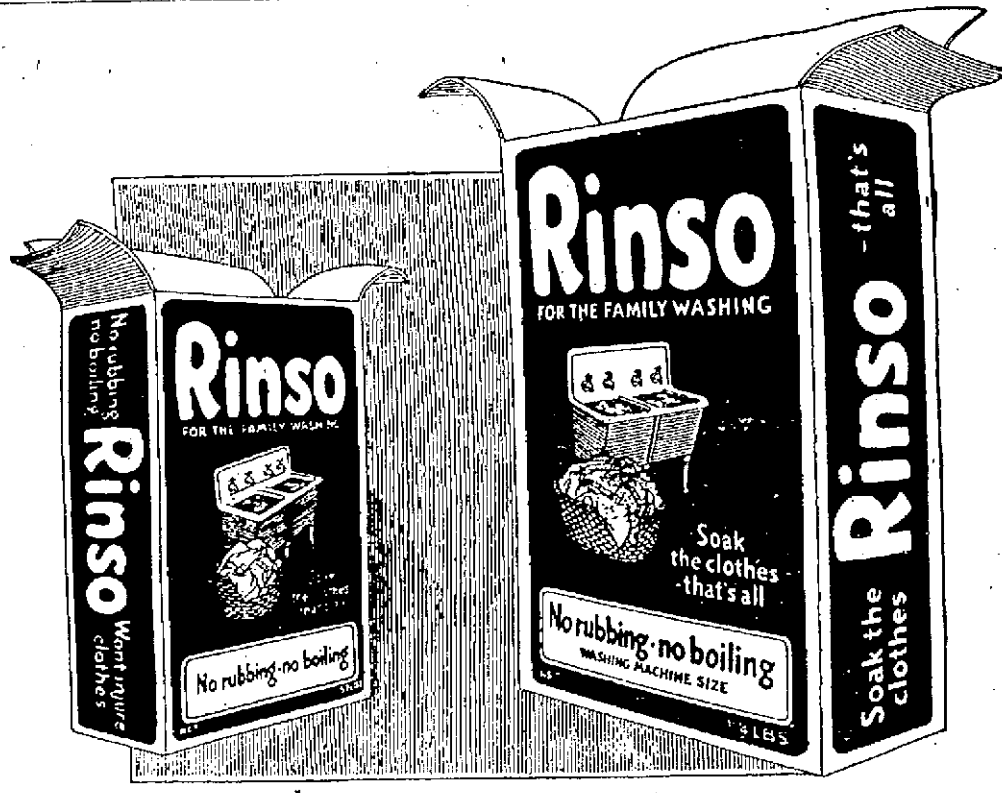

Millions of women who soak their clothes have found that just soaking in Rinso loosens all the dirt. On the places where the dirt is actually ground-in they rub a little dry Rinso, and even this dirt rinses out.

When they boil their white cottons they pour enough Rinso solution in the boiler to give them the suds they like.

Washing machine owners use Rinso because with it they don't have to rub even the places that used to need special attention.

Rinso takes the place of bar soap. Use it at every step of the wash. Ask your grocer today for the big new package. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Godley Explains Advantages of "Loose Coupling" in Radio Transformer

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
At first glance the action which takes place in the radio receiving transformer seems mysterious. Yet it is very simple. It easily can be explained and understood. It should be remembered that whenever a current flows within a wire, there is set up around it an invisible magnetic field. This field increases, decreases or dies out in strict accordance with any increase, decrease or dying out of currents flowing within the wire.

CLOSE COUPLING OF TRANSFORMER

If, in the neighborhood of the current-carrying wire, there is a second wire, the rising and falling (alternating) magnetic field will produce in that second wire an electrical current. These variations correspond exactly to the variations of the magnetic field. The current flowing in this wire is a replica of that which flows in the first. But it is always a somewhat feebler current, and its direction is always opposite to that of the current in the first wire. The current in the second wire is said to be "induced."

known that the closest possible coupling for maximum signal reception is not only unnecessary but undesirable. The inductive "coupler" or transformer was designed so that a maximum of signal current might be transferred to the secondary of the transformer, while at the same time, an increase in the selectivity of the receiver might be obtained.

In order that the intensity of signal currents may be retained when the coupling is reduced, both primary and secondary circuits are "tuned" to a given period of vibration. This is accomplished by a variation of inductance or capacity in the circuit, and results in a condition of "resonance." Far better all round results with inductively coupled receivers, be they crystal detector or vacuum tube types, are had when, decidedly "loose" coupling is adhered to. This requires more exact tuning of both primary and secondary circuits. The signal strength, however, remains the same, and the receiver is rendered comparatively free from interference.

FLASHING AIR WAVES MAKE BIRDS SING

BY PAUL F. GODLEY
America's Foremost Radio Authority
An amusing fifteen minutes was spent at the recent radio conference in Washington in the discussion of that someone cleverly termed: "Radio 'canary birds'." Almost everyone who has listened to broadcast programs has heard the like-like notes which slide up and down the scale, sometimes rather weak and often very strong. Occasionally they are so annoying as to render the reception of the broadcasting impossible, particularly in those places which are at some distance from the station. In most cases these "signals" are caused by receivers acting as miniature transmitters. When the whistle is prolonged at a same pitch for an hour or more, it may be the result of interaction between two broadcasting stations. In any case, the whistles are the result of beats, occurring between two otherwise inaudible electro-magnetic waves. The beats are produced only when the signals are coming in. When no signal is incoming, the locally generated signal energy will be unheard because its rate of variation is far above audibility.

Generators
All regenerative receivers may actually act as generators of electro-magnetic waves. The "frequency" of the wave generated will depend upon the wave length to which the receivers are tuned. The simpler types of regenerative receivers are the worst offenders.

To gain simplicity, the antenna is usually connected directly to the source of the electrical oscillations. The more selective and complex types of regenerative receivers, while capable of acting as transmitters, offend to a less degree. Listeners should endeavor to avoid this effect in using their regenerative receivers. It may bother the neighbors.

BOSTON MAN SLAIN

Slayer Says He Was Quicker on Draw and Shot Alleged "Black Handers"

BOSTON, June 22.—Because, he claims, he was quicker on the draw than Edward Spirito of 33 Snow Hill street, North End, Biagelo Vessella, 28, of 7 Huron street, East Water-town, shot Spirito dead on Thatcher street, North End, yesterday afternoon, after he charges, Spirito had demanded $200 from him. Vessella fired two bullets into Spirito's head.
Another bullet struck Mrs. Tommaso Spirito, 27 North Marginal street, a passerby, in the left leg.
Following the shooting, Vessella ran from the scene, pursued by Patrolman H. A. Chalmers of Station 1 through Thatcher street to Endicott street, to Causeway street, where, at the corner of Medford street he was overtaken and arrested.
The shooting caused a future of excitement in the section and the subsequent chase caused pedestrians hurrying through the rain to rush into the wayside to escape possible shots from the revolver of the escaping killer.
After the capture Vessella was brought back to Thatcher street and he, Spirito and Mrs. Vessella were then taken to the Lymarket Square Relief hospital. It was found that Spirito was dead. Mrs. Vessella was placed under treatment. It is not thought that her condition is serious.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND
Tom Mix opens up a three day's engagement at the Strand, starting today. He carries with him a score of new stunts and thrills. The story of the story is in Russia where Tom shows a gang of Cossacks how to think and act fast. Before he is through with them they are fully convinced that this fast American is a record smasher of high degree. It has been humor and enough thrills to satisfy all. Eva Novak is playing opposite the star.

"Second Hand Rose" has as its principal character an Irish girl who was brought up by a Jewish family in a pawnshop. In it the atmosphere of the natural Irish instinct had about it much chance for development. Many other highly improbable things. All poor Rose got was second-hand things from an Irishman to a husband. Miss Walton seems particularly well equipped to portray the role assigned to her, and assisting are Jack Donaghy, Edward Sutherland and others of note.

Resides these two features, there is the usual comedy and weekly, as well as music and piano selection by Miss D. Thibault; recitation, "Our Country and Schools Forever," the graduates; addresses, Miss Juliette Houle and Master Raymond Baril; chorus, "Rondeau Canadienne"; tambourine and ribbon drill by the grammar graduates; address, Miss Mary Dery.

CEMENT GARAGE SLIPS DOWN HILL

LAWRENCE, June 22.—A cement garage, containing a touring car and a sedan machine, broke from its ground about 6 o'clock last night on the top of a 25-foot slope at Haverhill and Milton streets, when the loose stone wall shoring up the banking, with a mass of muddy soil, slid into the hollow of a back yard. The garage, built a year ago at a cost of $1000, was destroyed. The two automobiles, sliding the declivity on the soft mud, were not damaged.
The garage was owned by Harry Steinberg. The sedan was owned by Harry Elmhorn, and the touring car by Steinberg.

WORKING GIRLS SELL BRICKS TO EARN CLUBHOUSE

To raise $50,000 to build a working girls' clubhouse, New York girl workers, aided by society women, are selling bricks—not gold ones—at $1 each. The clubhouse will be operated by the Women's Trade Union League, but will be open to all employed women.

BOMB WRECKS HOUSE

Home of Pawtucket Mill Workers Damaged—Two Injured—Man Arrested

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 22.—Louis Frates is detained at the police station for examination in connection with the explosion at a house in Elm street occupied by mill workers late last night. The bomb shattered the front of a three tenement building and broke windows and otherwise damaged adjoining houses. Two men were injured, but not seriously, and the lives of 17 persons in the house were placed in jeopardy. The men injured are Jas. Pina, cut on the arm, face and body by glass, and Tullio Dattos who was thrown out of bed by the explosion and cut on the face by glass and bruised.
Soon after the explosion deputy sheriffs who are guarding mill property in the city assisted the police, Victor Texara, the owner of the house, told the police that Frates had threatened him about a week ago and had advised him to get rid of tenants who were employed in mills affected by the strike. Frates, who lives in the vicinity, was afterwards identified by Texara and taken to the police station, but no charge has yet been entered against him.
Chief of Police Hill said after an investigation he had been unable to connect Frates with the explosion but intended to have him arraigned on the charge of threatening Texara.

NEW TREASURE HUNTS

Two More Parties Organized and Will Soon Depart From New York

NEW YORK, June 22.—On the heels of the news that gold diggers were seeking a lost Jesuit treasure in the Wyre river, Canada, and that an expedition had just left New York for the Belgian Congo, there to search for precious metals, announcement has been made of two new treasure hunts that have been organized and will soon depart.
Today are men, one from Elizabeth and two from Newark, N. J., with two from White Plains, N. Y., will sail for an island off Nova Scotia in search of a legendary $50,000,000 hoard. Edward W. Bowne of Newark, who heads the searchers, said a resident of California told him that during a war between South American countries many years ago, the national treasure of one of the participants was put on a ship to save it from capture. The vessel escaped and on reaching the Canadian coast, the treasure was buried. Bowne said the treasure was buried. Bowne said the California convinced him that he held the secret of the treasure and decided to lead the search.
The other treasure hunters will sail July 1 on the steamer Blakely, which has been especially equipped to raise $500,000 in coin and bullion which went down on the Lusitania when it was sunk by a German submarine. Captain B. B. Leavitt will be in command of the expedition. The American expedition will sail in the face of threats of an English concern that it has contracts to salvage of the Lusitania.

BALL GAME SUNDAY AT SPALDING PARK

With prospects of good weather for the remainder of the week, Manager Ray Foye of the Centralville has arranged a game for Sunday afternoon at Spalding park with the Boston Tigers, an aggregation of colored ball players who have been meeting and beating all comers. With so hard a contest in view, Manager Foye will put an all-star team in the field, with the regular twilight league lineup augmented by other strong players in the league. This should make one of the finest attractions offered Lowell fans for some time, as the visitors always go the limit to win and the Lowell team intends to tool them once.

FIREMEN'S BALL GAME CALLED OFF

The baseball game between the Second Shift baseball team of the Lowell fire department and the fire fighters of Lynn, which was scheduled to be played in East Lynn this afternoon, has been called off because of wet grounds. The Lowell players were scheduled to go to Lynn in the early part of the week, but the rain interfered with their trip and the game was postponed until this afternoon. No definite date has been set for the game, but it is expected it will be played some time next week.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURES BY RADIO!

The first illustrated lecture by radio was delivered recently from broadcasting station WFO at Dayton, O., by Ralph Hayes Hamilton of Xenia, O. While he talked into the microphone, colored pictures were projected in the studio. Duplicate sets in other cities were arranged in the same order, so that they were shown as the lecture was being received by radio. In the picture, Hamilton is seen giving his illustrated radio lecture.

Victim Struck by Two Shots

Officer Dies of Wounds

Six men in all are believed to have been implicated in the attack, and a house to house search by detectives was being made this afternoon in the vicinity of the crime.

The police station is near the Wilson residence and a number of the policemen quickly turned out in their automobiles. One of the police received a serious wound in the stomach. He died later in a hospital.

A civilian who joined the pursuit in a motor car was wounded in the leg. The arrested men, the Central News states, gave the names of James O'Brien, aged 24, no occupation, no address; and James Connelly, aged 24, no occupation, no address.

Replying to a question on the assassination of Field Marshal Wilson, put by Lord Carson in the house of lords, Lord Chancellor Birkenhead said that two men had been arrested thus far. He understood they had been arrested under circumstances which rendered their active complicity in the affair certain.

A few months ago Field Marshal Wilson accepted an appointment as military adviser to the Ulster government and made frequent visits to Ulster. He spent most of his time in London, however, attending the house of commons.

The death of Field Marshal Wilson was announced in the house of commons by Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, who moved the adjournment of the house as a mark of respect.

Mr. Chamberlain stated that the field marshal's house had been broken into by two men, who carried firearms and were now in custody, and that he had been shot dead.

Eye-Witnesses Describe Shooting

Witnesses who described the shooting to the Central News said that when the field marshal alighted from his car and was crossing the pavement the first shot was fired. The victim staggered and nearly fell. He was reeling when the second and third shots quickly followed the first. Policemen rushed up, whereupon the assassins turned their weapons on the officers, of whom there were four, two being seriously wounded.

Field Marshal Wilson had been under police protection for some time as the authorities had reason to suspect an attempt on his life. Policemen were actually at the door of his residence when his assailants approached and opened fire.

With the Wilson assassination as their immediate incentive, the "Die Hard" conservatives will move the adjournment of the house of commons tomorrow to obtain a statement from the government as to what steps it is taking to preserve life in Ireland and in England.

Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson was formerly of the Imperial general staff of the British army. He retired from this post early in the present year and stood for the imperial parliament as union candidate for North Down, Ireland. He was elected member for this Ulster district on February 21, and shortly afterward, was appointed by Premier Craig as Ulster's prime agent for the restoration of order.

The field marshal went to Belfast from England early in March with plans for restoring order which he submitted to the premier.

While the choice of Field Marshal Wilson as organizer of pacification measures was favorably received by Ulster, it had a contrary reception in southern Ireland. The former British chief of staff was regarded there with more or less the same feeling as Sir Edward Carson, the former Ulster leader, and pretensions were freely voiced in the south that he would be strongly in sympathy with the Orange side of the feud between the two factions.

Sensation in Belfast

BELFAST, June 22.—(By the Associated Press) The news of the assassination of Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson created a sensation in Belfast, where it is feared it will provoke reprisals. The Sinn Feiners are popularly blamed for it. They are also being accused of the move made a few nights ago against Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, when an attack was made upon Stormont Castle, his official residence. Field Marshal Wilson was a popular figure in Ulster. Premier Craig and the members of the Northern cabinet were deeply moved by news of the tragedy, and as a mark of sympathy at mourning, the Ulster house of commons adjourned until Wednesday.

3000 REWARD FOR BOMBERS

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 22.—Mayor Robert A. Kenyon today offered a reward on behalf of the city of $500 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the bomb throwers, responsible for the damaging of a mine occupied by mill workers here.

23 CHILDREN RESCUED

Removed From Orphanage When Explosion Filled Basement With Smoke

SPRINGFIELD, June 22.—Twenty-three children, nine of whom were ill in bed with measles, were removed from the Children's Home orphanage, today, following an explosion of chemicals in the basement that filled the building with smoke. Mrs. Mary A. Copp, 75, night nurse, who was asleep, was overcome by smoke and had to be carried down a ladder by firemen from the second story.

Of the children in the building, 14 were recovering from an attack of measles and were still confined to the building. These were easily marshaled out of the building by the attendants, but the other nine were removed in their cribs.

A janitor, Bruce Morton, was removing from a barrel in the basement chemicals that were to be used to disinfect the building when the liquid exploded from contact with the flame of a candle he was using. Smoke quickly swept up through the upper stories of the building. Morton suffered severe burns.

HER CONDITION IS STILL SERIOUS

Little Virginia Mahoney, six-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Mahoney of 16 Dover street, who sustained serious injuries when she was struck by an automobile about a week ago, is reported as showing little, if any, improvement. It was stated at the hospital that the little girl has partially recovered consciousness, but her name is still on the dangerous list.

15,000 TROOPS HAVE MUTINIED

New Republican Regime in China Receiving Baptism of Blood

Thousands of Persons in Kiangsi Province Reported to Have Been Slain

PEKING, June 22.—(By the Associated Press) The newly established republican regime in China apparently is receiving that baptism of blood without which few new governments have fixed themselves in power. Between 15,000 and 18,000 troops of the forces under Wu Pei-fu, chief military leader of the new government, have mutinied and slain thousands of persons in Kiangsi province, according to reports reaching here.

The British gunboat Cockchafer entered Poyang lake, a large inland body of water in the northern end of Kiangsi province to pick up foreigners in danger at Nanchang. The American gunboat Monterey probably will follow the Cockchafer. Northern reinforcements

For two days reports of various nature have been coming in regarding Dr. Sun's whereabouts and plans.

LAWRENCE FIRE DEPT. IS UP TO DATE

Members of the city council committee on public safety who went to Lawrence yesterday to watch the exhibition with the meeting of the Fire Lions staged with apparatus of the Lawrence fire department in connection with the meeting of the Fire Chiefs' club of Massachusetts, came home most favorably impressed and with the firm conviction that the Lowell completely motorizes its department, the better.

They feel that Lowell may well pattern its procedure in relation to the development of its fire department on what Lawrence has accomplished in the past six months, during which time motor apparatus has been purchased to do away with 10 horses. Now there is not a horse in the entire department.

It has been in the mind of Councilor Fred Sadler, chairman of the public safety committee, that at an early date he would present an order in some form in the amount of $50,000, which would purchase enough apparatus to completely motorize the local department and it is believed that yesterday's trip will hasten the day when this will be accomplished.

HON. JOHN N. COLE'S VIEWPOINT

In his talk before the Rotary club of Lowell, Hon. John N. Cole, head of the state department of public works, in discussing transportation problems, took occasion to condemn certain waterway projects as impractical and not likely to bring about any improvement in transportation conditions. He said the St. Lawrence navigation scheme if carried out would be very detrimental to New England, although Col. Gow of the Boston chamber of commerce recently came out in a strong address favoring the scheme as a means of saving New England industries from the effects of ruinous competition from the middle west and the south and from railroad discrimination, which has been in operation for many years.

In reference to the Merrimack river project Mr. Cole allowed that it was wholly impracticable and that if the river were navigable it would be available only for about nine months in the year. It is true that the river is usually ice free for about two or three months at the most; but if it were navigable, the passage of vessels up and down would undoubtedly impede the channel clear. The ice in mid-stream is never very thick so that it does not attach much weight to this particular objection offered by Mr. Cole. Mr. Cole must be aware that several rivers of the United States have been made navigable despite much greater obstacles than those to be encountered in the Merrimack. Many examples might be drawn from European rivers which have been made navigable and now serve a very useful purpose in affording the means of transporting the products of industry to the seaboard. Mr. Cole did not say that the St. Lawrence project is not feasible, although it would be a gigantic undertaking as compared with that of the Merrimack. We do not suppose that Mr. Cole was talking against his convictions, but if he were a railroad magnate he could not talk more strongly against the use of inland waterways for transportation purposes.

It is nothing new for Mr. Cole to condemn such waterway projects as not likely to prove a paying investment. His statement is doubtless based upon existing conditions. It does not take into account the permanent benefits to be conferred upon the industries of the Merrimack valley and the array of new industries that would soon spring up along the banks of the Merrimack as a result of the advantages of cheap transportation to the seaboard afforded by the navigable river. The cost of the undertaking at present would be too high; but the advocates of this improvement want the whole question, postponed without prejudice until construction costs are much lower. New Bedford and Fall River, two great mill cities, have the advantage of ocean freightage; but Lowell industries are at the mercy of the railroads except so far as they can offset it by motor trucks. From this they would be in a measure relieved if the Merrimack were navigable. On the St. Lawrence project Mr. Cole voices the contention of the organized railroad opposition, which is naturally subservient to railroad interests rather than those of New England. His conclusions on the Merrimack project seem to have been reached under equally prejudiced influences.

CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY

Secretary Hughes in an address before the University of Michigan pleaded for a new sense of civic responsibility in matters of international concern, claiming that much harm is done by the expressions of individuals or groups sometimes wholly unrepresentative, but which when reported abroad are usually accepted as the voice of public sentimentations.

In regard to domestic relations he deplored the fact that our form of government the members of the cabinet are not allowed to go before congress and discuss measures under consideration so that those who are entrusted with the responsibility of legislation might have accurate knowledge of the issues involved. In this respect, while he did not mention any particular government, he obviously favored the British system under which cabinet officials are members of parliament and may be called upon at any time to explain conditions in their respective departments. As this plan is often favorably commented upon it would not be surprising if ultimately an amendment to the constitution should be advocated in order to give the cabinet officials an opportunity to discuss measures before congress, even though they were not privileged to take part in the debates. Such an arrangement could do no harm and it might accomplish much good in affording congress a means of securing authentic information that would not otherwise be available. Here for example, Secretary Hughes and Secretary of War Weeks delivering public addresses, both in Michigan and yet directing their remarks chiefly at congress. If Secretary Weeks were privileged to address congress we venture to say he would not charge as he did that congress never was at such a low ebb as at present. He has stirred up the republican leaders to such an extent that some of them have suggested his removal; but President Harding, while he cannot resist such an attack upon congress, is not likely to do anything about it. He has troubles enough in hand without setting out to discipline his friend Weeks. As for Secretary Hughes, his recent grievance seems to be that the treaties adopted at the Washington conference seem to be misunderstood, and he would gladly go before congress to explain them; but nobody except himself sees the necessity of such action.

IRISH ELECTION RETURNS

The returns of the Irish election indicate a predominance of public sentiment for the treaty. It is true, that the treaty was not submitted for adoption or rejection; but the voters were aware that one set of candidates favored the treaty and that another set opposed it. As a result they gave their support very generally to the pro-treaty candidates.

Previous to the election, Messrs. Collins and De Valera agreed upon a coalition ticket that, if elected, would have given the treaty party but a small majority; but the people did not like the arrangement and as a result, they voted for labor candidates and independents, most of whom are in favor of the treaty.

The result will be that while the republican party will have a reduced minority in the new parliament, it will be sufficient to maintain a healthy opposition without blocking the progress of business.

For better or worse, it appears that the people are for the treaty by a large majority. This may result in the speedy restoration of peace. The new parliament is to meet next month and after the lineup of the various elements, it will be seen to what extent the members will exert themselves for establishing peace throughout the island.

It should be understood that the treaty is not yet in force and that the new parliament, like the old Dail Eireann, will be but a provisional government, preparatory to the adoption of the treaty under a new register at an election to be held in December next. After that will come the question of whether Ulster will join in and cast her lot with the other provinces in working for a united and prosperous Ireland. The decision upon the treaty will rest with the people and before the time for the election arrives, the voting list will be revised so as to allow all who are legally entitled to the franchise the privilege of voting. It looks as if the people themselves will now settle the question unless present indications are misleading. There will doubtless be some amendments in the constitution before it is adopted.

THE BONUS FIGHT

Senator David I. Walsh threw the republicans of the United States senate into a state of consternation on Tuesday when he submitted a motion to give the bonus precedence over the tariff. It was an ill omened day for Senator McCumber, who had promised to support this motion but who was pulled into line under the crack of the party whip. As a result he was castigated by Senator Walsh for having broken his word but he made several futile attempts to explain, every effort apparently serving only to place him more deeply in the mire. Finally he managed to say that he is a poor pilot, who having set out on a definite course and finding rocks in his path, cannot steer into safe waters. He tried to get under cover; but his attitude was criticized alike by the democratic minority and the republican majority. The fight was fiercely waged and the republicans had a real scare as there were many dissident senators of that party who were ready to stand by the democratic minority led by Senator Walsh. Finally the division showed that President Harding's appeal to disavow the bonus had its effect with the republicans as the vote stood 61 to lay the motion on the table and 22 opposed, with 23 absent. But that did not end the conflict and another motion was made and carried, giving the bonus the right of way after the tariff. That was a partial victory for Senator Walsh. The fight may be renewed by other senators, but it will be useless to bring it up again as the republicans are now hanked against it as a result of President Harding's protest.

MARCONI'S SEARCHLIGHT

Anything coming from Marconi in relation to radio progress must command instant attention. Now he announces that he has discovered a means of producing a powerful searchlight by which light can be transmitted by radio waves in one direction so as to be of incalculable benefit at sea. He has even outlined how this searchlight can be used to penetrate a fog and thus let a befogged ship know her location.

Next to the ability to call for help when in distress, this new discovery is one of the utmost importance and one that will result in reducing the number of disasters at sea and, therefore, the loss of life.

This is but one of many new applications of the wireless which Mr. Marconi has under way as the result of a long series of experiments. He is the wizard of the wireless and when he speaks, the world is bound to listen. Edison has had his day of productive electric discovery; but it seems that the crown is passing to Marconi, who is rapidly developing the amazing wonders of wireless.

At last France has consented to enter the Hague conference on condition that all decisions reached will have to be approved by the home government. That is a safe reservation and it will relieve the French delegates at The Hague of a great deal of responsibility. The decision, however, has renewed the hope that something really worth while will be accomplished.

The man who enters into an arrangement with outside newspapers to blacken and defame Lowell, must have some ulterior and selfish purpose in doing so. But why he should set out to discredit Supt. Atkinson's administration is not yet clear to the public mind. It may come out later, however.

SEEN AND HEARD

Most all of the new tariff duties are painful duties.

Money is different from people. Idle money doesn't talk.

The ex-kaiser's memoirs will be published in September. The melancholy days are coming.

In Detroit, a man married a widow with 12 children. This puts the aviator who dropped four miles in second place.

A Thought

Hope is itself a species of happiness and perhaps the chief happiness which this world affords; but like all other pleasures, its excesses must be explained by pain; and expectations improperly indulged must end in disappointment.—Samuel Johnson.

Intelligent Dog

Johnson putted Jackson's dog on the head. "A nice little dog," he said. "But why don't you teach it some tricks?" Jackson was a man who lacked energy. "I've tried," he replied. "but the dog won't learn." "Not much intelligence," quipped Johnson. "Too much," answered Jackson. "I can tell by the expression on his face that the dog doesn't see any more sense in the tricks than I do."

Is That All?

After all sorts of hints, Johnny succeeded in getting a dime from his mother, but he failed to thank her for it. Whereupon the mother, ashamed of her child's rudeness, remonstrated: "Johnny, you are awfully forgetful. What would you say when you get something?" "I can't tell," was Johnny's only reply. "You can't tell? Why Johnny, it's awful! What does mamma say when papa gives her money?" "Is that all?"

She Was In Doubt

Mrs. Newrich had taken the English manor on a long lease, but she was not "to the manor born," and she and her daughter had set themselves out to impress the neighborhood. The village busybody wanted to find out all about them. "Where did you live here last year?" she asked Mrs. Newrich. "O, we've been abroad," returned the girl, evading the question. "Really? How delightful! Then, of course, dear Mrs. Newrich, you know Monte Carlo?" Mrs. Newrich became flustered. "Do we know it, Mary?" she appealed to her daughter. "I'm sure I don't know. We met so many of these swells."

Let He Was Sick

Mr. Tomkins was waiting for Miss Smithers, who had not quite finished her toilet. Jimmy was sent down to entertain him. "Do you like taffy?" asked Jimmy. "Very much," said Mr. Tomkins. "Here you are, then," said Jimmy, thrusting a rather sticky lump in his hands. "Thanks," said Mr. Tomkins, regarding it doubtfully. He would rather have thrown it out of the window, but he did not want to make an enemy of Jimmy, so he swallowed it. "Like it?" said Jimmy. "Very much," was the reply. "Well, didn't I give it to him twice, but he spit it out each time."

Today's Word

Today's word is reprisal. It's pronounced—re-priz-al, with accent on the second syllable. It means an act of retaliation, public or private, in international law it signifies a resort to force, short of war, to procure redress of grievances—especially a resort to retaliatory acts of violence of those complained of, it comes from—French "reprandre," to take back, the French having borrowed originally from the Latin, "repraesendere." It's used like this—"In some quarters it is urged that foreign ships be forbidden to bring toxicant into American waters even under seal, but fears are entertained that this would provoke reprisals against American shipping abroad."

As Others See Us

Miss Helen Fraser, returning to England, tells her English sisters that the American wife is sitting pretty on top of the world. "The American wife's family life is as impressive as the glittering perfection of her home," says Miss Fraser. "She usually gets the best of it. Especially in smaller towns the women are fond of and even clover in their homes. Many of them do all their own housework in the morning and afternoon. In the social structure of America the men and women's organizations run on parallel lines, but never meet. We have more unity here in England in the big things of life, and the sexes work in combination more. In politics, too, their position is not so good as ours, principally because too few of the best men go in for political life." Nothing like seeing ourselves as others see us, especially if they are from "Hingland."

Where Cometh My Help?

From the book, "A Lonely Place," Published by Houghton, Mifflin

Let me sleep among the shadows of the mountains when I die,
In the murmur of the pines and sliding streams,
Where the long day lingers by
Like a cloud across the sky—
And the moon-drenched night is musical with dreams.

Lay me down within a canyon of the mountains far away,
In a valley filled with dim and rosy light,
Where the flashing rivers play
Out across the golden day—
And a noise of many waters brings me to the night.

Let me lie where glinting rivers ramble down the slanted hills,
Under bending alders gormous and cool,
Where they gather in the shade
To the dazling, shimmering cascade,
Where they plunge and sleep within the pebbled pool.

All the wisdom, all the beauty I have Lived for unaware,
Came upon me by the rote of highland hills;
I have seen God walking there
In the morning, sounder than
When the morning wakened wonder in the hills.

I am what the mountains made me of
Their green and gold and gray,
Of the dawnlight and the moonlight
And the foam,
Miles of nothing far away,
Ye who washed my soul in spray—
I am coming, mother mountains, coming home.

When I draw my dreams about me,
When I leave the darkling plain,
Where my soul forgets to roar and
To learn to follow,
I shall go back home again
To the kingdoms of the rain—
To the blue purlieus of Heaven, nearer God.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

It has been noted during the recent damp cold weather that the electric cars for Lowell used nightly by hundreds of local people have been sent out from the car barns with practically all windows open and no way for the riding public to keep out the cold save by pulling down the curtains and hooting them down. Shutting off all view of the landscape. These cars are equipped with windows which can be closed or adjusted only by those who are familiar with their mechanism, and even then with considerable difficulty. The same condition has prevailed to a somewhat less extent on other lines, but the shorter rides and less crowded conditions have not exposed so many to colds and wettings. I think it a useful suggestion to the street railway officials that they take notice of this, and have the men at the car barns regulate the position of the cars with regard to the weather before they are taken from the barns. With young folks leaving a dance hall and sitting for nearly a half-hour in a cold, draughty car with nothing but summer clothing to protect them, this is probably the best portion of the car with the shortest ride.

The receipt by so many local young men of law degrees at the time commencement this year seems likely to result in a surplus of legal talent in this city. But one of them, so far as I know, has signified his intentions of carrying his talents to another, and perhaps a more fertile field. This situation is nothing new, however, and in the past a solution has been found by practically every legal graduate, and it is to be hoped that this year's recruits to the profession will be equally successful in finding openings. No doubt many of them have had something in view for a long time, principally in the line of entering the offices of established attorneys in somewhat minor capacities. Others have already acquired reputations for shrewdness and ability which will tend to give them the needed assistance in getting an independent start. Here's good luck to them all, anyway, and may they all enjoy the fruits of their hard study in qualifying for the legal profession.

The announcement in yesterday's Sun that Rev. Francis J. Keenan is to leave St. Patrick's parish to go to St. John's seminary in Brighton where he will join the teaching staff, has caused profound regret not only in St. Patrick's parish, but among the young men's many friends in other parishes. Rev. Fr. Keenan is a highly gifted speaker and a profound student; yet one of the most humble and unassuming of men. During his three years' service in St. Patrick's parish, he has endeared himself to young and old by his zeal for the welfare of the people and his readiness at all times to work for the welfare of those entrusted to his charge and in the conscientious discharge of every duty.

EXAMINATION FOR FIELD SERVICE

A stenographer and typist examination for the field service, that is, for positions outside Washington, D. C. will be held in this city June 24. Vacancies in the United States Veterans' bureau, in the office of the federal prohibition director, in the customs, internal revenue, and other branches of the government service in New England will be filled as a result of this examination. Eligibles will be first certified who were examined at the place where a vacancy exists, and in the event there are not enough eligibles to fill the vacancy, the nearest place to which a vacancy exists will be next certified, etc. Several appointments have been made in the United States Veterans' bureau and in the office of the federal prohibition director and it is expected that many more will be made. This examination is open to both men and women who are citizens of the United States; age 18 to 70 on the date of examination. Persons interested should at once apply for information to the secretary of the board of civil service examiners at any first or second class postoffice, or the district secretary, custom house tower, Boston. Applications must be filed with the district secretary in time to arrange for the examination.

MR. BERNSTEIN WILL VISIT EUROPE

Mr. George Bernstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Bernstein, of 317 Westford street, is leaving for Europe on Saturday. He will spend the summer travelling in England, France, Germany, Austria, Italy and Spain. Mr. Bernstein was graduated from Lowell high school a Carney medal scholar in 1918. He received his A. B. degree from Harvard in 1921 with distinction in the general field and with the special "cum laude" in mathematics. The last year he was at the Harvard Law school and taught mathematics both at Harvard and Radcliffe.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Bernstein will accompany George to New York where he sails on the famous steamship, the Olympic. In September Mr. Bernstein will return to continue his study of law at the Harvard Law school.

TEXAS COMPANY GETS NAVY CONTRACT

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Texas company, producers of Texaco Petroleum products, has just been awarded by the navy department the contract for furnishing motor and aviation gasoline to the United States navy for all naval vessels and navy yards at all points along the Atlantic and Gulf coast seaboard, from Maine to Texas. The contract is a new, that is, a new and varied field, and required, including harbor barge, tank car, tank wagon, drums, cans and casks.

The ports of delivery include Portland, Boston, Providence, New York, Charleston, Savannah, Jacksonville, New Orleans, and many others. The Texas company's great facilities for distribution make it possible for it to comply with the navy's requirements for delivery.

HARVARD CONFERRED 13 HONORARY DEGREES

CAMBRIDGE, June 22.—Harvard university conferred 13 honorary degrees and 1401 regular degrees at its 285th commencement exercises today. The honorary degrees were as follows:

Doctor of Laws—Oscar Wilder Underwood, United States senator from Alabama; John Weston Allen, attorney general of Massachusetts; John George Sullivan, New York city attorney; Frederick Jessup Stimson, attorney, first American ambassador to Argentina; Dr. Walter Belknap James, New York city; William Proctor Gould Harding, governor of the federal reserve board; Charles Richard Crane, New York city.

Doctor of Letters—Judge Robert Grant, Boston, author and former president of the Harvard board of overseers.

Doctor of Divinity—Rev. Henry Sloane Coffin, New York city.

Master of Arts—John Alden Carpenter, Chicago, composer; Charles Howard Strong, New York city attorney; Ellis Loring Dresel, recent American representative at Berlin; William Phillips, under-secretary of state.

The commencement exercises, held this morning in Harvard yard, were to be followed this afternoon by the annual luncheon. During the day balloting was in progress for five places on the university board of overseers and three places on the directorate of the Alumni Association.

The candidates for the board of overseers were as follows:

Dr. William S. Thayer, Baltimore; Charles A. Coolidge, Boston; William N. Neilson, Northampton, president of Smith college; Samuel S. Drury, Concord, N. H., headmaster of St. Paul's school; Herbert Parsons, Lancaster, former attorney general; Roger Pierce, Milton; Joseph Lee, Milton; Henry James, New York; Jeremiah Smith, Cambridge, and B. Loring Young, speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives.

The agreement leaves only one question of importance to be decided by the committee already having settled on an enlisted strength of 12,500 for the next year.

Methods of reducing the number of officers for the present number of more than 13,000 to that prescribed by the bill have proved a stumbling block and it was said after today's meeting that in all probability the senate amendment covering the reduction would have to be rewritten before it would be acceptable to the house delegation. Several members of the conference felt, however, that another day or two would result in an agreement on that feature.

Y. M. C. A. DEBATING TEAM VICTORIOUS

The Lowell Y.M.C.A. debating team was victorious in its debate with the Lynn team held in the Shoe city last night. The local team was awarded points for better English and better presentation while, according to the judges, the Lynn team presented the better arguments. The subject was: "Resolved, that unions of labor are a help and not a detriment." The Lowell team, consisting of Frank B. Murphy and L. N. Cushman, upheld the affirmative, while the Lynn team, composed of Edward McKecknie and Dr. C. O. Bixby, took the negative. The judges were representatives of Lynn, Lowell and Salem Rotary clubs. W. Blake Irvine represented the Lowell club. A return debate will be held in the fall.

HIBERNIAN OUTING AT NEWTON HIGHLANDS

What promises to be a real climax in Hibernian circles will be the big outing arranged for next Sunday at the Working Boys' home, Newton Highlands, when the divisions of all the towns and cities of Middlesex county will meet.

The Charles river runs through the sixty acres comprising the grounds of the home, and a general good time is anticipated. A fine musical program has been arranged, and speakers of note will address the combined divisions and their guests.

The home is conducted by the Navorian brothers, a former Lowell boy being in charge. The Lowell Hibernians have made arrangements to go over the road in trucks.

DEFEAT FOR THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT

LONDON, June 22.—(By the Associated Press)—The government yesterday met with defeat in the house of lords on its Palestine mandate policy. By a vote of 60 to 29 the house declared for a postponement of the Palestine mandate in order to bring it into relations with the government's pledges to the people of Palestine.

The defeat is not expected to involve the resignation of the government, but it is considered as damaging to the government's political credit, coming, as it does, after similar incidents in both houses of parliament. It probably will have some influence, however, on the government's subsequent policy.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem DO IT NOW

Every year I chant this ballad:
"Swat the fly!"
It's advice that's always valid,
Swat the fly!
When borne in on summer breezes,
He alights on cakes and cheeses,
Swat the fly!

Do it now and do not wait to
Swat the fly!
Though it never is too late to
Swat the fly!
When he buzzes, when he's quiet,
Grab the swatter and apply it,
Get him quick, you ought to try it,
Swat the fly!

When you have the chance don't fail to
Swat the fly!
Swat the female and the male, too;
Swat the fly!
Poison him with deadly potions,
Capture him with sticky lotions,
Also, with unerring motions,
Swat the fly!

Now that summer is before us,
Swat the fly!
While we all repeat in chorus,
"Swat the fly!"
What I shout to you again is,
"Swat the fly, for he's a menace;
Till the last one's name is Dennis,
Swat the fly!"

15,000 Women Meet This Month To Clean Movies, War on Billboards

MRS. IRA COUCH WOOD, of Chicago, chairman of division of child welfare, department of public welfare of General Federation of Women's Clubs, who will start a campaign at the convention for child welfare.

MRS. F. E. HUMPHREY, of Reno, Nev., chairman of division of industrial and social conditions, department of public welfare, a convention speaker on betterment of women and children in industry.

MRS. THOMAS G. WINTER, of Minneapolis, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, candidate for re-election without opposition. She was a woman member of the advisory committee to the Washington arms conference.

MRS. WALTER McNABB MILLER, of St. Louis, chairman of public health committee of General Federation of Women's Clubs, who will launch a national campaign at the convention for "A high moral standard—the same for men as for women."

MRS. JAMES E. HAYS, of Montezuma, Ga., president of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, president of the Southeastern Council and candidate for national recording secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

MRS. PERCY V. PENNYBACKER, of Austin, Tex., past president of General Federation of Women's Clubs; president Chautauqua Women's Club, and official convention hostess, fighting to establish July 4 as National Citizenship Day.

(By N.E.A. Service)
CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., June 22.—Every problem of life worth while showing about will be wrestled with and discussed when some 15,000 women meet here June 20 to 30 for the annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Many club members will bring club bands and club families, along with their own families, and will stay through every state. Two fights stand out as likely, to the liveliest of the long schedule of events—movie reform and war on billboards. The battle for clean movies started when club women protested against showing of "Fatty" Arbuckle's. Now the fight is going a step further, with censorship a matter of convention debate. Will Hays, czar of the movies, will be the guest of honor June 23 and will talk on "Upbuilding the Nation's Life Through Motion Pictures." Producers and exhibitors will tell the women how they can help, and the climax probably will come with a speech by Mrs. Eli S. Hooper, member of the New York state censorship commission. A war on billboards is to be launched by Mrs. Rose V. C. Berry, of Berkeley, Cal., national fine arts chairman. A merry row is expected, for advertising and poster concerns will have representatives here to oppose the adoption of a resolution in favor of national legislation against billboard advertising. Politics will be at low ebb at this convention, for candidates for office have little or no opposition. Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, is a candidate for re-election as president following a two-year administration in which 750 new clubs have joined the federation, a contract let for the $100,000 headquarters in Washington, and cumbersome departments of federation work have been simplified.

The convention will open June 20 with meetings of the executive committee, the board of directors and the presidents of the 50 state federations (including Alaska, and the District of Columbia). At the formal opening the following morning Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, former national president and, as president of the Chautauqua Women's Club, the official hostess of the convention, will deliver the address of welcome.

Speeches and discussion during the ten days will touch such subjects as international relations, conservation of natural resources, art, music, highways, citizenship, home economics, education, literature, forestry, disarmament, soldier rehabilitation, public welfare, prison labor, social hygiene, child welfare, waterways, bird protection, civil service and workmen's compensation.

Other candidates for office besides Mrs. Winter are Mrs. W. S. Jennings of Florida, for first vice-president; Mrs. George Plummer of Chicago, for second vice-president; Mrs. James E. Hays of Georgia, for recording secretary; Mrs. Wallace T. Perham of Montana, for corresponding secretary; Mrs. Florence Floore of Texas, for treasurer.

An international program will be carried out in support of Mrs. Winter's plan for forming a world federation of women for the promotion and maintenance of permanent peace. Foreign countries will be represented, including England, France, Italy, Russia, Norway, China, New Zealand, Canada, Jugo-Slavia and Pan-American nations.

NEW DIRECTORS NAMED
PORTLAND, Me., June 22.—Samuel W. Philbrick of Skowhegan and Samuel Stewart of Auburn were added to the directorate of the Maine Central railroad yesterday.

Edward W. Wheeler of Brunswick recently was a director in addition to his new duties as general counsel of the road, and another director will be named, probably next month. The board is being increased from 11 to 15 in conformity with recommendations in the report at the annual meeting of the stockholders of a special committee which investigated railroad problems.

TO AMEND TARIFF BILL

Sen. Frelinghuysen Proposes Machinery for a Scientific Tariff

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Machinery for the construction of what was described as a scientific tariff based on the differences between conversion costs in this country and abroad, would be set up under an amendment to the pending tariff bill, proposed yesterday by Senator Frelinghuysen, republican, New Jersey, who as a member of the finance committee, helped draft the present measure.

Under the terms of the amendment, the tariff commission would be enlarged to ten members and would be required to recommend to congress not later than Dec. 1, 1923, and each six months thereafter, rates of duty necessary to equalize the differences in conversion costs as disclosed by investigations which it would make.

The members of the commission would be appointed by the president to hold office for life and receive salaries of $20,000 each, the same as cabinet officers. Not more than five of them could be of the same political party and none of them could engage actively in any private business, trade or profession.

Explaining his amendment, Senator Frelinghuysen declared the present tariff making system was both illogical and unscientific. Describing that system as "a complication of the statements of manufacturers, importers, merchants and farmers and of inconclusive data collected by government agencies inadequately equipped" the senator said the public mind was thoroughly awake to "the abuses of this system and to the necessity for reform."

Asserting that in offering his amendment he was not apologizing for the present tariff bill, Senator Frelinghuysen declared that to his mind that measure was as good as could be prepared under the circumstances, and should be passed as quickly as possible in order to remove from business the uncertainty that now existed.

Easy For Thin People to Put On Flesh and Gain Weight

In one month's time EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES puts on several pounds of solid red blooded flesh and changes your weak, run-down, nervous tired body into a strong, vigorous, robust one or money back.

Of course medical men are surprised and many are unbelievers, but the fact is evident to every up-to-date pharmacist that Evans' Triple Phosphates produce flesh without violent methods, face creams, daily massage or heavy torture.

In order to assimilate the nourishing food thin people daily take into the body and turn it into healthy red blood corpuscles, the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape, and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh.

Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy, sturdy flesh, and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty, nervous digestion. One month's treatment is guaranteed to increase your weight at least several pounds and in ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and desire to accomplish things. Fred Howard and his good doctor have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it, or money refunded.

Even though Evans' Triple Phosphates works wonders in all cases of nervous digestive and blood troubles, don't take it unless you really desire to put on flesh and gain weight.—Adv.

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no sight so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance.

When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Do the People Know?

Do you know why you are asked to call for Fletcher's Castoria when you want a child's remedy? why you must insist on Fletcher's? For years we have been explaining how the popularity of Fletcher's Castoria has brought out innumerable imitations, substitutes and counterfeits.

To protect the babies: to shield the homes and in defense of generations to come we appeal to the better judgment of parents to insist on having Fletcher's Castoria when in need of a child's medicine. And remember above all things that a child's medicine is made for children—a medicine prepared for grown-ups is not interchangeable. A baby's food for a baby. And a baby's medicine is just as essential for the baby.

The Castoria Recipe (it's on every wrapper) has been prepared by the same hands in the same manner for so many years that the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and perfection in the product are synonymous.

JEWISH CONFERENCE ELECTS OFFICERS

PROVIDENCE, June 22.—Election of officers and the adoption of a number of resolutions yesterday afternoon practically closed the national conference of Jewish social service, which has been in session since Sunday evening. A short meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon at Toussaint Synagogue, Newport, during an outing trip to that city.

Miss Frances Taussig of New York was elected president of the conference for the ensuing year. Other officers chosen were:

Vice presidents, Maurine B. Hexter of Boston, Philip Serman of Chicago and Miss Blanche Hart of Detroit; treasurer, Felix Vorenberg of Boston; secretary, Samuel A. Goldsmith of New York; assistant secretaries, Hyman Kaplan of Cincinnati, Mrs. Gertrude Dubinsky of Philadelphia, Leon Volmer of New Orleans and Samuel Goldhamer of Cleveland.

Members of the executive committee were elected for a three-year term as follows: Joseph Schonthal of Columbus, O., to succeed Bernard Greenfield of St. Louis; Henry Gluckman of New York, to succeed E. Irving Elpistich of San Francisco; M. J. Karpt of Chicago, to succeed the late Miss Minnie P. Low of Chicago, and Solomon Lowenstein of New York, to succeed Alfred C. Meyer of Chicago. Mr. Lowenstein retired as president for the past year.

An announcement was made that the next conference would be held, as usual, in the same city as that determined upon by the national conference of social work, which is expected to choose Washington next year as the location of its 50th anniversary convention.

BLACKHAND THREATS FOR ATTY. GENERAL

SPRINGFIELD, June 22.—In addressing the Kiwanis club yesterday afternoon at Hotel Kimball, Senator George D. Chamberlain said that threats had been made by blackhanders to get State Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen. One of the letters said in part:

"Your blood will be flowing in the streets of Boston, Joe Allen, when we get through with you."

HONORARY DEGREES AT BATES
LEWISTON, Me., June 21.—Four honorary degrees and 105 bachelor of arts and science degrees were granted by the president and trustees at the 56th commencement at Bates college today.

Urbio John P. Stevens now in Manchuria president of the Inter-Allied Technical Board in charge of Supervision of the Siberian and Chinese Eastern Railways the degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred (in absentia).

Mrs. Althea G. Quimby of Turner, president of the Maine Women's Christian Temperance Union, was granted the degree of Master of Arts. William B. Stevens bishop-conductor of Los Angeles was given the degree of doctor of divinity. He is a Bates graduate and known as one of the youngest bishops of the Episcopal church.

Loring W. Messer for 35 years secretary of the Chicago Y.M.C.A. received the degree of Doctor of Laws.

HIS 20TH BIRTHDAY

With six vocal and instrumental pupils participating, Edward Everett Adams gave his 20th birthday last night in Old Fellows hall, Middlesex St., and a splendid program was presented, as at previous events of like nature. Confined almost exclusively to the work of the old masters, the many numbers were a delight to all present. The vocal numbers were given by E.

Frances Foster and E. Irene Potter, and the piano selections by Catherine M. Walsh, Mary L. Willey, Araxie P. Kludjian and Henry W. A. Miller.

SURPRISE SHOWER

In honor of her approaching marriage a surprise shower was tendered recently by 30 of her shopmates to Miss Irene Handley in the home of Mrs. Catherine Flynn, 8 State street. Among the many presents was a Japanese dress which came from the party as a whole. An entertainment which consisted of piano selections, dancing, vocal solos and unity singing helped in making the party a pleasant one. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

While there is a full local boxing schedule, several out-of-town shows are creating considerable interest among local followers of the game.

The bout between Jack Malone and Mickey Walker, which was originally booked for the Arena A.C. of Boston for last Monday night, but which was postponed for a week, is attracting much attention. It is one of the biggest bouts attempted in this vicinity in some time. Both are noted fighters and are looked upon as two of the best men of their weight in the country. The additional week will give the boxers a better opportunity to train and it is expected the bout will prove a hummer.

The Unity club of Revere is to stage an open all show at the Revere beach track on Friday night and it has arranged a very high class card. In the main event, George Ward, of Elizabeth, will meet the latest welterweight sensation, will meet Nate Siegel of Revere in a 10-round number.

"Hambo" Kelly of South Boston and Nixie Scario of East Boston will clash in another 10-rounder. These boys are noted for their hitting ability and a knockout is expected to result in their number.

Porky Flynn and Tom Cotter will meet in another number. Pat McCarthy, the popular Boston light heavyweight, will tackle Jack McClelland of Somerville.

Weather permitting, the C.Y.M.I. track meet, scheduled for next Saturday afternoon on the South common, gives promise of being one of the big events in the history of the well known organization. The C.Y.M.I. has conducted many track meets, basketball games, baseball contests, etc., but the interest has been that the coming event will mark an epoch in lycium athletics. The committee in charge, headed by the capable and energetic Fred Flynn, has left no stone unturned to bring about a banner event. A list of valuable prizes has been collected, a long and splendid list of entries secured, and a capable and efficient corps of judges, etc., selected. All that remains to make it a "perfect day" is good atmospheric conditions.

Tug Bridgeford, of the Highland Daylights, who, according to the latest Twilight league averages, is setting the pace, was runner-up for the league batting honors last season. Bridgeford has always been a good hitter. His ability to clout the ball was the big reason for him abandoning the pitcher's mound for the outfield. Tug is a splendid southpaw fielder. But managers figure he is more valuable in every game as a hitter. He has developed into a very classy outfielder, a good base runner and a handy man to have around any old ball club. He has appeared in nine games, going to the bat 23 times, and has secured 14 hits for an average of .432.

Ray Pava, manager of the Centralvilles, follows Bridgeford with a mark of .454. While McCarthy, also of Centralvilles and for several weeks the league leader, comes fourth with .444. Benson, the hard hitting Broadway club outfielder, ranks next, with .437. Buckley, former manager of South End, but now playing fine ball for the Knights of Columbus fifth.

How to Play Baseball

New York Shortstop

If asked to give the two most important features of shortstop play, I would say, keep on your toes and always get the ball on the big bound. Never be caught flat-footed.

It is best to figure out what you will do with the ball if it comes to you. The shortstop must be ever alert, physically as well as mentally.

It is an easy matter to field a ground ball if you can play it on the big bound. The shortstop must figure the bounds the ball will take before it reaches him and play it accordingly.

Get Jump on Ball

Of course there are some batted balls that it is utterly impossible to get on the big bound. Balls that are hit on a line and land two or three feet in front of you are such a type. You must take them as they come, play them as best you can.

Be confident of yourself and get the jump on the throw. Always be in a position to throw without hesitating and play him accordingly. Deep on the slow men, close in on the fast boys.

Always try to get the ball away.

In time so that it will not be necessary to hurry your throw.

A study of each batter enables a shortstop to get many a ball by shifting a few feet to suit the peculiarities of the batter.

Don't Tip Batter

Watch for the catcher's sign and then be ready to move in the direction you believe the ball will be hit. But never shift after the catcher gives the sign. If you do, the batter will see you and can easily figure out what is going to be pitched.

The shortstop must pay close attention to the score to get the most out of his play. For instance, with two out and a runner on second, you must play deeper so as to be able to knock down balls that would ordinarily go through and score the runner.

The shortstop and second baseman always must have an agreement as to who will cover. This is done through some sign.

These are a few of the many things a shortstop must do, but most essential of all is to keep on one's toes and get the ball on the big bound.

LATEST SHOT OF "PA" DEMPSEY AND JACK'S BROTHER, JOHNNY

(By N.E.A. Service)
LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Dempsey fears Willard. Admits it!

But wait a minute—we're talking about "Pa" Dempsey, father of the champ, Jack wasn't at hand to say anything.

"Willard is the only man in the world who has a chance with Jack, in my opinion," conceded the sire of the mitt king, caught in a loquacious mood.

"I was sure surprised to see my boy bring him down at Toledo. But even after seeing that, I will always be nervous if he signs to meet Jess."

"Pa" Never Nervous

It takes a good deal to make "Pa" Dempsey nervous about his celebrated son, and his other boys, for he has urged them to box under all sorts of handicap since they were kids.

"I taught gloves for the lads and let them go at it in the back yard," he said. "Pretty soon all the boys in the neighborhood were eager to test punches with my youngsters, and we gave a steady series of scraps every Sunday afternoon."

"In those days our Johnny could beat the tar out of Jack. In fact he gave his younger brother his first public lessons. Johnny was a pretty fair lightweight in his day."

Johnny Still Swings

"Gosh, dad, you talk as if I was Methuselah," interrupted Johnny Dempsey. "Toll 'em I can still swing some!"

Dempsey, Sr., is a mild-mannered, pleasant spoken man in his early 50s. He is pestered from morning to night by the curious, by photographers and newspapermen, but his native graciousness has made many friends for the champion.

But there is in his lean, aquiline features the unmistakable evidence of his son's prodigious fighting heritage.

Brooklyn Beats Pittsburgh 15 to 14 and Tumbles Pirates From Third Place

NEW YORK, June 22.—Because of Shawkey's effective hurling, Huggins awakened Yankees yesterday defeated Cleveland, 7-3, and by virtue of the league leading Browns, 5-0 loss to the Mackmen, advanced today a full game toward the top of the ladder. They were one and a half games behind the St. Louisans today.

On Russell's curve offerings were elusive of the Brown batters' eyes and St. Louis gathered but four hits, while Wright and Danforth were touched for 11 swats and a quintet of runs.

George Sieler escaped with another stolen base, his 25th of the season.

The Red Sox in two innings counted nine runs, enough to defeat Cobb's advancing Tigers, 8-2.

Washington lost to the White Sox, Brooklyn in a game of many hits, errors and pitches, engaged in a nose-and-nose contest with the Pittsburghers beat them 15-14 and tumbled them from the third position in the National league. The Pirates outbatted the Sox, 25 to 15, but they made six errors, most of which contributed to their opponents' run column. The Pirates used five moundmen, and their ace, Adams, was credited with the loss.

Five of the Superbas' hurling staff were employed.

The Phillies, in a six inning affair with the Cubs got three home runs, but lost, 9-2.

Rain prevented the Giants-Cardinals and the Red-Braves contests.

RUTH TAKES PLEDGE TO "KEEP OFF" UMPIRES

CLEVELAND, June 22. (By A. T.)—Babe Ruth has been banished from the game for the last time for arguing with an umpire, especially over a decision against another player, the champion home run slugger declared yesterday.

Before yesterday's game between New York and Cleveland Ruth walked off the field and made that announcement to Umpire Bill Dinneen and Dick Nallin.

Ruth is under suspension for five days—three for violating with Umpire Dinneen over a decision in Monday's game and two for an argument with Dinneen Wednesday over his first suspension.

When he entered the umpire's room yesterday Ruth was not in the least contrite, nor was he exuberant. He was as calm as a cucumber, but he offered no apology.

"Bill, do you think I am getting a square deal?" he asked Dinneen, as he sat on a table. He had just finished practicing with his team.

"I have nothing to do with that at all," Dinneen replied.

"You're a fellow in down and out. It seems to be a case of holding him down," Ruth said. "Well, you can bet it's the last time I ever will be suspended by an umpire. I will keep out of the future I will keep out of the arguments, especially if they involve another player."

"I do not regret being out of the game because of the money it costs me. I really don't need the money, but I do love to play baseball. For that reason I'll hurt when I can't get into the game."

"Another thing that hurts is the criticism. Some persons are saying that I welcome suspensions because it gives me an alibi for not equaling my home-run record of last year. That is ridiculous, as I realize that that is impossible. Others claim I have a twisted head. My friends know different."

"I want to be there every minute because I love to play baseball."

SENATORS TO PLAY NEWS WRITERS ON LINKS

WASHINGTON, June 22.—A golf match challenge from newspapermen of the Senate press gallery has been accepted by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, on behalf of other senators whose skillful game will give them a chance to over scores with the men who write about their speeches. The clash will occur at an early date.

"I am authorized to say," Senator Hitchcock wrote in accepting the challenge, "that we can muster 12 alleged statesmen who would be glad to gambol on the greens with a like number of the Fourth Estate. The senator laid down as a condition of the match that the losing side should provide a chicken dinner for the entire party."

According to the Senate press gallery, the newspapermen will not be given in the newspapers to our efforts is received with resignation. We are accustomed to this treatment.

The tentative senatorial lineup for the contest is Senators Hitchcock, Hale, Edges, Frelinghuysen, Kellogg, Capper, Walsh, (Montana), Shepard, Eklund, Newberry, Pepper, Robinson, Sutherland, Townsend, Jones (Washington) and Jones, (N. M.).

The North Ends will play the Bunting A.A. on the North common Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SANDWICH, England, June 22.—(By the Associated Press) Play for the British open golf championship began early today over the Royal St. George's course. Last gallery had assembled when the first pair, Alexander Herd and Geo. Dunbar started their round. They were followed at six minute intervals by the other couples.

The championship play is over 72 holes, 28 today and 38 tomorrow. There is much interest in the chances of the American trio, Jack Hutchison, the titleholder; Walter Hagen and Long Jim Barnes. Hutchison today played with J. Amos of Ipswich, Hagen with B. Q. Holland of Northamptonshire and Barnes with Tom Williamson of Nottinghamshire.

In tomorrow's draw Hutchison is paired with C. Johns of Purleydowns, while Hagen and Barnes again drew the same companions.

but on the road it has been just no-so. During the past month I have talked with a number of National league players and umpires about the Giants. If you can believe them the failure of the Giants to distance the rest of the field is due to the loss of George Burns. Any time you ask what all the Giants the reply is always the same.

"They miss old George Burns." The other day I was talking with a prominent National league star and he remarked to me:

"We have beaten the Giants at least four games that would have gone against us with Burns playing center field for the Giants."

"The Value of Burns"

"The very fact that Shinnars, Cunningham, Boone, Brown and now old Casey Stengel have tried to fill the bill is proof of Burns' great value to the club."

"His absence has cost the Giants four games against us, so it is reasonable to suppose similar conditions have existed against other teams."

Heine Groh certainly added a punch to the infield. To get him, however, it was necessary to put a big hole in the outfield.

So, perhaps, after all, it is the absence of George Burns that kills the Giants.

ings in reserve, certainly gave New York an inner defense to rave about. It was strengthened 25 per cent.

In the World Series I saw McGraw's pitchers at their best. They certainly looked great. Some National league players with whom I talked at the time said some of the boys were stepping a little faster than their regular gait.

Groh's Strength

Certainly the addition of Groh seemed to have greatly strengthened the club. Taking that into consideration the Giants seemed to me to outclass the rest of the National league field.

I really thought that by September 1, or perhaps earlier New York would have the National league pennant tucked away in camphor balls.

Possibly the Giants will come through that wrong. At the Polo grounds the club has played good ball.

Says N. Y. Commission
Overstepping Power

TORONTO, June 22.—The Toronto athletic commission has denied that it endorses the action of the New York state athletic commission in depriving Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Wilson, respectively, of their titles of featherweight and middleweight pugilistic champions. This telegram was sent to the New York state commission:

"Statements that Canada backs action of New York state commission in depriving Wilson and Kilbane of their championships is not correct. Ontario commission is quite satisfied that some such action should be taken, but is of the opinion that it should be done, not by one state commission but through a national association representing many states."

Overstepping Its Power

LANSING, Mich., June 22.—The New York boxing commission is overstepping its powers in refusing to recognize an amateur titleholder who has failed to accept challenges within a reasonable time in the opinion of the rules committee of the National boxing association. The national association, MacCauley declared, is the only organization empowered to oust champions for refusing matches.

MacCauley is secretary of the Michigan boxing commission.

BOB JOHNSON HAS FINE WRESTLING RECORD

Bob Johnson, the local wrestler, who started wrestling in 1908, and who is regarded as one of the best men of his weight in this section, is one of the most enthusiastic boosters of the strenuous sport in this vicinity. His record is a very impressive one, embracing bouts with many prominent grapplers throughout New England. When asked to give an account of his activities, Bob reluctantly said: "As a complete record of my bouts would require many columns, I will give what I think are the most important. I started wrestling in 1908 and continued wrestling 'on and being' until 1911. Then I laid off until 1913. I resumed activities for one year and again took a rest. In 1915 I took up boxing and continued at this sport for a time and finding that I preferred wrestling I abandoned the glove game and remained in retirement until 1918. Since that time I have continued at the mat sport. While I have been out of the ring for a long time, I have not been inactive. I have also instructed about 200 in the art of wrestling. I have also been a referee in many matches." Johnson said: "In 1908 I won over Joe True, Bud Wills, Bill Sweet, and Young Mansfield. In 1909 I won over Paul French, Howard Wilson, Karl Keniston and Bob Eastman. In 1910 I beat George Brokino, Charles Rocket, Kid McKee, Shamua O'Brien, Don Nantz, Fred Wills and Steve Casper. In 1911 I beat Frank Lachway, Charles Rogers, George Donini, Ed Doc, Harry Johnson, Dudley Saigert, Paul Wood, Jack Daly, Ashly Wood, George Adams and Kid Chambers. I skipped wrestling for two years and in 1913 I won over Kid Lupien, Paul Kent, Ed Stool, Frank Wills, Paul Stanley Morse, Phil Fraser, Jim Lalrd, Joe Taber, Bern, Pembroke, Al Higgins, E. Calagat, Ed Sherburne, Sam Anderson, Young Burnhardt and Arthur Reed. In 1914 I won over Norman De Anthony, Red Snow, Franz Ellegenson, Phil Lindgett, George Jackson, Julian Gale, Dane Speer and George Buck. I laid off from 1914 till 1918, when I resumed wrestling. In 1918 I defeated Fote Lapan, Jim Goodell, Phil Shannon, Jim Prokas and Ed Lupien. I lost to Jim Prokas and George Reynolds. I got a draw with Bill Rudy. In 1919 I got a draw with George Reynolds and Gus Crehan. I won over Peter Sturgis, Joe Bing and Harold Pligree. I lost to Harry Adams. In 1920 I won over George Reynolds, Gus Crehan, John Peal, Got a draw with Bill Rudy and Kid Derosiers and lost to Joe Stelmack and Jim Brown. In 1921 I beat James Pappas, Al Lindstrom, Mike James, Luke Chak, Bill McDonald, Bill Wills, Bill Laurie. Got a draw with Charles Metro, Peter Sturgis and Ted Apostolos and lost to Bill Rudy. In 1922 I beat Luke Chak, Bill Sherburne, Spheris, Ted Apostolos, Arthur Curtin, Arthur Davis and Joe Martin. I lost to Caylene Burns and Joe Martin. I've wrestled in 202 other matches, 10 of which I lost six. The first time I wrestled under the name of Bob Burns which I used for three years. The second time I started wrestling I took the name of Bob Mercy and kept it for two years. The last time I started wrestling I took my real name. I am proud to be in the greatest game of them all."

Billy Evans Says:

"Babe" Ruth has given up any hopes that he may have had of breaking his 121 record of 59 home runs.

I talked that question over with him some time ago. At that time he believed that if he got off to a good start he might better 59.

It is a matter of record that nothing helps the batting eye as much as real pitching in actual competition. Babe did a lot of practice hitting between the opening of the season and the raising of his first suspension, but the old batting eye wasn't properly trimmed.

Babe soon discovered that the pitching he had faced in batting practice in no way compared to the real stuff. As a result he was slow in hitting his stride.

Recently in St. Louis, Babe cracked out his sixth home run of the year, his third in three days. It was a terrific drive that cleared the right field wall by 30 feet.

Just before the game started the next day I remarked to Babe, "What about breaking the old mark of 59 home runs?"

He smiled broadly and replied, "I have just about decided that 59 home runs is going to stand for 1922. I had hoped that I might smash it, but have decided it is a bit too much for me to shoot at."

I agreed with Babe that to break his mark of 59 homers after six weeks' suspension was practically an impossibility. However, don't get the impression that Babe is ready to turn his home-run crown over to someone else.

"While I don't expect to break my mark of 59," continued the Babe, "you can tell the world that I intend to home-run hitters in both the American and National leagues when they ring down the curtain."

"I don't know how many home runs I will need. It may be 20 and it may be 40. Whatever it is, I will make them. I will still be the home-run king at the close of the 1922 season."

I fully expect to be out in front by Aug. 1. Once I am out in front the boys are going to have a hard time catching me. Spotted hitters like Williams and Hornsby a dozen home runs is some handicap, but I feel that I will prove equal to it."

Several hundred farmers started one of the first temperance movements in America when they met at Litchfield, Conn., in 1789 and pledged themselves not to use intoxicants in doing farm work the following year.

BY BOB DORMAN

NEW YORK, June 22.—July 4 will see the opening of Floyd Fitzsimmons' Michigan City (Ind.) arena, with lightweight champion Benny Leonard and Rocky Kansas furnishing the fireworks.

As this bout will mark the fourth meeting between the two, one certainly will be sure to find it to be a person for being a persistent guy.

Maybe he figures that some day he will catch Benny out of training, or perhaps he is depending on the law of averages.

Kansas is a strong boy, with a good fighting heart and plenty of aggressiveness to match against one of the cleverest boxers in the ring, who besides packs a knockout wallop.

There should be no doubt of the outcome of the fight, unless Leonard should be so weakened by making weight that he will not be able to put forth his best efforts.

In their three previous bouts Leonard received the decision each time. In May, 1917, Kansas was outpointed at Buffalo, N. Y., in 10 rounds.

June, 1921, saw them matched at averages.

Harrison, N. J. Where they disgusted 30,000 fans with a slow 12-round bout, with Leonard as an getting the decision.

On February 10, this year, they put on their best match. They went 15 whirlwind rounds at Madison Square Garden, N. Y., with Leonard the winner.

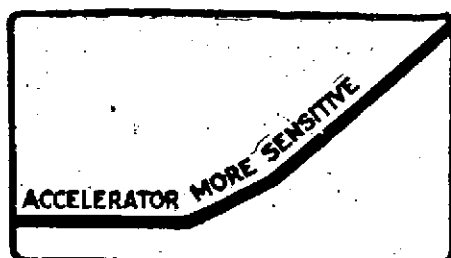

In the early part of the fight, Kansas aggressiveness almost took Benny off his feet, but after the seventh round, the tide turned to Leonard, and in the eleventh round Kansas was almost out, taking the count of nine.
